Senate Keeps Price Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate defeated overwhelmingly Thursday a Republican effort to suspend all price controls next Sept. 1.

The vote, turning down a proposal by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), was 84 to 21.

With legislative efforts to end the steel strike temporarily sidetracked, the Senate resumed debate and voting on extension of the entire system of defense controls, due to expire at the end of this month.

The Senate started the day by adopting by a voice vote another amendment by Dirksen to all exempt payments under profit-sharing plans in effect prior to Jan. 15, 1950, from the Wage Stabilization Program.

Dirksen later proposed that all price lids be suspended Sept. 1, unless the President found individual items were in short supply or threatened inflation.

Opposing the move, Sen. Maybank (D-S.C.), floor manager for the controls bill, told the Senate the Dirksen amendment would "kill price controls."

Administration forces were seeking to consolidate a series of victories and bring the measure to a final vote.

In a 12½-hour session Wednesday the Senate:

1. Rejected 57 to 22 an amendment by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) to suspend both price and wage controls until the cost of living index rose three points, from 189 to 191, or Congress declared war.
2. Defeated 49 to 29 an amendment by Dirksen to take price ceilings of all food items and agricultural commodities.
3. Adopted, by a whopping voice-vote margin, a measure to knock price controls off potatoes and forbid the placing of price ceilings on any other fresh fruit or vegetable.
4. Blatantly down an amendment proposed by Sen. Schoepel (R-Ia.) to provide bigger profit margins for milk processors and distributors.

Harriman Delays Oregon Visits

PORTLAND (AP) — W. Averell Harriman, Democratic presidential candidate, has postponed his Oregon visit for one week.

He will arrive June 26 instead of June 19, William E. Sanborn, secretary of the state Democratic organization, said Thursday.

Harriman will confer with delegates to the Democratic national convention in the morning. He will speak at a Portland luncheon and at 5 p.m. and Coos Bay at 8:30 p.m.

Eisenhower Called 'Conservative' On Basis of Abilene Conference

By JACK BELL
 ABILENE, Kas. (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's plunge into the turbulent pool of politics produced the well-defined impression Friday he is in the conservative camp of Republicans.

There isn't any concise definition of conservatism but the five-star general talked at a hometown news conference here Thursday like a man the average Southern Democrat could go along with on many issues.

This was particularly true of the handling of the candidate for the Republican presidential nomination gave the explosive civil rights issue.

He said, in effect, that no one can legislate civil rights, adding that the states should decide whether to establish their own Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC). Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Democratic presidential aspirant and chief congressional opponent of President Truman's civil rights program, takes the same viewpoint.

Eisenhower's declaration put him at odds on this issue with enthusiastic supporters like Sens. Irving Ives of New York and Wayne Morse of Oregon.

Assuming the Republicans pick either Eisenhower or Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio as their nominee, the party will go into the November campaign without a champion of the compulsory type of FEPC many racial minorities are demanding.

Taft has proposed a voluntary

FEPC, with no powers to enforce its pronouncements against racial, religious and other discrimination in industrial hirings and firings.

This situation might invite the Democrats to take Russell or some other Southerner as second man on their ticket in an effort to patch the North-South break in the party.

On the other hand, it might spur the nomination of a ticket fully committed to FEPC for the same kind of campaign Truman conducted successfully in 1948 despite his loss of part of the South.

Beyond the FEPC issue, Eisenhower talked strongly of states' rights and state action. He said he was against "socialized medicine."

He favored leaving school problems largely in the hands of the states, a view that put him in opposition to Taft's support of federal aid to education.

Eisenhower said local communities should have control of soil conservation programs, although he conceded the federal government has a role in upholding farm prices.

He said he doesn't believe the country should give up "social gains" it has made, but added he believes that "when we pile law upon law and complication in an effort to solve this thing (labor relations) we are not doing too well."

Decrying "centralized government," Eisenhower called for a searching overhaul of federal operations.

"You can't go along and produce efficiency in something that didn't need to be done at all," he declared.

Eisenhower endorsed in principle a 1950 statement of Republican policies which called, among other things, for reduction of taxes and federal spending and a return to a balanced budget.

W.U. Asks Rate Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western Union Telegraph Co. petitioned the government Friday for authority to raise its domestic message and money order rates 9.3 per cent. It said the boost is needed to pay its employees more money.

The company posted the proposed higher rates with the Federal Communications Commission, FCC, and fixed July 6 as the effective date of the boost.

The revisions could be protested during the 30 day period by Western Union customers or blocked by the FCC if it considers the increases unreasonable.

W.U. said the increases together with further hikes on other services — to be filed later — would give the company about $13,200,000 per year in added revenues.

A 53-day strike by W.U. employees, members of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union, ended last month in agreement on a new contract.

Workers would receive wage benefits under the new pact but it would not go into effect until the FCC okayes higher W.U. rates. The Union agreed to help the company in its fight for a rate increase.

Russ Seize Jap Ships

TOKYO (AP) — The newspaper Yomiuri reported two Japanese fishing vessels were taken in custody Friday by Russian patrol ships off the eastern coast of Hokkaido, northernmost Japanese island.

Since the Pacific war, Russia has seized about 160 Japanese fishing boats and their crews allegedly for infringing Russian-proclaimed territorial waters.

The Maritime Safety Board in Tokyo said it had not received word of any seizures Friday.

Registration Due For Swim Courses

Advance registrations for swimming courses, part of the Klamath Falls Recreation Department's summer program, should be made at the office of Bob Bonney, recreation director, at City Hall, phone 3181.

The swimming program begins at the KUHS natatorium June 17, and the first of three three-week swimming courses starts that day.

The pool will be available for open swimming afternoons and nights except Saturday.

Five city playgrounds will have supervision all or part of the day starting June 16. They are Klamath, Stuke, Pelican, Fairview and Roosevelt.

A baseball school for young boys will be conducted at Conger Field from June 16 through June 21.
