

TIME OUT!

"Good grief! While I was telling you to forget your superstitions, Lefty, I forgot and stepped on the baseline with my LEFT foot!"

RIDIN' HERO

FLOYD WYNNE, KFLW sports-caster and local fight judge, has come up with what I think is a fine suggestion.

His idea is an outgrowth of last week's fight decision in which Earl Turner lost his Northwest middleweight crown to Indian Dick Wolfe.

Both judges and the referee should be instructed to turn in their scoresheets to the Klamath Falls Boxing Commission after each fight.

The box scores also should be available for public scrutiny.

In addition—and this is the important part of Wynne's suggestion—the ring officials should use a uniform system, one that is unanimously adopted by all three.

WYNNE AND your writer have been employing a system that I think is good.

I don't know what system is used by the referee.

But we score 11 points on each round, recognizing aggressiveness, number of punches landed, telling blows landed, defensive ability, etc.

The 11-point system is better designed to score close rounds. In a round would get 6-4 nod under the 10-point system. That's not close enough in some cases.

Six-five scoring is a more accurate picture of a close heat.

At the end of a fight that goes the distance, the round counts is the first criterion.

But if the round tabulation is even, 5-5 at the end of a 10-round bout, then the fighter with the most points would win the decision.

We make one exception to this rule.

If the round-count is even and if one fighter holds a 56-54 edge—10 rounds at 11 points each—Wynne and I agree the fight should be called a draw.

Two points is too slim a margin to give the decision to either fighter.

But any margin greater than two points would necessitate a decision.

BRIEFS from the sports file: George Clark, who ran like a dime-store robber down a crowded main street for the Oregon Tech Owls last season, can prove he is more than just a football education.

Clark had a 4-0 average (straight A's) in his year in the electronics technology course which includes radio theory and broadcast.

Coaches Rex Humaker and Art Kirkland are hoping the speedy halfback will be back in the fall. . . he's home in El Paso, Tex. for the summer. . .

Spent a good deal of my vacation watching television baseball. . . It's interesting but a far cry from being at the scene of the game. . . every pitch looks like a curve and the pitcher appears to be close enough to the batter to reach out and shake hands. . .

Local sports and radio fans should not grieve too much about being without video. . . it looks to me to be some five years away from being worth doing out a $200 minimum for a TV set. . . at that you'd probably get $200 worth of laughs out of the video announcers. . . they try too hard. . . they don't talk at you, but through you. . . the commercials are cornier than vaudeville. . .

I wonder how many know that the Cokes, Klamath American Junior Legion baseballers, lead in League 4 of the Southern Oregon district?

Undeclared in league play (a double win over Medford), the Cokes hold an overall 5-5 mark, meet Lakeview in loopfare Sunday at Gems Stadium.

John McGinnis, who made his debut with the KUHS baseball team this year, is doing a fine job. . . Ray Lamb of the Coca Cola Company is the angel in the deal. . .

Heat Wilts Robinson in 14th

Maxim Gets TKO, Keeps Ring Title

NEW YORK (AP) — The ring career of Sugar Ray Robinson may have come to an end in the blast furnace heat of Yankee Stadium Wednesday night—just two rounds away from victory over light-heavyweight champion Joey Maxim.

The third jewel for his crown eluded Robinson in the steaming 103-degree temperature that melted the flesh off the lean, middleweight king.

Robinson, well ahead of his heavier rival—collapsed after the 13th round and the victory was tossed to the fumbling hands of Maxim. It was an astonishing climax of what had been a one-sided fray.

"Ray was going to call it quits if he won decisively," said Junie Clark, a longtime friend of Ray. "Now this could be it too, I guess."

Robinson who once held the welterweight crown had been bidding to become the third fighter to win three championships.

The bout will go into the books as a 14th round technical knockout.

SUGAR RAY ROBINSON . . . beat by heat for Maxim. But most of the wilted crowd of 47,983 (gross gate $421,696) will credit the TKO to the heat in Yankee Stadium.

Robinson did most of the leading and in the first 11 rounds stabbed Joe like a matador, working on a lumbering bull. He staggered Maxim in the seventh and ninth rounds with smashing left hooks.

In the 12th, two rounds after referee Ruby Goldstein became ill from the oppressive heat and was replaced by Ray Miller, Robinson appeared to wobble as he retreated from Maxim.

Near the end of the 13th, he fell on his face after missing a haymaker right. At the bell he collapsed against the ropes in a neutral corner. His handlers quickly dragged him to his stool.

