JOAN RUTH HASKIN BRIDE OF COWELL H. BARNSTABLE

White stock, pink peonies and white snapdragons formed the background for the small and charming wedding of Joan Ruth Haskin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Johnson, 2036 LeRoy, to Cowell H. Barnstable, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Barnstable, 123 High, when the Rev. Lloyd Holloway read the marriage service uniting two well known Klamath Falls families.

For her informal wedding, the pretty bride chose a smart dove-gray shakakin suit, a pale blue flower hat, and navy accessories. Her bouquet was a white orchid and stephanotis carried on a white sash.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. H. L. Williams wore a brown suit with matching accessories, and her cor-

BARBARA ANN DICKSON AND EARL MACK JR. EXCHANGE VOWS

A wedding that united two pioneer Klamath County families was solemnized June 14 in the First Presbyterian church.

In a double ring ceremony read at 3 p.m. by the Rev. Arthur L. Rice, pastor of the Mt. Laki Presbyterian church, Barbara Ann Dickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Dickson became the bride of Earl Mack Jr. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mack Sr. Assisting was the Rev. David F. Barnett Jr., pastor of the Klamath Falls First Presbyterian church.

Rev. Rice officiated at the weddings of the parents of both bride and bridegroom 26 years ago.

The altar was banked with arrangements of white gladioli, white Esther Reed daisies, woodwardia fern and lighted with numerous white tapers in candelabra.

Mrs. San Mussen was at the organ for the incidental music preceding the ceremony and for the traditional wedding marches.

Mrs. D. W. Pease, Tacoma, aunt of the bride sang Godman's "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted by her father, wore white Chantilly lace over satin, made with scalloped bodice and sheer yoke. Her sleeves were long and her finger tip veil of illusion net was caught with a close fitting cap of lace. She carried white roses and lilies of the valley in a cascading arrangement on a white sash.

Grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hunt and grand parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hawkins were present, amount the 250 guests.

The bride completed three years at Southern Oregon College, Ashland, and her husband is stationed with the navy at the Sand Point Naval station, Seattle, where they will make their home after a week's honeymoon on Oregon beaches. He attended Oregon State College before joining the service.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. D. W. Pease and son David, Tacoma; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Chamberlain, Mrs. Rose Small and daughter Jean, Lakeview; Mrs. Donna Kissling, Chico; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Downing, Medford; Mrs. Ivy Coffey, India, student at Southern Oregon College.

EIGHT ET FORTY

At the regular meeting of Salon 355 Eight et Forty, Wednesday evening, May 28, Mrs. Anel Paul presided with 34 members and three guests present.

Proceeding the meeting the group met at the Winema Hotel for a no-hostess dinner honoring the State President, Mrs. Marie Tatum, Portland, and Child Welfare Chairman, Mrs. Mary Gibbons, Toledo, Mrs. Belle Schorrig, Four-mile, Oregon, was also a guest of the evening.

During the regular meeting Miss Virginia Oberg gave a very interesting and illuminating report of the care and treatment of patients at the Eastern Oregon State Tuberculosis Hospital at The Dalles. This report was especially of interest to the Salon since they work for the prevention and care of tuberculosis in children.

Refreshments were served after the meeting by Mrs. Bogue Dale, Mrs. Julian Abbott and Mrs. K. Phillips.

MARIAN McINTYRE JUNE BRIDE OF SAMUEL WILBERT RAYMOND IN FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

In the First Presbyterian church, June 15, the marriage of Marian Jean McIntyre, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. McIntyre, 409 Lincoln, to Samuel Wilbert Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Raymond, Portland, was solemnized in a simple, but beautiful double ring ceremony. The 4 p.m. service was read by the Rev. David F. Barnett Jr., before a large group of friends and relatives.

The Rev. Dwayne L. Proett, organist, played background music as the guests assembled. He also played the traditional processional and recessional marches.

Preceding the ceremony, a vocal solo, "Blessings," composed especially for the wedding by the bride's mother, was beautifully sung by Mrs. Marvin Nerseth.

Marian Jean, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in pure-white gown with nylon net yoke, satin lined Chantilly lace bodice, with peplum, and skirt of slipper satin, with full train. Her fingertip veil of nylon illusion net edged with Chantilly lace was held in place by a coronet style headband of lace trimme'd with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis.

Woodwardia fern was used in profusion as a background for the altar, which was flanked by distinctive arrangements of white gladioli and snow-queen daisies in large baskets, placed in front of lighted tapers in tall candelabra.

Maid of honor, Colleen Crewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Crewell, and fellow-student of the bride at Lewis and Clark College, wore a gown of pale green with nylon lace bodice and full net skirt. She wore a Juliet cap of daisies in shades of yellow and gold, and her shower bouquet was of the same summer flowers.

Alma Ferrell, Riddle, Oregon, student at Lewis and Clark College, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown styled exactly as the maid of honor's except that the bodice was in champagne lace and the full net skirt was in the same shade over pale green. Her Juliet cap and bouquet were identical to the maid of honor's.

Donald McIntyre, brother of the bride, was best man. He is a student at the University of Oregon.

