Minister To Go To Africa
The Rev. and Mrs. Philip Steigleder—and baby daughter—have said goodbye to friends in Dorris and Klamath Falls and have started on a trip to South Africa. The Rev. Steigleder for the past year has been pastor of the Church of the Nazarene at Dorris, and is to be stationed at Johannesburg, Transvaal, Union of South Africa, as a missionary. His wife is trained nurse and expects to be attached to a medical mission. They left Dorris yesterday after a farewell sermon at the Dorris church Sunday night. Sunday morning Rev. Steigleder spoke at the Church of the Nazarene in Klamath Falls. Johannesburg, where the Steigleder family is going, currently is one of the hot spots of the world, politically, the scene of frequent and bloody race riots which are believed to be Communist-inspired. The Steigleders have gone to Pasadena, Calif., for a visit and to await a permanent resident permit to enter the Union of South Africa. The Dorris church has selected as its new minister the Rev. James Peters of Pasadena, who is scheduled to arrive in Dorris with his wife and small daughter Aug. 24.

Californians Top Capitol Visitors
SALEM (AP)—California provided more than twice as many visitors to the Oregon state house in July as any other state. Capitol information booth figures showed that 372 California groups registered, compared with 163 from Washington, next in line. Illinois was in third place with 77 groups of tourists registered.
