Civil Defense Heads Warned

MCCHORD AIR FORCE BASE, Wash. (AP) — Pacific Coast civil defense leaders were warned of Russian air strength Wednesday as they heard a plea for stepped up activity in recruiting volunteer observers for the western region.

Brig. Gen. Clinton D. Vincent of the Air Defense Command, Colorado Springs, Colo., told the regional directors that military intelligence believes the Russians are prepared to launch 400 B-29 type bombers as an aerial attack force.

However, Gen. Vincent did not say whether our government thought Russia had such intentions against the United States. But he did offer the opinion that if the Russians do attack the United States by air they will supplement the bombing with rockets fired from submarines off our coastal areas.

The summer months, General Vincent pointed out, are considered the most critical. Because of this, observers are scheduled to go on a round the clock basis next Monday. He called for immediate recruiting of 9,000 more volunteers for the Ground Observers Corps (GOC) in Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho and Montana.

Platform Oks T-H, Labor

CHICAGO (AP) — Republicans courted both unions and management with a proposed party platform Thursday containing kind words for the union shop and the Taft-Hartley law as well.

The platform draft was approved by the Republican convention resolutions committee and presented for convention action later in the day.

Its labor plank called for retaining the Taft-Hartley act including the provision sanctioning the union shop.

In a union shop, all an employer's workers must become union members and pay union dues.

The union shop is the major unsettled issue in the steel strike.

Both the National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce—two major business organizations—had urged a ban on both the union shop and industrywide bargaining.

Neither such ban is sought in the proposed platform.

So neither labor unions nor business leaders are likely to be overjoyed with the labor plank language.

The proposed platform urged adoption of "such amendments to the Taft-Hartley act as time and experience show to be desirable." But no "desirable" changes were specified.

In other sections, the platform condemned President Truman's seizure of the steel mills, opposed compulsory health insurance and favored covering more individuals under the social security law.

SCHOOL START ASKED

SALEM (AP) — The Oregon Committee on Children and Youth recommended Wednesday the establishment of a graduate school of social work at the University of Oregon.

The committee was named by the governor.
