Irene Dunne Quits Heavy Prestige Roles for Comedy

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD (INEA) — Exclusively Yours: Irene Dunne's stepping off that Hollywood pedestal labeled "Miss Prestige."
It will be comedy, broad or subtle, from now on for classic-faced Irene, who's celebrating her 30th year as a movie star.
"I'm through with those big prestige pictures," she told me on the set of U.I.'s "It Grows on Trees," in which she plays a zany but believable character in the tradition of her one-time comedy hit "Theodora Goes Wild."
"My last two films, 'I Remember Mama' and 'The Mudlark' were prestige movies. I guess I've made more heavy epics than anyone in Hollywood. But times have changed. I'm sticking to comedies from now on."
"It Grows on Trees," which Arthur Lubin is directing, is the story of a housewife who buys two trees at a nursery, plants them in her backyard and discovers that they grow money. The one planted in the shade grows $5 bills and the one in the sun $10 bills.
There's romance in the life of Jean Pierre Aumont for the first time since Marie Montez's tragic death. The lady's name is Hildegarde Nell. Errol Flynn has the year's most fabulous percentage deal with U.I. for the film, "Against All Flags," in which he co-stars with Maureen O'Hara. Flynn and the studio will share 50-50 in the profits.
Bette Davis guesting with Jimmy Durante on his TV show was an eyebrow raiser. Bette made her video debut reading the commercial and then went into a comedy sketch playing "I'm my" wife. There's a big argument and Jimmy winds up shooting Bette's eight Oscars off a shelf like ducks in a shooting gallery!
Bidding for Jimmy's life story, by the way is the end heavy with four film studios trying to get him on the dotted line. The movie will be based on Gene Fowler's biography, which Jimmy has approved except for Fowler's inference that Jimmy is still self-conscious about his nose.
"That's ridiculous," says Jimmy. "I love that nose."
Hollywood reconnaissance: There's no Ava Sinatra in the Hollywood telephone book, but a Frank Gardner is listed.
The Ingrid Bergman - Roberto Rossellini romance is more solid than ever, with the new baby bringing them even closer together. That's the flash from Erik Blythe a New York stage actor who recently completed a top role with Ingrid in "Europa, 1952." Erik's now in Hollywood for "Invasion, U. S. A.," and reports:
"That man Rossellini has a way with Ingrid. He's got the smoothest line of dialog I've ever heard."

Services Held By Shasta Pfc.

Once a week a young Mormon soldier leaves his pots and pans at Camp Desert Rock, Nev. to conduct religious services almost within sight of a spot famous in Mormon history.
He is Pfc. James Babcock 26, son of George M. Babcock, Mt. Shasta. His job in the Army is that of a cook for the 62nd transportation company, stationed at the newest Army post where atomic tests are underway.
Pfc. Babcock is an ordained priest of his church, and holds Mormon services at the request of the Protestant Chaplain at Desert Rock. A Mormon priest or elder when no other services are available to Mormon military personnel.
Back in 1885 Brigham Young, Mormon leader, sent a group of young men to the present site of Las Vegas, Nev., to build a fort and convert the Indians, as Vegas is the nearest town to Camp Desert Rock, 60 miles away. However, the Mormon settling attempt there failed within two years because of Indian attacks.

States Win Oil Lands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees agreed Tuesday on legislation giving the states clear title to oil-rich lands beneath the marginal seas for a distance of three miles out from shore.
In reaching a settlement over differences in the bill as it passed the two houses, House conferees agreed to drop provisions dealing with the continental shelf seaward of the state boundaries.
These provisions would have given the states 7 1/2 per cent of revenues from oil and gas developments from the three mile limit to the edge of the continental shelf — a distance ranging from 80 to 125 miles from the shore in the Gulf of Mexico.
