

Senate, House Work On Money Bills As Lawmakers Hurry Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The logjam of Congress' money bills finally has broken — on a multi-billion dollar scale.

And the breakup is proceeding so fast that leaders were talking with some confidence Friday of being able to wind up the session — and the 82nd Congress — for good a week from Saturday.

The House scheduled the opening of debate Friday on its last pending appropriation bill — 10 billion dollars in new funds for foreign aid, military projects and other purposes next year.

And the Senate, which has been lagging far behind the House, was in the throes of a get-out-of-town fever.

Senate - House conferees reached agreement Friday on a compromise $1413,380,000 deficiency bill with most of that money designed to pay the costs of the Korean war.

The measure carries $1,128,000,000 for the Army, 38 million dollars for the Navy, and 235 million for the Air Force. The funds are needed largely to pay extra expenses in the services incurred in the Korean fighting.

Also included was a 10 million dollar item for a foot and mouth disease laboratory. Sen. Ives (R-N.Y.) has said Plum Island in Long Island Sound has been tentatively selected as the site for the laboratory.

The bill is the last supplemental money measure for the 1952 fiscal year which ends on Monday.

These were the actions the Senate took Thursday:

$45,734,750.912 military bill—approved by Appropriations Committee after brief consideration and sent to the floor.

$3,437,895,000 compromise Treasury - Postoffice bill passed without debate and sent to President Truman, the first of the fiscal 1953 bills to reach the President's desk.

$1,012,547,852 State - Commerce-Justice bill — passed and sent to conference with the House to adjust differences.

$76,886,648 legislative bill carrying funds for Congress — approved by Appropriations Committee for floor action.

The legislative measure was scheduled to be passed and sent to Conference Friday — the ninth money bill to be acted on by the Senate out of 11 that must be passed before Congress can quit.

In approving it, the Appropriations Committee modified a House provision which would have given the lawmakers the privilege of claiming income tax exemption on all their living costs during congressional sessions.

The committee kept the tax reduction feature but limited the exemption to the first $2,400 of such costs.

In the House, administration leaders saw little chance of restoring the 25 per cent cut made by the appropriations committee in President Truman's $13,750,688,280 request for defense construction, foreign aid, atomic energy expansion and other things.

House leaders said they would drive for a vote Friday on the House's 10-billion-dollar bill but otherwise would schedule a Saturday session.

These main appropriations are under consideration:

Atomic energy — $1,485,000,000.

Defense department — $2,187,899,840 for military bases.

Emergency agencies — $81,690,537,760.

Foreign aid — $6,375,940,750.

Auto Crash Injures Man

Charles Barney, 21-year-old Indian from Sprague River, is in Klamath Valley Hospital with a broken left leg suffered in an auto accident on the Sprague River road Thursday morning.

He was first taken to the Klamath Agency hospital, and later brought here by Kaler's ambulance.

X-rays showed a break just below the hip.

Barney said he swerved his car to miss deer on the highway and rolled it over.

Also brought to the hospital from Klamath Agency was Mrs. Martha Baker Parazzo, who was reported to have been in semi-conscious condition for three days from a blow on the head.

KLMA For Sheep Topic of Talk

The use of the Klamath Livestock Marketing Association facilities for shipping sheep is to be emphasized during a meeting slated for the Community Lounge tonight at 8, according to County Livestock Chairman Earl Kerns, Klamath County Farm Bureau.

The association, organized a year ago to provide a two-way livestock shipping, marketing and buying service for Farm Bureau members in the Klamath area, is managed by C. M. Warren.

Tonight's meeting is to include George Dewey, OFPB director of information, Art Benson, of Benson, Hedine and Clark Commission, Portland, and California Livestock Director Ray Griffin, California Farm Bureau Federation.

Kerns stressed the importance of tonight's meeting as a means for discussing problems of shipping which have come up during the past year's operations.
