Sailor Strike Peace Sought

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Heads of the Pacific Maritime Association and of the AFL Sailors union of the Pacific met with a federal conciliator here Monday in an attempt to end a sailors' walkout which has tied up much of the West Coast's shipping since Friday afternoon.

The PMA, which speaks for most of the large steamship companies in the West, was represented at the conference by its president, J. Paul St. Sure, and four aides, Harry Lundberg, SLP chief, headed a four-man delegation from the Union.

Conciliator Omar Hoskins called them together at 10:25 A.M.

Among ships tied up was the American President Lines' President Wilson, a Pacific cruise liner.

The sailors walked off in support of demands for a 5 per cent wage increase and overtime for Saturdays worked at sea.

Meanwhile, another argument disturbed the waterfront. The issue was between the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots union, and the CIO American Radio Association, over whether radio officers or licensed deck officers should control ship-to-shore radiotelephone.

Phillip O'Rourke, ARA chief here said "there could be a strike" by radiomen if shipowners refuse to give them the sole right to handle ship radiotelephones as well as ship's regular radio equipment.

Capt. Charles F. May, national MMP president, declared the instruments and mates "will not give that up."

He said radiotelephones are the prerogative of deck officers and "we will fight strenuously to keep it."

The instruments under debate are standard telephones on which calls are made through commercial phone companies, such as Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. The transmission is by radio, of course.

Jail's Red Tint Solved

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—For a while it looked like city jail cells had turned into Communist cells. But the mystery is solved, says Inspector Roy Bergman.

Communist pamphlets found in several cells made authorities suspicious. But they discovered, after days of investigation, that the pamphlets had been seized several years ago and stored at the jail as evidence against a political group.

Trustees, Bergman said, apparently unaware of what they were handling, removed the literature and passed it around when carpenters remodeled a storeroom.
