Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced to its second straight new high for 1952 Wednesday with buying focused on a few major divisions. The advance gained additional strength at the close.

Selected railroads were well ahead and good support was given to the advance by steels and motors. Gains were mostly fractional with issues on the outside of the range adding from 1 to around 3 points.

Volume came to an estimated 1,300,000 shares. New York Stocks By The Associated Press

GRAINS

CHICAGO (AP) — Buying entered corn on the board of trade Wednesday as news of drought damage in many sections, particularly in the southeast, continued to pile up.

The return was slow in getting started, but toward the finish there was no doubt about the fact that the trend was upward.

READY FOR SERVICE—This Cadillac Superior, four-stretcher capacity, has been bought by Kalers Ambulance Service and is now ready to be placed in service. Jim Kalers, operator of the service, and his family drove the new vehicle here from Lima, Ohio, where it was manufactured. It is fully equipped with the latest emergency gear. The ambulance service also recently has purchased a new McKesson resuscitator for emergency use.

In The Day's News

the tales of saucer sightings. Every time they get unusually numerous, I go back in my mind to that day during the war when we saw the Jap balloon, high up over town and somewhat to the west.

It wasn't too plain. You had to look just right to see it. But when you did catch it with your eye, there it was, round and white, looking just like a Jap balloon ought to look. Excited groups gathered all over town to gaze. Here on our sidewalk at the Herald and News we had an especially large and excited crowd. By measuring on the corner of the adjoining building, we could get a line on it and spot it with comparative ease.

Every time we'd get it spotted, we could feel the hair turn up on the backs of our necks and the chills begin to chase each other up and down our spines.

Then— A. B. Esperson, our accepted authority on things astronomical, came along. He took a squint. Then he fixed up a crude instrument and took an observation, meanwhile checking carefully on his watch. Then he announced: "It's the planet Venus—which at this time of the year is reasonably visible in full daylight."

As I recall it, we were all quite chagrined. But that isn't all. We were TERRIBLY DISAPPOINTED. In these days, I find I feel the same way about a flying saucer that is definitely identified as a weather balloon.

Local Architects Change Buildings

Architects Murdo Morrison and John Howard have moved their offices from Pine Grove to the Williams Building on Main Street. They moved into a suite of offices created when attorneys Harry Bovin and Ganong and Ganong moved into offices vacated by the Klamath Production Credit Association in the First Federal Building. The credit association has moved into its new quarters at 9th Street and Klamath Avenue.

Man Beaten In Hotel Room

An elderly man, Sam Combs, 69, was found badly beaten in his room at the Holly Hotel this morning.

He told City Police that Indians were responsible. Combs was found by the hotel operator on the floor of his room, bloody but conscious from what apparently had been a severe beating on the head.

He was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital by Kalers' ambulance and is not considered in serious condition. He told officers that some Indians had come to his room asking for money, and that they beat him up when he didn't have any.

The mattress on his bed was blood-soaked and there was blood on the floor and walls of the room. The room door was unlocked and the key, in the lock on the outside, also showed traces of blood. Spots of blood led downstairs and along the sidewalk to the alley between Main and Klamath where they disappeared.

Police Chief Orville Hamilton said Combs is known to his department as a bootlegger.

Funeral

Funeral services for Austin John Thorpe, 80, who died in Salem July 28, are to be conducted from the Chapel of Ward's Klamath Funeral Home 923 High Street, Thursday, 10:30 a.m., with Dr. E. M. Causey, First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment, Pleasant Hill Memorial Park.

Lewis Begins Contract Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis reportedly has begun talks with a major part of the soft coal industry, probably to lay the groundwork for full-scale contract negotiations.

An informed source, who is in touch with the situation but declined use of his name, said Wednesday, Lewis had his first conference with the industry Tuesday.

The United Mineworkers' chief told the bituminous coal operators association July 22 that the present soft coal work contract would end Sept. 22.

The present contract has been open for termination on 60-day notice by either side for several months.

Barring a new contract, Lewis is considered certain to take his 450,000 miners out of the nation's soft coal pits on Sept. 22 if he follows past performance.

"His battle cry has always been 'No contract, no work.' It was not known definitely who participated on the industry side but the obvious choice would be Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association and the man who does all the negotiating for association members.

These operators represent about half of the annual soft coal tonnage mined by the UMW.

Taylor Takes Over New School Post

Ernie Taylor has assumed his newly won post as a member of the Klamath Union High School Board. He was sworn in Monday night at a joint meeting of the high school and elementary boards.

Taylor was elected to the board in a recent election. He succeeds Nelson Reed.

A new music instructor has been employed to succeed John Drysdale who has been appointed music director of the Redmond schools.

The new instructor here is Walter J. Smith. He will teach string music in the elementary schools and direct the high school orchestra. He holds degrees from the Universities of Idaho and Washington, the latter a Master's, and was student body president at Idaho.

The Elementary Board also employed Russell Pengelly as instructor in Science, Grade 8. He is a University of Oregon graduate.

Mrs. Margaret Sirode, Klamath Union High School nurse, was named girls counselor. She is to continue her nursing duties in addition to the new counseling work.

Two new lavatories are to be installed at the high school. City Schools Superintendent Arnold Grapp explained that the new lavatory units were necessary to bring the school under state code requirements. The lavatories are circular and will accommodate six persons each. Cost is $1,038.

The K. C. Painting Company was awarded a contract for exterior painting at the high school. Price was $1,600.

The High School Board decided to request the city to ban parking along Alameda Street in the high school vicinity during school hours. The action is planned to create more bus room.

Draft Calls Local Men

Five men went to Portland this morning for pre-induction physical examinations, the Klamath Falls Selective Service office reported.

The five went up by train and are to be examined at the U.S. Army Recruiting and Induction Station tomorrow. They will arrive back here Friday.
