MACHINE VS. ROULETTE—Donald May, a Los Angeles machinist, displays a machine he claims he used to beat roulette at the gambling tables at Las Vegas, Nev. May says the machine, which he built, is used to keep track of which numbers have not been winning. Then, relying on the law of averages, he bets on those numbers. He said he and his friends made about $50 an hour while playing. May said his initial bets are 25 cents. He doubles the bet after each losing wager. So far, he says, it has worked.

Ex-Merrill Minister Makes Good Progress in Thailand

Word has been received here that the Rev. Forrest Travaille, longtime pastor of the Merrill Presbyterian Church, is making rapid progress in development of land purchased in one of the most primitive parts of Thailand for a "farm" for natives. The land now being farmed to rice and early operations were accomplished with the crudest of equipment. This year, a threshing machine purchased with donated money is to be used for harvesting. Funds have also been made

A.P. Suspends Video Service

NEW YORK—The Associated Press Friday announced suspension, effective a week hence of a recently inaugurated news service on film for television, produced by Spotnews Productions, Inc., and furnished to television stations by The Associated Press. A joint announcement by the two organizations said: "Uncertainties of the future make it advisable to suspend operations until there can be a clearer picture of the rapidly with which new television stations will come into existence. Indications are that there may be no appreciable expansion in the new station market in the immediate future." The Spotnews service began on April 14. The last of the film news packages will be shipped by Spotnews for use on May 30.

Senators End Brannan Quiz

WASHINGTON—The Senate Agriculture Committee has ended a three-day quizzing of Agriculture Secretary Brannan and will decide next week whether to continue its two-month-old probe of his department. Indications are there may be a sharp fight within the 13-member group over a proposal to halt the investigation. Chairman Ellender (D-La.), who has demanded Brannan's resignation, wants fuller investigation of cases — which he says exist all over the country — of irregularities under the government grain storage program. The grain is stored as part of government farm price support. Brannan ended his three days before the committee Friday afternoon, contending the Agriculture Department "has done a remarkably fine job."

Water Runoff Record Seen

PORTLAND—The water runoff into the Warner Valley chain of 15 lakes in Eastern Lake County is expected to exceed all previous records, the State Game Commission reported Saturday. The flow from the Hart and Warner Mountains ranges probably will be greater than last year when lakes in the northern end of the 40-mile-long basin were filled for the first time in 20 years, and may surpass the 1910 mark when the valley had 310,000 acre feet of water. The high water has washed away nests and eggs of some 2,000 pair of Canada geese, the commission said. But the additional water in many sloughs and pools along the lake edges has provided a greater breeding area for ducks and geese in the valley.

Gasoline, Oil Curbs Off

WASHINGTON—The back-to-work movement of striking oil workers has brought an end to all restrictions on use of automobile gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil. In cancelling the ban Friday night, the government said it would relax control of aviation gasoline Tuesday. Delivery of gasoline for sport and pleasure flying will continue to be forbidden. Interior Secretary Chapman, chief of Petroleum Administration for Defense, said restrictions on aviation gasoline could not be removed before mid-June. He said much of the facilities that turn out such fuel are still idled by the strike.

Man Killed Here Noted Showman

Word has been received here in a letter from a Ruby Rooney, Canoga Park, Calif., that Junous Quentin Fowler, killed May 11 at Worden in a car crash had been in the professional show business for much of his life. Cards carried in his personal papers indicated he had been on the stage at one time. The letter stated he had been in show business for 15 years, was known in the Actor's Guild as Gene Howard, his professional title, was a favorite for several years on radio stations KNX and KMPC, was billed as the world's highest yodler and was a larial expert and a bullwhip champion. He worked during World War II in the USO and for the March of Dimes campaigns.
