

It Happened This Way New Pine Creek

By IRVIN FARIS

It was a grand day—Mother's Day—enhanced and glorified by the splendid address given by Rev. Eugene Barrow, commemorating the mothers of the community. The church was swelled with a capacity crowd in response to a special invitation given to all grandmothers. A large block of the membership attended en masse. The special eulogy given to the mothers served also to give them a keener, more spiritual insight in modern society.

In turn the church membership was invited to attend the big community dinner held at the Grange Hall following the service, where over 100 persons were seated at long tables laden with delectables—ranging from various kinds of chicken and meat pies—to the choicest of cakes, fluffy fruit-mixed jello salads and tasty pies of many varieties. This array of food was spiced with pickles, and several kinds of relishes and olives.

Mrs. Mary Miller, age 83, was the oldest mother present. She was awarded a prize by Mrs. Nera Mulek, representing the Home Economics Club of the Grange. Mrs. Elmer Harris, mother of six children was given a prize for the mother having the most children present. Mrs. Joe Anne Means, 23, won a prize for being the youngest mother present.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Lenkeit had a rather unusual pair of visitors for these parts, who dropped in on them last Tuesday evening. Ed Fleischmann, a retired member of the new home, the Fleischmann Yeast Company, (now Standard Brands) and his lovely young wife, gave them a surprise "Hello" at their front door.

The couple was on their way home, having driven over from Eugene, that day. There, that week, Ed had entered his dogs in the National Field Trials for Chesapeake retrievers. Luckily his pure-blood retriever, "Bayberry Pete," won the national championship, which tickled his owner immensely. He had three other dogs with him in his trailer.

The wealthy visitor and old friend, had retired from the yeast firm of his name, back in 1946 or '47, at which time he was West Coast manager of the company. He has a fine ranch home at Sebastopol, Calif., where he raises pure-blood dogs—for which place they left last Wednesday morning.

The Grange sponsored cemetery clean-up will be held Wednesday, May 21, with a potluck dinner to be served at the Grange Hall at noon. Everyone who can come.

The ceremony needs your help. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Cloud look Carroll's mother, Clara, over Talent, Monday, May 12, at Medford. Many Malinites accompanied the team over the mountain to witness the game.

The new home of the Howard Hendersons on Rosicky Avenue is nearing completion and is a fine addition to the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenkeit are looking after the Lenkeit property during their absence.

They said it really takes about three days to properly see the caves and the lava formations. Even though they spent a day there, they didn't get to see the cave where Captain Jack, the renegade Indian, and his followers, defied the cavalry generals for long time during the early settlement of the area. Ray Beeber, of the Nalley Specialty Truck Service, said Tuesday that his wife received a very exciting present from her son, Raymond Eugene "Spoke." It was a Mother's Day telephone call from Tokyo, Japan—and was the excitement of the day. Mrs. Beeber charged $27.50 barely registered. But she remembered faintly—it was a collect call and she was overjoyed to take it. Oh well—and the son's wife, up in Long Beach, Calif., May 7, he will remain at that point for two weeks.
