Baking Fun For Daughter Holiday Treat For Mom

Mother's Day is something very special—like an extra birthday for mother, or a personal Valentine's Day. Children love special days, from Christmas to Thanksgiving and back, and father makes sure that they hear about Mother's Day.

Presents for mother are in order of course. And a gift her child has made through his own efforts is bound to make a big hit. Like cake. Children love to putter in the kitchen and if they have the responsibility of baking a cake for the special occasion of Mother's Day, their feeling of pleasure in accomplishment is great.

The fact that mother may have to help out by getting the ingredients together on a tray for the young baker and by supervising the use of an electric mixer (if there is one), doesn't spoil the fun. If the child reads the directions, does the measuring of the various ingredients and greases the pan, well the child has baked the cake, and no pretense about it.

Of course, it's better for everybody if you pick a recipe that is easy to put together, such as a quick method cake. These recipes do not call for pre-creaming of ingredients. All the amateur has to do is put everything together and stir, pour into the cake pan and bake—with mother setting the oven, of course.

Here's a sample recipe that will be easy for the young baker and impressive enough for Mother's Day:

ORANGE COCONUT CAKE
(Makes two 9-inch layers)

Measure into mixing bowl:
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 1-3 cups sugar
½ cup shortening
1 teaspoon salt
2-3 cup orange juice

Blend thoroughly by hand or mixer (medium speed) for two minutes.

Stir in:
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder

Add:
2 eggs
1-3 cup water
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Blend by hand or mixer (medium speed) for two minutes. Pour into two deep 9 inch layer pans (1¼ in. deep) which have been rubbed with shortening and lined with heavy waxed paper. (If smaller pans are used fill half full and bake remaining batter in cup cake pans). Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) about 30 minutes. When cool ice with Orange Coconut Icing.

CREAMY ORANGE ICING

2 1-3 cups sifted confectioners sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg
2 tablespoons orange juice
¼ cup granulated sugar
½ cup shortening
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Mix confectioners sugar, salt and egg. Boil the orange juice and granulated sugar together for one minute, then blend with the sugar and egg mixture. Add shortening and grated orange rind. Beat until creamy. Sprinkle with shredded coconut.

NEW IDEA

A large freshly baked chocolate cupcake makes a good dessert, if you serve it this way. Cut a cone-shaped section from the top of each cake. Fill the hole with whipped cream and finely chopped walnuts and replace the top, pointed side up. A few slices of canned cling peaches arranged on a plate around the bottom of each cake will add even more to its good looks and wonderful taste.

SWIRL RING — Revival of the old-fashioned gold wire ring is illustrated by this swirl engagement ring with large brilliant-cut center diamond and two smaller ones. Matching wedding band is available, shaped to fit the swirl.

NUT TOPPING

Tiny baking powder biscuits are party fare if you dip top of the unbaked biscuit first into melted butter and then into finely chopped walnuts. Bake as usual.

Are you planning a bridal shower for a sister or girl friend? If so, keep in mind that it is better to consult the bride-to-be about her preference in showers, unless you know the contents of her hope chest.

Essential showers are kitchen, bathroom and linen. Every bride needs a supply of these things, in order to establish her home. If she does choose one of these categories, be sure to give her the basics.

It might be fine, for instance, to give an electric mixer or blender or pressure cooker, but more important in a kitchen shower are such necessary things as pots, pans, juice extractor, potato masher, a set of good cutlery to perform jobs from paring to carving the roast, can opener (most important), roasting pan, food grinder, flour seive, pancake turner, measuring cups, refrigerator storage dishes, rolling pin, strainers, dish rack for drying dishes.

Those are "musts" for any kitchen.

And other "almost musts" should be added after these are in the bag. These extras are (and the bride should try to acquire them as soon as her budget will permit) —cake pans, casseroles, Dutch oven, bread box, canister set, cooky and biscuit cutters, deepfat frying basket, pressure cooker, graters, mixing bowls, rotary beater, spatulas, thermometers, timers, tongs for grasping hot foods such as corn, asparagus, etc., wooden spoons and forks.

ITEMS

A linen shower should consist mainly of sturdy towels, sheets and pillow cases, prettily initialed. After a good selection of these, if there is more money available, such things as cocktail napkins, place mats and napkins, guest towels, luncheon sets, bath mats and bridge sets can be included. Blankets, spreads, fancy linens and other more expensive items probably will be supplied by the immediate family.

Some brides-to-be prefer a personal shower. This is particularly important to the girl who has not had time to save for such pretties as nightgowns, negligees, slippers, perfume, slips and hosiery, all acceptable and desirable gifts.

When planning a shower of silver or glassware, the bride-to-be should be consulted about patterns. If she has a yen for sterling silver, do not substitute silver plate. It would be better to give her one or two place settings of sterling than four of plate. The girls, pooling their money for a present, usually can manage one and possibly two place settings of sterling silver.

The same rule applies to glassware. If she has selected an expensive pattern, give her pieces you can afford. Perhaps you will just be able to manage the water goblets, or a combination of these and a set of wine glasses. In any case she will appreciate whatever you can give her of her own pattern, rather than one you select.

TABOO

Things which are taboo for showers and also for wedding presents (unless they are requested) are: Lamps, vases, pictures, pieces of furniture, ash trays (unless silver or glass) and anything of an odd color or elaborate design. These things are a matter of personal taste. Do not confuse the bride by giving her an expensive gift of something such as a lamp in an odd color that she will need to build a color scheme around.

Most girls plan a shower this way:

If it is a bathroom shower, for example, they price accessories from bath mats to scented soap (towles usually are included in the bathroom shower), determine how much must be spent, including the cost of decorations and refreshments. Then each girl is told the approximate cost. If all agree, they go ahead with the planning. Otherwise, the cost is cut to the right price.

When cutting down expenses, omit little favors for each guest. These can run into a good deal of money and one main centerpiece in a shower motif—such as a crepe paper umbrella—should suffice.

NOTICE OF ELECTION UPON QUESTION OF INCREASING TAX LEVY OVER AMOUNT LIMITED BY SECTION 11, ARTICLE XI, STATE CONSTITUTION. (Summary of Section 11, Article XI, as below:)

Section 11, Article XI, provides that a school district in any year shall not exercise its power to levy a tax by raising a greater amount of revenue for purposes other than the payment of bonded indebtedness or interest thereon, plus 6 per cent, than it has raised for the same purpose in any one of the three years immediatly preceding.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an election will be held May 19, 1952, in Klamath County School District of Klamath County, State of Oregon, from 2:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m., at Elementary School Buildings in said school district, for the purpose of submitting to the legal voters of said district the question of increasing the tax levy for the fiscal year 1952-53 over the amount limited by Section 11, Article XI, of the Constitution of Oregon.

The reason for increasing such levy is:
That the tax base established is insufficient to provide even the minimum essentials for the operation of the district under present conditions.

The amount of tax, in excess of the 6 per cent limitation, proposed to be levied for said fiscal year, is $334,628.19.

DATED this 17th day of April, 1952.

J. F. HEYDEN, District Clerk.

L. GIENGER, Chairman of the Board of Directors
