Chiloquin

By DARLENE WOLFF

The Rev. Phil Hoisington will conduct the services of the Bible Standard Church next Sunday morning and evening. It was announced this week by Rev. David Sutton, local pastor. Mrs. Hoisington will accompany her husband south from Eugene.

A new business has opened in Chiloquin. Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Adams and Mrs. Adams' mother, Mrs. Roy McAllister, on Monday opened the Snack Bar, a restaurant located in the building formerly occupied by Wall's store near the Williamson River bridge. Adams have moved next door, into the Roy Deffenbacher house.

A son was born a week ago in Portland to Mr. and Mrs. Richard John (Laura Briggs). The couple have two little girls.

When school is out late this month, Mrs. Dutch Dolphus and her five children will move to Portland for the summer months and plan in the fall to settle in Eugene permanently. Dolphus has been working out east and now north of Portland since early last fall. Working with him is Ernest Smith who will be joined by his wife and their three children this summer in Portland, but the Smiths plan to return to Chiloquin in the fall.

Glen Kircher and Bob Doak have been sharing a hospital room this last week, both fellows having undergone a severe bout with pneumonia. Also in the hospital this last week with pneumonia was the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lundeen. The poor little girl had to be held upright the entire night before she was taken to the hospital in order for her to breathe. The maternal grandmother, Mrs. Jesse Mangum, helped take care of her and of her older sister during the week.

Chiloquin will miss the Charles Hale family tremendously. Mrs. Hale's father was crushed three weeks ago by a tractor near his Missouri home. He passed away nearly a week later and the Hales drove east for the final rites. While there they decided to live there for at least a year so the children and Marie remained there while Charles came out to finish the school year and to move their things back in early June. He will teach in Issouri.

The Methodist church choir and families finished the year with a potluck dinner at the Gerry Wolf home on Tuesday evening. Thirty-two attended.

Collier-Pugh Nuptials At St. Paul's

St. Paul's Episcopal Church was the scene of an informal wedding May 10, 4 p. m., when Rev. Galen Onstad read the double-ring service uniting Emma Maxine Pugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady D. Pugh, 235 Martin Street, and William Bertram Collier, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Collier, 2336 White Avenue, in marriage.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a mauve pink street length suit, with white accessories, and she carried a white orchid on a white prayer book.

The couple was attended by Kathleen Pugh, sister of the bride, maid of honor, and Dean Mason, best man. Maid of honor wore a brown sheer dress with beige accessories and carried a pink tulip bouquet with flowers of the same shade on a net hat.

Mrs. Pugh chose a forest green afternoon suit with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Collier wore a gray lace dress with purple accessories, and her corsage was of white carnations with pink rosebuds.

Ushers were Jim Pugh, brother of the bride, and Doug Collier, brother of the bridegroom. Janice Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Larson, was organist, and played incidental wedding selections.

Mrs. Richard Moen and Patty Redhead served coffee at the reception in the church parish hall for the nearly 100 relatives and friends attending the wedding, and Emma Wyatt was at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Ruth Johnson served the elaborate wedding cake.

Mrs. Norman Rose passed the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of KUHS and Collier served with the Marine Corps after his graduation from Grants Pass High School.

The young couple is at home, 500 Jefferson, after a short wedding trip.
