COUPLE WED IN JUNCTION CITY

The Methodist Church in Junction City, Oregon, was the scene of the wedding of Zetta Joy Spurling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spurling, to Jack L. Bolton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira A. Bolton, Lakeview, when the Rev. W. B. Empey, retired Methodist clergyman, read the double ring service June 8, 2 p.m., which date was chosen by the bride because it was her parents' 21st wedding anniversary.

Large baskets of giant pink and white peonies and anemones were effectively arranged before a background of palms and lighted white tapers in tall candelabra. Escorted to the altar rail by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a lovely gown styled with a white Chantilly lace bodice, long sleeves of the same lace, nylon marquisette skirt over satin, with insets of lace tapering to the hemline of the full skirt, which had a court train. Her veil was of nylon illusion net and cascaded from a braided coronet of white satin net and seed pearls. Her bouquet was crescent shaped, fashioned of a white orchid and a spray of white carnations, with a locket, belonging to her aunt, Miss Zetta M. Bennett.

Mrs. James Myers, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Victor Johnson, who sang "Because" and "Until" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" during the service. Maid of honor, Opal Day-Hubbard, wore a lime green tulle dress with a sweetheart neckline, puffed sleeves and matching net over a full skirt, and she wore a coronet similar to the bride's of the same lime-green material in her dress.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. Stanley Spurling, sister-in-law of the bride, Elizabeth Roper, Klamath Falls, and Lois Coats, Portland, were dressed identical to maid of honor, except that her bouquet was of dwarf pink rosebuds, and theirs were of larkspur, ranunculus.

Junior bridesmaids, Karen and Claudia Buchanan wore pink tulle dresses similar to the senior attendants, and they carried nosegays of pink, white and yellow daisies. Vickie Munn wore a gown of yellow tulle and carried a nosegay the same as the junior bridesmaids.

Ring bearer, Rodney Sparlin, cousin of the bridegroom, Klamath Falls, carried the rings in the heart of a Cala Lily. Mrs. Spurling chose a pink lace afternoon dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage for her daughter's wedding, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bolton, wore a lace and linen afternoon dress in a Benedictine rust shade, white accessories and she also wore an orchid corsage.

Lee poured coffee, and another aunt of the bridegroom, Mrs. Laura Armstrong, was at the punch bowl. The beautiful cake was of special interest to the guests, since it was made by the bride's uncle, D. P. Munn.

Also assisting about the room were Mrs. D. P. Munn, Mrs. E. A. Buchanan, Mrs. Ralph B. Prindel, bride's cousin, Mrs. Wesley Lewis, and Mrs. Robert Schmor. Mrs. Lowell Olsen was at the gift table. When they return to their teaching positions in the Klamath Falls City Schools in the fall, they will be at home, 229 White Avenue.
