Risky Business

To climb behind the wheel of this 1951 NASH AMBASSADOR SEDAN because if you ride it you'll buy it. Why? Because it is the fifth NASH trade-in from a yearly buyer, everyone of whose cars has sold quickly and made another buyer for NASH. But this beautiful gray Airflyte with overdrive and twin beds is its own best evidence of why

$2225

is a very low price for this kind of quality.

Something Added

And it isn't the extra equipment, although it has beautiful candy-stripe maroon seat covers, foam rubber cushions, the famous Weather-Eye conditioned air heating system, twin beds, directional signals and side mirror. Neither is it the superb tutone finish, excellent mechanical condition, low mileage or good rubber... but this

'49 NASH "600" SEDAN

Shows in every detail of its appearance, in every revolution of its motor and wheels that it has had the one-in-a-million kind of care that has added something to its value which is rare and hard to find at.