Dr. Alexander Schiff, the ring-side physician, said Robinson told him that "I can't get up on my feet, I'm all in."

The doctor signalled referee Miller that it was all over.

Judge Harold Barnes said he had Robinson in front, 10-3. Judge Arthur Aldala said his card had Ray leading, 9-3-1, the same as the Associated Press card.

BIG PROBLEM—When Bill Vecek fired Rogers Hornsby, Marty Marion once more had one of the 16 major league managerial jobs. Slats Marion admits the Browns pose quite a problem and the more the shortstop thinks of the situation the tougher it gets. But you travel top cabin, the pay is excellent and think of the hours!

Lillard Sets Fight Date

Wolfe, Turner Sought For July 12 Title Go

Promoter Mack Lillard has the Armory tied down for July 12 — Saturday night—and is trying to fill the date with a championship rematch between Indian Dick Wolfe and Earl Turner, Richmond, Calif., Negro.

Wolfe, Northwest welterweight ruler, picked up the Northwest middleweight title here last Friday when he was given the nod over Turner in a highly-disputed decision.

Lillard said yesterday if he landed the match he would put it over the 12-round route.

This would mark the first time a 12-round fight has ever been held in a Southern Oregon ring.

EYES CHANGE The matchmaker also said he was contemplating a new set of officials if successful in signing the bout.

Judge Floyd Wynne voted for Turner June 20, but Judge Frank Lowell and Referee Wally Moss touch off a thunderous ovation of cat-calls when they cast their ballots for Wolfe.

Harry Eagles, who acts as Wolfe's manager, told the Herald and News reporter covering the fight that Wolfe "didn't win the fight" and that "Turner can have a chance to get his title back anytime, anyplace."

Such a statement from a fight manager after his boy has won a title is virtually unheard of in fistie circles.

Lillard said yesterday he "would definitely have a fight card July 12" and "I hope to land the Wolfe-Turner rematch."

Portland kept Sacramento in the cellar with a three-run third inning that iced the ball game, 3-1. The scores came on two singles, a double and a walk. The Solons' sole tally came in the fifth on Jack Steinagle's homer. The teams play a doubleheader Thursday to make up for Tuesday's postponement.

Hollywood suffered its second successive shutout as Los Angeles' Bill Moisan turned in a four-hitter. The score was 8-0. The Angel won coupled with Seattle's loss put Los Angeles into the first division, on games, off the pace.

An eighth inning homer, catcher Ray Noble's first since he came down from the Giants, gave Oakland a 6-4 win over San Francisco.

San Diego, a lackluster club last week, exploded to tag four batter-hurlers for 15 hits and even the series at one-all. After losing six in a row, the Padres got a start toward making a prophet of O'Doul Wednesday night by coming from behind to trounce Seattle, 8-5.

Cokes Meet Lakeview In Sabbath Twin Bill

STANDINGS

Table with 4 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Klamath Falls: 2, 0, .667; Medford: 2, 2, .500; Lakeview: 0, 2, .000

The Klamath Cokes guard their American Junior Legion Southern Oregon League 4 lead against a Lakeview baseball club determined to climb out of the cellar in a doubleheader at Gems Stadium Sunday.

The two seven-inning games start 1:30 p.m. Coach John McGinnis said he tentatively plans to start Jo Jo George and Champ Hatcher in the two games, with David D'Olivo a third mound nominee.

The Cokes, with two wins over Medford, is currently pacing the three-team circuit.

TO PLAYOFFS The winner of the Klamath-Medford-Lakeview diamond family earns a berth in the Southern Oregon district playoffs July 26 and 27 in Drain.

Third baseman Don Dexter will probably bat in the lead-off spot, followed by Shortstop Ron Owings and Second baseman Jack Hendrickson.

First baseman George Hanson gets the clean-up spot. Then comes, in order, Rightfielder Bill Anderson, Leftfielder Louie Taucher, Centerfielder Ing Montgomery and Catcher Larry Yarnell.

USE HITTING McGinnis will probably use George in left field when the Indian lad isn't on the mound to take advantage of his hitting talent.

There's a chance D'Olivo will get the opening pitching assignment in the second game if the Lakeview club comes easy. Pitcher Elvis Mitchell will be held in reserve.

The Cokes split with Bend last Sunday in king's-X play before some 400 customers at Gems Stadium.

A larger crowd is expected Sunday.

Wools Take Softball Lead Oregon Woolen took the lead in the Girls Softball League last night with a 9-8 win over Tik-Tok on Conger Field.

Each team was undefeated with four wins apiece going into the game. Results of the Merrill-Malin game were not available.
