Guerrillas Kill Five U.S. Troops

By STAN CARTER

TOHONGAE, Korea (AP)—About 30 guerrillas overran a small U.S. Army camp here Friday, killing five American soldiers and a Korean houseboy.

Two other Americans were wounded, and two escaped injury.

The raid took place some 200 miles behind the battlefield in an area where Communist raiders long have been active. Army sources in Pusan and at U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said there was "no doubt" the attackers were Communists.

Survivors said it was a well-planned raid to obtain weapons. The guerrillas got two 50 caliber machineguns, 2,000 rounds of ammunition and seven rifles.

The small American force was stationed in a gravel pit here, about eight miles north of Pusan.

The guerrillas, armed with U.S. rifles, attacked without warning about 12:30 a. m.

A Negro soldier said the guerrillas killed a sentry, then began shooting their American rifles, shouting and throwing grenades, apparently at random.

The survivor said the few soldiers in the camp jumped to defensive posts. He said a red-haired American manned a machinegun and that he protected the machine-gunner's back with his carbine.

The soldier said his carbine jammed and he was hit. The red-haired soldier fired until killed by a grenade.

The Negro was wounded. He said he pretended he was dead as a guerrilla took off his shoes.

He said the raiders struck soon after a convoy of 15 dump trucks left the gravel pit.

"They knew we would be alone for two or three hours until the trucks came back."

If the guerrillas suffered any casualties, they carried them back into the hills less than an hour after the attack began.

The fighting was heard at U. S. hospital for prisoners of war. A troopload of Americans and South Korean police, summoned by one of the two unfortunates, arrived at the burning camp at 2 a. m.

They found bodies scattered over a wide area.

Two wounded Americans and two dead soldiers were in the area about the tents. The Korean house-boy had been flung over an embankment onto the dry creek bed.

Youth Admits Safe Robbery

Bennie Gene Brimage, 17, pleaded guilty in Circuit Court Monday afternoon to an indictment charging him with burglarizing the Minneapolis-Moline Implement Company office last Oct. 13.

He was sent back to the County Jail to await receipt of an FBI report of his prior criminal record.

The youth admitted he and a man, Gerald E. Simpson, stole a heavy safe from the implement company office, ripped it open and took about $1700. He was brought here from Bakerfield, Calif., where he had been in juvenile detention.

Woodrow Wilson Small 37, of Marysville, Calif., pleaded guilty to a charge of forging a grand jury indictment, and also was sent back to jail to await report of any prior criminal record.

Small was arrested last Sunday by City Police with three checks, all made out for $12.80 and signed with the name of Ralph C. Cobb, in his possession.

John Howard Wilcher, 32, 810 appeared in Circuit Court Monday and pleaded guilty to a charge of non-support of three minor children. He likewise is awaiting sentence.

$185,000 Fire Hits Plant

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP)—A wind-ignited blaze caused more than $185,000 damage to the Clark County Lumber Co. in West Vancouver Tuesday.

A fortunate switch in the wind saved the plant from possible complete destruction.

The fire, fought for two and a half hours before it was brought under control, destroyed the mill's reaw section, a warehouse filled with lumber and stacks of lumber piled outside in the yard.

Special Meeting to Eye KUHS Principal Vacancy

No action was taken on the KUHS principalship at last night's joint session of the elementary and high school boards of education (school districts 1 and 2), but City School Superintendent Arnold Graupp said a special meeting of the high school board will probably be held sometime this week for that purpose.

Principal James Brown recently resigned his KUHS position to become principal and superintendent of the Redmond Union High School District.

Action taken during the joint session at the high school last night included:

District No. 1: Added Mary Frances Doherty, a Southern Oregon College graduate, to the district teaching staff; assigned Thomas

Another Mill Strike Ends

LA GRANDE (AP)—The four-week strike of AFL employes of the Mount Emily Lumber Company has ended.

A joint statement Tuesday by August Stange, mill president, and union representatives said agreement had been reached. Federal Mediator La Ropy Smith took part in the talks that ended the strike idling more than 300 workers.

It is expected to be nearly two weeks before the firm's operations here, at Enterprise and in the woods are back to normal.

The strike followed a seniority grievance. Union Secretary Elmer Davis said the settlement was fully satisfactory.