Ushers, all former college classmates of the bridegroom, were: Gordon Hopland, Yakima, Dean Bartholomew, Cherrystone, and Fred Hagelstein, Hermiston; and Robert Thompson, Redwood City, California, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Thompson.

Mrs. McIntyre, mother of the bride, was charming in a powder-blue afternoon dress of soft sheer crepe, with a matching abbreviated jacket, and she wore a small navy hat. Her shoes and accessories were also navy blue, accented with a shoulder corsage of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Raymond, was handsome in a rose and white print on a dark background of silk, with pink hat and accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors, which were beautifully decorated in the same colors and flowers as the church proper. White gladioli, yellow snow-queen daisies, Esther Reed daisies were arranged in large baskets, and

BAKER-STAIR VOWS EXCHANGED IN EARLY JUNE NUPTIAL RITES

Margaret Ann Stair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Stair, 239 Fulton Street, was lovely in a white frosted organza dress, with all white accessories and an orchid corsage, when she became the bride of Kenneth E. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Baker, 1535 Dayton Street, June 7.

The couple was attended by the bride's sister, Patti Stair, and Robert Baker, the bridegroom's brother. Patti wore an aqua frosted organza dress, with white accessories and her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stair chose a nylon summer print dress with white accessories, and she wore a yellow rosebud corsage.

EVERGREEN GARDEN CLUB

The Evergreen Garden Club was represented by three delegates at the 25th Annual Convention of the Oregon Federation of Garden Clubs recently held in the Multnomah Hotel, Portland.

Those attending were Mrs. Ray Garrison, president of the Evergreen Club, Mrs. Joe Cox, vice president and Mrs. Clark Kendall, secretary. More than 500 persons attended from 300 Federated Clubs of Oregon.

Of particular interest to garden club members in the southeastern section of the state is the fact that we are well represented in the Oregon Federation by having Mrs. L. W. Franks of Redmond elected as the new state president and Miss Claire Hanley, Medford, as president elect.

Shower Given For Bride-Elect Nellie Mae Hanka

A lovely linen shower was given June 18 at the home of Mrs. J. Royal Shaw, 805 Pacific Terrace, for bride-elect Nellie Mae Hanka, whose marriage to Ralph Waldo Stearns Jr. is scheduled for tonight at eight o'clock, in the First Methodist Church.

The many colorfully wrapped gifts were heaped on a table centered with a huge arrangement of pink oriental poppies, and over this was hung a gay parasol festooned with bright flowers. About the rooms were many effective arrangements of pink peonies and mock orange blossoms.

Other than the hostesses, Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Howard R. Perrin, and the guest of honor, the following were present: Mrs. Howard F. Hanka, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Ralph W. Stearns and Frances Stearns, mother and sister of the prospective bridegroom; Mrs. Ralph R. Macartney and daughter, Mrs. Denis Babson; Mrs. George H. Merryman, Mrs. John D. Merryman, Mrs. Wilfred E. Lamm, and daughter, Mrs. Eugene H. Favel; Mrs. Percy Murray and daughters, Rosemary and Marcelle; Mrs. Victor E. O'Neill, Mrs. Emil Albrecht, Mrs. Fred Schallack, Mrs. Frank Jenkins, and Mrs. John A. Shaw.

Visitors From Wyoming

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cammock, 2055 Beaver, entertained in honor of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kinsfather, and son Vickey, who were visiting here from Worland, Wyo.

Present at the dinner given July 11 for them by the Cammocks were: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith and Jerome and Mickey; and Mr. and Mrs. John Crable and Betty Lou.

While here the Kinsfathers and Cammocks drove to Portland for the Rose Festival.

STRICKLER-CLAWSON RITES IN FIRST COVENANT CHURCH

The First Covenant Church was the scene of the wedding, June 8, of Dorothy Clawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clawson, 2766 Dayton, and Keith Strickler, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Strickler, Reedsport.

The Rev. Carl Strom read the service at three o'clock in the afternoon, before a background of lighted candles in tall candelabra, baskets of pink carnations, lavender and white stock, arranged in front of palms.

Organist was Eunice Wellman, and soloist was Janice Taylor, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Ushers, Dale Thornburg and Pat Williams also served as candle-lighters. Leo Cottrell was best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in white nylon marquette gown, featuring a sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves and a court train. Her floor-length veil was held by a halo type headress trimmed with orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a large white orchid with satin streamers on a white sash.

Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Melvin Clawson, was matron of honor, and she wore a lavender frock and carried a nosegay of yellow and lavender flowers, with matching flowers in her hair.

Bridesmaids Joanne Bennett and Shirley Doane, the latter, sister of the bridegroom, wore rose and green gowns, respectively, and carried and wore the same kind of bouquets and headpieces.

Ring bearers, Peter and Paul, handsome Goeller twins, and flower girl was pretty little Ruth Arnold, in a floor length dress of pale green, with complementing flowers in her hair.

Mrs. Clawson chose a navy blue dress with pink accessories and a pink rosebud corsage for her daughter's wedding.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Strickler wore a navy suit, pink accessories, and her corsage was of pink rosebuds.
