Civil Rights Threatens Three-Way Demo Squabble

CHICAGO (AP) — A three-way split over civil rights—instead of the usual north-south division—developed among Democratic platform drafters Tuesday.

The 19 delegates assigned to rough out the party's presidential campaign principles began a marathon session to finish their task by Wednesday.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, who usually votes with the northern wing of the party, told this reporter he could not support a Senate anti-filibuster plank.

"I think it's dishonest to say we are going to do something that we know we cannot do," he said.

Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York, also on the drafting group, and Sen. William Benton of Connecticut and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, have predicted adoption not only of a stronger racial relations section but also a plank calling for a change in senate rules on filibusters.

At five days of public hearings before the platform group Southern Democrats, who bolstered the convention four years ago on this issue remained strangely silent.

Magnuson said he believes there would be no great difficulty in getting agreement on broad racial relations and opposing discrimination and lynching.

"I think we could even accept the 1948 plank again if we dropped some unnecessary terms from its preamble which mean nothing," Magnuson said.

He added the only way for Democrats to change Senate rules "is to elect enough Senators to get them changed."

Hoover May Be Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — A move seeking appointment of former president Hoover as successor to Senator Nixon (R. Calif.), should the latter be elected vice president came to an abrupt end Tuesday.

Rep. Kilburn (R-N. Y.), who assumed Hoover was still a resident of California, made the suggestion in a letter to Gov. Earl Warren.

The governor has the authority to appoint a Senate successor in the event of a vacancy.

It developed, however, that Hoover now lives in New York City.

Kilburn, informed in Malone, N. Y., commented:

"Well, that's fine. I had no idea he is now a resident of my state."
