Woods Closed By Heat Wave

By The Associated Press. Logging halted in much of Western Oregon and Washington Tuesday as hot easterly winds dried out the forests under a blazing sun.

The automatic closure required in Western Oregon when the humidity gets down to 30 per cent affected most operations as the day wore along.

In Washington state, Forester Bernard Ored ordered complete closure in Clark and Skamania Counties through Tuesday at least.

Oregon had no reported fires but in Washington there were 21 Monday. They totaled only 20 acres and the biggest was 15 acres near Hoquiam.

The Weather Bureau forecast humidities down to as low as 15 per cent in Western Oregon and mostly 20 per cent throughout the coast and Cascade Mountains.

Salmon's maximum Monday was 94 degrees. At 8:30 a.m. Tuesday the mercury was at 77, four degrees hotter than at the same time Monday.

The Seattle Weather Bureau indicated that this warming up wasn't ended. It said Washington state could look for temperatures 10 to 15 degrees above normal for the next five days.

Wednesday, the forecast said, would bring temperatures close to 100 in Eastern Washington.

There is some hope for cooling temperatures along the coast and the Portland weather bureau said they might begin to move inland about Thursday.

GOP Platform To Have Western Policy Plank

CHICAGO (AP) — Republican platform framers Tuesday readied a western policy plank expected to call for less federal control of the west's lands and greater development of its mineral and water resources.

The GOP 1952 platform also is expected to restate in strong terms the 1948 party position favoring return to the states of oil-rich offshore lands.

President Truman vetoed a bill passed by Congress which would turn over to some states title to the lands.

The platform likely will call for return of the "historic" rights of the states to title to all lands within their boundaries, including the tidal lands.

Delegates from the 11 western states, acting under the leadership of Patrick J. Hurley of New Mexico, already have made their demands on western issues clear to platform framers.

They have drafted recommendations for an end to federal encroachment on lands of the west, which has resulted in tax losses as more and more land is removed from state tax rolls.

Westerners have taken the position that federal bureaucracy within their boundaries must go.

A pre-convention conference of western platform advisers produced figures that the federal government now owns or controls 25 per cent of all land in the nation, running as high as 80 per cent in Nevada.

In addition to tax losses, westerners contend, the situation has developed bureaucratic control over local affairs.

The westerners contend there is now too local self government on federal lands and no legal redress on the local level.

Their recommendation is for a platform statement favoring a change in the law to give jurisdiction to local and state courts over all controversies arising on federal lands within state boundaries.

They also favor a system of geographical redistribution of water resources to afford a larger share to areas of scarcity.

Hurley conceded this proposal may be costly, but contended it would be justified by providing more jobs and greater national wealth.

Westerners are urging a platform statement in favor of a comprehensive national plan for flood control, development of hydro-electric power, and irrigation and reclamation projects.

Also sought is a plank declaring for a federal program of assistance to development of the west's mineral resources, including new exploration and tariffs favorable to domestic mineral production.

Taft Gets Florida

Dulles, GOP foreign policy expert, brought the proposed draft into him Monday and that he (Eisenhower) felt it contained "all the essentials necessary to guide us... from the standpoint of enlightened self-interest of the United States."

The general added that the draft plank contains "lots of verbiage tacking up the past, which I wouldn't want."

He said, however, that he never quarrels about details and is interested only in principles.

Eisenhower said he also had received a proposed draft of a plank on national security, and that he was "not so certain that I agree with that."

The platform-drafting committee hopes to deliver the document to the convention some time Wednesday, but may not have it ready until Thursday.

Not all of the 93 contested convention seats involve direct contests between Taft and Eisenhower supporters.

Of these, 68 from Georgia, Louisiana and Texas—including 50 Taft men—were barred from the convention Monday from voting on any seating contests until their own status is decided finally.

Local Garage Aim of Suit

PORTLAND (AP)—Balsiger Motor Co. of Klamath Falls was sued in Federal Court here Monday by a Seattle motorist who said faulty repairs caused him to have another accident.

The motorist, Frank P. Webb, said in his complaint that he ran into a tree, damaging the steering mechanism. The Klamath Falls garage, he said, repaired it, and he started out. Within a hundred miles, he said, he ran off the road again, suffering permanent injuries.

He asks $27,763 damages.

Q. Does Milk Control discourage competitive distribution of milk? A. YES. No one can enter the milk business if the Administrator says such new competition might disturb existing distributors.

Q. Does Milk Control allow you a lower price when you carry milk home yourself? A. NO. You pay the higher costs of door-to-door delivery whether you use this service or not.

Q. Does the Oregon Milk Control Law regulate Sanitary conditions? A. NO. It has absolutely nothing to do with the sanitation, health inspection, cleanliness, or the purity of milk.

Q. Does Milk Control limit the supply of Grade A milk? A. YES. To sell Grade A milk for your use a farmer must first get permission from the Administrator. If he gets permission (and many do not), he is given a quota. If he produces more he must often sell the surplus at a lower price for cheese or other factory uses.

"OUT OF THE NIGHT" brings to you a shockingly realistic picture of the "mission boy"—of his dreary life amid the squalor of Skid Row... his bitterness and apathy... his utter disillusionment. Yet nowhere is the power of the Gospel more graphically evident than in the lives of these derelicts who shuffle into the rescue mission, and find new hope and new life in Christ. In their triumph over alcoholism, narcotics addiction, and sin of the grossest kind, the dynamic of the simple Christian message is dramatically proved. It is this victory which "OUT OF THE NIGHT" so forcefully presents. For information on purchase or rentals of "OUT OF THE NIGHT," write Pacific Garden Mission, Chicago 5, Ill.
