Gamblers Shun Political Bets

RENO (AP) — If you want to bet on who gets the Republican presidential nomination, you'll have to find takers other than Reno's legal gamblers.

As a rule they will take a wager on most anything but they aren't accepting bets on whether Sen. Robert A. Taft or Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower emerges the victor at next week's GOP convention at Chicago.

There are a variety of reasons, not the least of which is that the gamblers themselves can't agree on which side of the fence to play.

One bookie says that if he posted odds, they would be heavy in General Eisenhower's favor.

Another disagrees. He says it will be Taft, hands down.

A third bookie figures Ike for a slight edge.

But don't send your money here. Even if Nevada's gamblers decided to take bets on the contest, they couldn't take yours unless you were in the state and could walk up to their counters.

The State Tax Commission, which regulates all gambling in Nevada, has decreed that bookies cannot accept out-of-state bets and can take no wagers by telephone or telegraph even from within the state.

Toy Brings Arrest

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP) — The Silvernail boys, Fred and Neal, could not convince their father that the radio they built with a washing machine motor and odd parts was an automobile.

Just a toy, Dad would say as the one-cylinder, one and one half horsepower machine chugged along as fast as 10 miles an hour.

Police spotted the vehicle Wednesday with Neal, 12, driving and Fred, 15, beside him.

They handed the boys' mother, Mrs. Leland Silvernail, a summons to appear in city court Tuesday.

The charge: Allowing an unlicensed minor to operate a motor vehicle.

POLITICAL BOMBSHELL ABOUT TO GO OFF

Who threw it?

How? Where?

Why?

What'll it mean to you?

underneath that roar of cheers? What does it mean for next fall... for the country... for you?

In short, you want your newspaper.

For no other news medium can give you enough reports and sidelights and opinions... fast enough... when you choose, where you choose, in the order that interests you most.

That's why everybody reads the newspaper... on days of supreme excitement... and every day.

If you're selling something that's advertised, make sure it's advertised to all the people in town.

All your customers and prospects read the newspaper — at the time they choose, for as long as they choose — for the advertising as well as for news or for fun.

When you're backed by newspaper advertising, your story has a chance to reach everybody... not just comedy fans, or mystery fans, or sports fans... but everybody.

That's why advertisers today invest more money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising. Newspapers are first with the most news... the most people... the most advertisers!

The newspaper is always "first with the most"
