NEWLYWEDS TO MAKE HOME IN SAN DIEGO

In an impressive ceremony in the First Presbyterian church of Merrill, Sunday afternoon June 22, at 4 p.m. Eleanor Anne Hunnicutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunnicutt, became the bride of George A. Price Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Price Sr., all of Merrill. The Rev. George A. Milne read the double-ring service in a candlelight setting before an altar banked with palms and large baskets of summer flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown with a lace yoke and collar. The full skirt ended in a court train. Her fingertip length veil of net was held in place with a Juliet cap of satin and seed pearls; the bridal flowers were lilies carried on a white Bible.

Mrs. Lillian Thomas, organist, accompanied the soloist, Ruby Gehring, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me." Mrs. Thomas also played traditional wedding music.

The bride's "something old" was a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother Mrs. G. W. Offield; "new" was her double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom; "borrowed" was her veil, the one Mrs. Fred Taylor wore at her wedding, and she had the traditional blue garter.

Maid of honor was Lois Lea Kandra, who wore pink organza with a nosegay of contrasting flowers. Bridesmaids were Elven Noonan and Jean Brown, both of whom were dressed in coral marquisette with contrasting nosegays.

Best man was Donald M. Bowman, and ushers were Jack Wynant and Richard Barry, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Hunnicutt chose a grey suit with white accessories, for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Price also wore a grey suit with pink accessories, and both had corsages of lilies.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. Baskets of summer flowers were placed about the room. An imported linen tablecloth, belonging to Mrs. Fred Fletcher, aunt of the bride, covered the refreshment table. Tall lighted tapers in silver candlesticks were placed on either side of the three-tiered white wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. A lovely floral arrangement completed the table decorations.

The cake was served by Mrs. Robert Danooky and Mrs. K. C. Burkes, both brides of the bridegroom. Mrs. Milton Ronald, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the coffee service, and Mrs. Timothy Murphy and Laura Lou Hill were at the punch bowl. Helen Lacey was in charge of the guest book and gift table. Two of the bride's aunts, Mrs. D. N. Eagle and Mrs. Thomas Bary assisted about the room.

Following the reception, the couple left for a one week trip to the Oregon coast. For going-away the bride wore a beige suit with pink and brown accessories, and a corsage from the bridal bouquet was worn at her shoulder.

The just-weds will return to Merrill for a short time, and, after July 15, will be at home in San Diego, where the bridegroom is stationed with the U.S. Navy.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Milton Ronald, Potter Valley, California; Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Burkes, Empire, Oregon; and Barbara and Jean Brown of Eugene.

QUOTA CLUB

Starting the summer vacation season of informal meetings, Klamath Quotarians were guests Monday evening at the home of Irene Van Winkle on Alva Street when one of the club's charter members, Marjorie Oyard, was honored with surprise shower.

Hostesses for the occasion were Cardua Eels, Edith Lantz, Vera Chase, Ada Sproat and Mrs. Van Winkle. Mrs. Chet Hamaker also assisted throughout the evening.

The addition of two new clubs to the 14th district of Quota International, Anchorage and Fairbanks, Alaska, was announced by Alice Vitus, district governor, who returned last week from Coronado, Calif., where this year's international conference was held; at tended by nearly 500 members and delegates of Quota from the United States, Canada and Mexico. This adds Alaska to the district, which was hitherto comprised of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

Dorothy Crim, Seattle, was elected President of International for the coming year, being the first woman from the Pacific Northwest to head this service organization in a number of years, and a reception in charge of Mrs. Vitus, was given in her honor.

Also attending the Coronado meeting as delegates from the Klamath club were Ada Sproat, president, and Nadine Colvin, second vice president. Their official reports will be given at the business meeting July 14, in the Bellan Party Room.

Quality is Important
You cannot tell the value of a diamond by its size. The care in cutting, freedom from flaws and inclusions, and its intrinsic color all contribute to its true value. Size is important only after these more important qualities are assured. Quality is assured if your ring bears the Genuine Orange Blossom name.
