Reds Retake Mountaintop

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Chinese infantrymen recaptured the crest of Old Baldy Tuesday in the bitter, costliest battle that has cost the Reds more than 1,000 casualties.

United Nations infantrymen still held the southeast slope of the bitterly contested hill west of Chonwon on the Korean Western front.

Baldy overlooks both the U.N. and Communist main lines of defense.

Associated Press Correspondent George McArthur at the front said about 200 Chinese pushed through heavy U.N. tank and artillery fire and retook the shell scarred height.

U.N. troops reached the top at 2:30 a.m. but were forced to pull back down at 9:30 a.m. in the face of counter-attacking Chinese and heavy Red artillery fire.

Once the Chinese had regained the top of Old Baldy, McArthur reported, U.S. Fifth Air Force planes plastered the area with flaming gasoline.

U.N. tanks and Artillery shelled the area with a tremendous barrage.

Chinese artillery knocked out three tanks in the morning fighting.

U.N. fighter-bombers again hit a railroad repair center and case nine incidents between Semdung and Pnyongyang, the North Korean capital.

Accused Boy Returned

ASTORIA (AP) — Ward Wenger, 20, accused of the June 10 hammer slaying of his foster mother, is to be returned to Astoria later this week.

He was arrested in Clarksville, Tex. last week after he had wrecked a car belonging to his foster mother, Mrs. Marie Wenger, 47.

Her body was found July 11 under a pile of rugs in her Astoria home.

Young Wenger was seen leaving the house the night before.

Quake Biggest Since 1906

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Monday's big earthquake in Southern California's Tehachan mountains, felt from San Diego in the south to Red Bluff in the far north, hit harder than any quake since the one in 1906 that wrecked San Francisco.

Three seismologists agreed on that point after checking their instruments.

At Santa Clara University, the Rev. John A. Weber, S. J., said the first shock, recorded there at 4:53 a. m. PDT, was the strongest since 1906, harder even than the devastating Long Beach shock in 1933, and the one that rattled Santa Barbara in 1925.

Charles Harris, seismologist at the University of California, Berkeley, recorded the first shock Monday at 4:53:02 a. m., another at 5:19:01, and the third at 5:38 a. m., all PDT.

He said all were "very large," and the heaviest, while not so large as that of 1906, was greater than 1933.

Prof. Vincent Gianella at University of Nevada at Reno, called the shock the strongest in the United States in 20 years.

The first was recorded there at 4:57 a. m. The epicenter, he said, was along the notorious San Andreas fault, which triggered the sensational Tejon Pass upheaval of 1856.

McKay Calls Safety Meet

SALEM (AP) — Gov. Douglas McKay, concerned over recent fatalities resulting from failure to equip trucks with proper couplers and safety chains, Monday called a meeting of state officials and lumber industry representatives.

McKay said he hoped a program to insure transportation of logs and lumber in a safe manner will be developed at the meeting which is scheduled Thursday.

Demos Say Rift Subsides

CHICAGO (AP) — Factional differences within the Oregon Democratic convention delegation appeared to have subsided Tuesday as both sides indicated a willingness to call it a day.

Delegation Chairman Terry Schrumk said he had no plans to bring to a show-down vote a motion by Thomas R. Mahoney of Portland to bind delegates to the candidacy of Sen. Estes Kefauver until released.

Facing a split, the delegation Monday put off a scheduled roll call vote on Mahoney's proposal and it appeared the postponement would become permanent.

Schrumk said Mahoney had indicated he was willing to let the matter drop.

The delegation is bound by Oregon primary law to cast its 12 convention votes for Kefauver so long as he has a reasonable chance of winning the nomination. Mahoney, saying there were rumors that some delegates planned to bolt Kefauver, wanted to bind the delegation until Kefauver released it personally.

The Oregon group scheduled a visit by Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, a presidential candidate, at its regular morning caucus Tuesday before going to the convention hall.

Temblor Does A Little Good

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The violent, death-dealing, damaging California earthquake Monday had large incidents on the lighter side, too. For example:

Mrs. Alice Kinney, Los Angeles, was suffering from a dislocated vertebra. She slept on a mattress on the floor Sunday night to ease the pain. When the quake came, she said, "I felt a snap" and presto the vertebra was back in place.

The Bank of America building in Whittier was cracked in the big 1933 earthquake. The crack reopened Monday.

Five hundred women employees of the Prudential Insurance Co. in Los Angeles got an earthquake holiday — they were sent home to avoid being injured by broken glass.

Al Larimer, Tarzana butcher, said 10 goldfish, eight bullfrogs and 200 toads were tossed right out of his fish pond onto the lawn.

Men who service burglar alarm systems were among the busiest men in Los Angeles. The quake set off scores of alarms at stores and other business places.

Seismographs in California ordinarily are prime sources of information on earthquakes in Japan. Monday the field was reversed — an instrument in Tokyo recorded the California quake.

BLM Recruits Foresters Salvage Downed Trees

To speed up the salvage of blow-down, fire and insect killed timber, the division of forestry of the Bureau of Land Management is being expanded to meet the task by recruiting and orienting a considerable number of foresters.

Rocco E. Bell, Northwest regional administrator of the bureau, said at Portland that 7 days of intensive field training and orientation for a group of the new foresters has just been completed. The training session was held at Swishome and on logging operations in the area.

The new men, graduate foresters and engineers from Western colleges, were trained in cruising blowdown timber, the layout and administration of timber sales in these emergency areas, the location and engineering of logging roads, and the enforcing of fire-prevention stipulations on logging operations.

Hiring of the additional field men to expedite the salvage program was made possible by Congress granting the emergency funds which the BLM requested in its recent budget to salvage as much of the timber as possible and to help check the Douglas-fir bark beetle epidemic.

Bell said, "With the enlarged force of foresters and forest engineers in the field it is believed that during the fiscal year 1952-53 approximately 330 million board feet of dead and damaged timber can be salvaged in addition to the approximately 375 million board feet of green timber which is planned for sale on BLM lands.

"The important fact is that a huge amount of dead and dying timber is in the woods and must come out as fast as possible. On BLM land the windthrown, fire-killed and beetle-killed timber is now estimated at approximately one billion board feet with a value of more than sixteen million dollars. The approximate area of beetle infestation has been estimated at 1,500,000 acres of private timber, 1,000,000 acres of national forest and 600,000 acres of BLM timber. Almost every timber-covered mountainside is now beginning to show a polka dot pattern of small patches of insect-killed trees. Wherever the dead trees are found, about twice as many surrounding them are infested with the tiny timber-killing beetles.

"The cooperative aerial and ground survey in which the lumber industry, the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, the U.S. Forest Service, the State Forester, and the BLM have been searching Western Oregon for areas containing blowdown and beetle-killed timber and classifying them is continuing and will have to continue
