

FITTING A TEN-GALLON hat on the head of Gov. Earl Warren of California as he arrived in Klamath Falls for political speechmaking Monday was Beth Chase, secretary of the Klamath Roundup Association.

Dignity Upset By Wild West

LONDON UP—The call of the wild west clashed head-on with the royal dignity of two young princes Tuesday and the lure of cowboy land won easily.

It happened at the British Industries Fair, Prince William, 11, and Prince Richard, 7, sons of the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, were accompanying their parents and their cousin, Queen Elizabeth II, on a tour of inspection.

They tagged along politely while their elders, in polite comments until they got to a stand bearing boy-sized cowboy and Indian paraphernalia. A crisis developed at once.

William and Richard broke ranks and made a quick dive into the cowboy models, grabbed the rubber knives, guns, chaps and tomahawks presided over by Charles Penn a Californian.

"They picked up some of the tomahawks and were just about to have a real good fight," Penn related.

Then the Duchess darted into the western wilds after them.

"She was just like all boys' mothers, you know," Penn said. "She said, 'hi, come here, both of you. And put those down—at once!'"

That recovered the boys into polite and dignified Princes again. But on the way out the Duchess took no chances. She edged both of them well out of reach of the tomahawks and stuff.

KF Students Win Honors

Two Klamath Falls students, Marilee Crawford and Colleen Creswell, have been named for year-end honors at Lewis and Clark college in Portland.

Miss Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Crawford, 4600 Boardman, was named by Americans, Junior women's service honorary, and Miss Creswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Creswell, 811 2nd St., by Erodipians, senior women's honorary.

Both were selected for outstanding character, personality, scholarship and service. Miss Crawford was also named for Phi Kappa Phi, national music honorary.

Three Men Put On Probation

Three young men charged with felonies were given probationary sentences Tuesday afternoon in Circuit Court.

They were: Virgil Ray Douglas, 32, two years probation for non-support of two minor children.

Harold LeRoy Frank, 26, continued five years probation for burglary.

Laverne Dallas Cochran, 21, five years probation for forgery. Douglas, now a resident of The Dalles, had been in the County Jail since Sunday. He waived grand jury indictment and pleaded guilty. He was supposed to have been paying $120 a month since January for child support but said he was about $400 in arrears.

Cochran had been in jail since April 11, and Frank since Jan. 10. The latter had been picked up for violation of a probationary sentence imposed in January, 1951, when he was convicted of burglarizing the Plaza Tavern.
