Brazilian Actor Signed For Shakespearian Role

ASHLAND—Actors from foreign countries are not new to the Oregon Shakespearean festival, but this season the festival came up with the first actor from South America to appear in the event in its 12-year history. John Bettencourt, 28-year-old Brazilian from Rio de Janeiro, is a student from Yale university who "came to Oregon for the ride" with Allen Fletcher, festival director and Michael Ondrio, Yale graduate student in drama who was a scholarship winner here this year. When directors learned that he had had some stage experience and heard his charming accented English, however, they quickly cast him in two dialect roles in the colorful chronicle play, "Henry V."

He is still corresponding for the paper, Diario de Noticias, which means that word of the festival will spread south of the border this year. Bettencourt is a member of a company which includes young actors and actresses from 18 states this year. Most of them are university drama students, but many have had professional experience as well. The festival, now in rehearsal, opens in Ashland on August 1, and four plays, "Julius Caesar," "The Tempest," "Much ado About Nothing," and "Henry V," run nightly in rotation through August 30. In addition this year, the festival will feature a new program of Elizabethan music under the direction of Hans Lampi of the University of Southern California music department.

Kiwanis Park Gets Paving

The Asphalt Paving Company recently completed the paving of a play area surface at Kiwanis Park. All that remains, Kiwanis officials report, is a sealing compound which must be applied over the asphalt before the area can be used. Kiwanis park is sponsored by the Klamath Falls Kiwanis club, and is developed through the club and the City Recreation Department. It is in Mills Addition.

Swedes Seek Red Apology

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Sweden told Russia Wednesday she would seek justice in an international tribunal unless Moscow admits that Soviet fighters shot down two Swedish planes over the open Baltic sea. A new Swedish protest note, rejecting Russian claims that the planes had violated Soviet territorial waters, insisted "Swedish military aircraft are of course entirely free to fly over the free sea and will in the future, as hitherto, "Swedish military forces cannot.

any more than the military forces of any other country, claim the right to exercise sovereignty in such waters over aircraft of another nationality," the note declared.
