NO SUBWAY THIS—This picture was taken in San Antonio, Tex., and it looks as if the city is getting a new subway. On the contrary, instead of being a subterranean tube, the "subway" is the high-flying upper deck of the Air Force's XC-99. That's the cargo-carrier version of the B-36 bomber. The huge ship, 182 feet long, with a 230-foot wingspan, routinely carries a payload of more than 100,000 pounds.

MEASURES UP—Mrs. Dorothy Stitham, Seattle, Wash., nurse, measures her 69-inch, 125-pound halibut, one of largest ever boated by a woman in area, after catch outside Puget Sound.

Merrill

By ROBERTA DEWEY

Merrill Farm Bureau Center met July 3, in the recreation hall. John Degnan, vice-president, was in charge. Ed Gery, State legislator from Klamath county, discussed various bills coming before the legislature this fall, such as the "sales tax" and the "truck bill." He also explained the Oregon State tax system stressing the fact that no tax bill can be passed without first being referred to the people. Geary advised all organizations to make a study, before the election, of the various bills coming up, and said that there were speakers available, who could explain any of the proposed legislation.

Lily Loper spent the 4th of July weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Loper. She is taking nurse's training at a hospital in Olympia, Wash.

The annual 4th of July fireworks display went off with a "bang," both literally and figuratively. Some $500 worth of the fireworks went up in smoke before a capacity crowd which jammed the high school athletic field. A dance in the community hall ended the evening's entertainment.

Two guests, Denny Homes and C.M. Cahan, were present for the July 7, dinner meeting of Merrill Lions Club. Charles Van, vice-president, presided in the absence of president Harvey Denham. Reports on the Potato Festival meeting July 1, were heard. Dr. F. E. Trotman and W.H. Homes gave suggestions on handling the festival parade, and it was announced that another general meeting of festival committee members would be held soon.

Early Tuesday morning the town was sprayed from the air for insect control. For the past several years this method of controlling insects and pests has proven most successful. Cost of the spraying is met with Potato Festival funds.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kilpatrick attended a family re-union in Ashland, recently. Each year the family of Mrs. Etta Wiley of Salem, Mrs. Kilpatrick's mother, have a get-together. Mrs. Wiley, now 83, had 9 children, 32 grndchildren, and 34 great grandchildren, and most of these were present. One of her sons, Worth Wiley of Salem, is president of the Flying Farmers of Oregon, and made the trip down by plane. His mother, a great flying enthusiast, flew home with him.

Mr. and Mrs. John Turner, Joann and Grandma Turner drove to Reno for the 4th of July holiday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Swanson of Colville, Wash., returned to her home Thursday after visiting for the past week with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Karrer in Klamath Falls, and her brother Howard Dewey in Merrill Mrs. Swanson is the welfare administrator for her county in Washington.

Houseguests at the R. L. Dragoo home last week were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dragoo and daughters, Karen and Susie from McCloud, Calif.

Two Merrill families, the Ralph Swishers, and the Merle Cahans, spent several days fishing at Elk Lake. On the evening of July 4, they drove to Bend to see the annual water pageant, which, according to their reports, is a beautiful show.

A special meeting of the County Farm Bureau and Klamath Livestock Association was held July 8, at the Merrill recreation hall. John Degnan was the chairman. Chief purpose of the meeting was to discuss the organizing of small wool-growers in the area. It was the general opinion that if a wool pool were formed the small growers would be better able to attract buyers. Also discussed was the shipping of fat lambs through the Livestock Association. Earl Kerns is president of the group and Chuck Warren the secretary.

Janice Lisk, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lisk, is enjoying an extended visit with her grandmother in Mehema, Ore.

NPA Cannot Hire Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission Tuesday took away from the National Production Authority (NPA) the right to hire its own workers because of irregularities in selecting employes last year.

It called for "corrective action"—meaning dismissal or new assignments—for possibly more than 100 NPA employes. In some cases, the commission said, veterans' preference in hiring was ignored.

The commission ruled that all future NPA hiring must be referred for prior approval to the Department of Commerce, the parent organization of the emergency production agency.

Commerce Department and NPA officials, questioned on the charges, said they will carry out the commission's orders completely and will cooperate fully in matters of hiring.

They did not deny that abuses had occurred, but said they were in 1951 when NPA was striving to build a staff quickly to deal with a mushrooming load of work in administering priority and allocation controls.

Many of the improper appointments, they said, were of day-to-day consultants or commodity specialists in the "WAE" category—meaning, paid only "when actually employed."

In many of the latter cases the one-year term of appointment has expired, officals said, and the appointees have left the agency.

The unusual announcement by the Civil Service Commission said that 11 per cent of NPA's appointees above the salary level of $3,410 a year were ineligible for their jobs at the time they were hired.

Inspection of NPA's personnel actions, the commission said, showed that the defense agency took on workers who were not on the civil service registers, while at the same time rejecting all names on the official lists of civil service eligibles.

The commission also found NPA had in its files applications of veterans qualified for positions to which non-veterans were appointed," the report continued.
