Housewives Can Attend Craft School

Housewives will be doing it! Going to classes in painting, textile painting, jewelry ceramics, silk screening, weaving and metal jewelry work during the annual Klamath Summer Workshop starting July 7 at OZI will be a number of housewives who are taking up work in the classes as a hobby. Instructor in these classes will be Roy Mallory, Eugene. Mallory is supervisor of the art department of Eugene schools. He will teach night classes in these crafts if interest warrants. Classes will be for both beginners and advanced students. Beginners last year according to Mrs. Johnson, president, made excellent progress. Many used the knowledge for decorating touches in their homes. Others are developing the lessons into small business ventures.

Those interested in painting will study under Louis Bunce, nationally known artist and painter who will teach paintings afternoons and serigraphy three evenings a week. A complete schedule of classes will be published later. Anyone interested may call Mrs. Johnson, 2-1458 or drop in at the Art Center, 1227 Main for further information.
