White House Drafts Demo Compromise

By WARREN ROGERS JR

CHICAGO (AP) — A North-South compromise on a loyalty pledge—drafted reportedly on direct orders from the White House—put the damper Wednesday on the hottest threat to Democratic unity: A 1948-type party split at this convention.

The compromise, approved by the convention credentials committee Tuesday night, goes to the convention floor Wednesday. There was only the slimmest possibility of opposition there.

The bid for party harmony seemed to have taken much of the sting out of Dixie's defeat Monday night on the loyalty pledge issue.

The convention then adopted a rule requiring delegates to promise they would do their utmost to place the convention's nominees on their home-state ballots.

The compromise was a proviso added to the pledge saying no delegate would be forced to sign the promise if it went against state laws or state party rules.

The pledge rule—with the old party-splitting issue of civil rights at its core—was rammed through the convention over loud Southern protests.

Chief ramrods were Michigan's Sen. Blair Moody and New York's Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Early Wednesday Moody told a reporter how the proviso came into being. Moody said he got a telephone call from Washington, from Charles Murphy, legal adviser to President Truman. The President reportedly was kept up to the minute on what was taking place.

Moody said Murphy suggested "clarifying" the pledge rule by tacking onto it some of the explanations offered Monday night by Roosevelt and Moody.

These two had said then that the pledge would not force any delegates to go against state laws or state party rules — the main argument advanced by the rebellious Southern states.

"That's what we did in the proviso," Moody said. He added: "The amendment in no wise weakens the Moody resolution. It merely states the obvious."

Key Southerners, for the most part, indicated satisfaction with the pledge-plus-proviso. There was only one public reservation—Sen. John Stennis said he was not sure Mississippi would go along.

The convention time-table called for all loyalty pledges to be signed and turned into the Credentials Committee before it filed its report Wednesday.

The Credentials Committee also unburdened itself of a companion row.

It voted, 36-to-13 and 33-to-17 respectively, to seat Texas and Mississippi delegations which oppose the Truman administration.

This sent the struggle over Mississippi's 18 votes and Texas' 52 spinning toward the convention floor.

In both cases, the battle was between anti-administration factions claiming a majority and "loyalists" asserting they did not bolt the party in 1948.

Adlai Means 'The Just'

CHICAGO (AP) — The first name of Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois is pronounced "Ad-lay." (First syllable accented).

The governor has told newsmen asking about his unusual first name:

"You'll find it in the list of 'Begats' in the old testament. It means 'The Just'."

Ellis To Call Another Dance

Otto Ellis who will be in charge of street dances during the Oregon State Legion convention starting here Friday has been invited to call at the second annual Northwest Square Dance Jamboree at the new Lincoln high school in Portland Saturday.

The largest conclave of square dancers in Northwest history will swing to the fiddles Saturday evening in a three-hour session.

Net proceeds of the dance will go to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children and Doernbecher Hospital for Children. Co-sponsors of the event are the Oregon Journal and KPOJ.

Last year's jamboree held on the rooftop of the Journal building was limited to 4000 dancers and spectators. In the larger area available this year, tiered seating capacity for spectators will accommodate many more.

B. M. Antle, Klamath Falls caller will substitute at the Legion street dance here as caller Saturday night and Ellis will be back for the Monday and Tuesday night dances.

Mine Workers Strike Nears

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A spokesman for Western Pennsylvania coal operators said Wednesday he has been informed that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has served notice the UMW is terminating its soft coal agreement in 60 days.

The spokesman, who declined to be identified by name, said Lewis served the notice on Harry Moses, head of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, in Washington, Tuesday.

Operators here have as yet received no confirmation of the notice.

The spokesman said the expiration of the 60-day period would fall on Sept. 20, but since that date is a Saturday, its effective date would be Monday, Sept. 22.

Congressman Lauds Party

CHICAGO (AP) — Rep. Henry Jackson of Washington told Democrats at their national convention Wednesday their party is the one with "imagination, new ideas and willingness to take chances."

In a talk prepared for the convention's afternoon session, Jackson said the conventions of the two major parties might appear similar to millions of television watchers but there is a tremendous difference between them.

"Our party believes in exploiting resources, not people," he asserted.

"Our party believes in meeting the issues of our times, not hiding from them. Our party believes in change for the better, in use of our imaginations in seeking new ideas, in braving new frontiers—and we're not afraid to take a chance."

The Congressman, a member of committee, praised the decision of the late President Roosevelt to give the go-ahead to the research which developed the atomic bomb.

"The gamble paid off," Jackson said. "And today, our atomic stockpile represents our greatest material asset in the fight against Red aggression."

The great atomic plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash., would not have been possible, he added, without the huge federally constructed hydroelectric projects that provide power for them and surrounding areas.

These, he noted, include Grand Coulee and Bonneville Dams and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Jackson termed Grand Coulee Dam "a great new plus on the balance sheet of America—a plus that never would have been possible under a Republican administration."

The Congressman is planning to run this fall against Republican Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington. Cain addressed the G.O.P national convention two weeks ago.
