CAUGHT In The ROUNDS

By DEB ADDISON

When you get into one of those games like when you're driving somewhere and someone thinks of an object and the others try to guess it, here's one to try out on them.

It was concocted by young Phillip Cartwright who has been visiting his Auntie Ann and Uncle Lloyd Prock at Lake of the Woods. Can your mature mind cope with this five-year-old?

Here is what it has two legs and lies on the bottom of the lake?

You must have become aware in the past few days of the fact that the Tree Farm program started right here in Klamath 10 years ago. The Weyerhaeuser Tree Farm, a few feet of whose 500 thousand acres the birthday cake was cut, was No. 1. Now Tree Farms cover 5 million acres of privately owned western timber land.

Did you know that the Keep Oregon Green—Keep America Green—program also started right here in Klamath?

Yep. Keep Klamath Green was the originator of it all. It was started by an American Legion committee, Hal Ogle of FPA and Walt Wiesendanger, then of Sunset Grocery, had a big hand in it. Let's Keep Klamath Green.

It used to be: As Maine goes, so goes the nation. Now it's: As Maine goes, so go the Bishops. Did you know that the American Legion candidate for governor of Maine is Neil S. Bishop, a first cousin of Jack Bishop of Weyerhaeuser?

Jack is not primarily interested in Tree Farms or in Keeping Klamath Green, but in selling that Weyerhaeuser Four Square lumber.

In confirming that Cousin Bishop just might become the next governor of Maine, Jack said he'd never met the man. We suggested that in such event he should take a trip back there and visit at the gubernatorial mansion.

Not at all, said Jack. I'd better run for governor of Oregon and the even things up. Can't let Maine

NEW YORK (AP)—Katherine Towle is one of those women who make you look twice when you see the bride hanging on your arm. She is tall, slim, grey-haired and handsome. Her eyes are a cool blue, cool and appraising.

Being feminine to her finger tips, she seldom mentions her several university degrees, nor what she has been doing the past seven or eight years.

In large part, this has been to act as a walking advertisement for the Marines. That's her alma mater. She comes from Towle, Calif., a town founded by her grandfather.

Police Fine Slot Owners

TRACY, Calif. (AP)—This small city's police judge and police chief said today they see nothing wrong in a former city practice of regularly fining slot machine operators while the slots stayed in action.

Details came to light yesterday in Washington when the U. S. Tax Court ruled that Charles A. Clark, former Tracy slot machine operator, could not deduct the fines from his income for tax purposes.

Clark told the court he used to have an arrangement with the city under which he was allowed to operate the illegal slots, so long as he paid the city $25 a month in fines for each machine.

Clark made the deductions on his income tax returns under the heading of "taxes, licenses, and permits."

But the court, in pointing out that the city did not issue him a permit for his slots and that the machines were illegal in California called the arrangement a "sham."

Clark, the court said, kept careful records and these revealed that he paid $32,225 in slot machine fines, by check, through the police chief, from the beginning of 1944 through 1946.

There was no dispute today from either Chief of Police E. C. Wymann or Police Court Judge Pen Jackson that the fines had been assessed and paid.

New Developments Rock Middle East

By The Associated Press
The fuse of a Middle East time bomb sputtered again Monday.

Western diplomats watched nervously a series of developments that could set off an explosion in the turbulent area which is labeled of crucial strategic importance in the cold war between Russia and the West.

In Jordan, a little desert country long allied to Britain, Parliament decided to purge themselves of King Talal I and turn over the throne to his 17-year-old son, Crown Prince Hussein.

In Iraq, with the ominous rumble of Nationalist threats in the back-

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower and Gov. Stevenson can try to keep this campaign on a high and impersonal plane, talking about issues.

But this is the kind of restraint which may inflame seditious on some of the less inhibited members of both parties who are never reluctant to bash a head.

So there is no reason for anyone, yearning for the good old days, to feel melancholy about the prospect of a completely elevated campaign. It can hardly be all like that.

Issues don't just float around in the air. People are attached to them on both sides. And, since people have names, names will be used in the campaign.

Not even Eisenhower and Stevenson can avoid using names. In this campaign the difference between dirt and decency will depend upon how names are used.

Stevenson himself already has mentioned Sen. Joseph McCarthy as a Communist campaigner in the Wisconsin Republican has conducted in the past few years. Stevenson wondered out loud how Eisenhower could support McCarthy.

McCarthy, running for re-election, has never been a man to let a crack go unnoticed. Yesterday he called Newman to his Grindstone Lake, Wis., retreat, where he is recovering from abdominal surgery, and said: "Horse-

AFL Blames Rising Prices On Business Profiteering

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The American Federation of Labor has used the opening of its 52nd annual council meeting as a chance to blast the high cost of living and predict new price boosts soon.

But the council avoided saying what should be done about the problem, in a statement issued yesterday from behind the closed doors of the economic study session.

The council stated definitely, however, that wage increases had nothing to do with the rise in prices.

"There is no justification whatsoever for attributing the present price spiral to wage adjustments," it said.

The blame belongs on big business and "profiteering right down the line, from the wholesale to the retail level," said the council, 13 of whose members were present for the meeting.

In addition to its cost of living studies, the council looked into a long-standing jurisdictional fight between two member unions. AFL President William Green told a news conference.

The fight concerns a complaint by the Carpenters Union that the International Association of Machinists resorted to the National Labor Relations Board to settle jurisdictional disputes. The carpenters claimed the machinists should have asked AFL agencies to settle instead.

Green said the council instructed him to get more details on a settlement proposed by the machinists.

The council continued its five-day meeting today without announcing in advance what it would take up in the second-day sessions. Green said at the start of the meeting would be devoted to preparing a report for the AFL National Convention in New York next month.

In commenting on the high cost of living, Green said "we don't want to suggest what should be

FD Bargaining Vote Scheduled

PORTLAND (AP)—A charter amendment to permit firemen to bargain collectively for improved wages and working conditions will not appear on the Portland election ballot this fall.

The City Council Monday voted 4-1 against the proposal with Mayor Dorothy McCullough Lee casting the lone vote for the firemen.

Commissioner Nate Body said he favored collective bargaining for private industry but not city governments.

What GI Bill Means For Korean Veterans

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
New Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Calling all Korean veterans—here's how to go about getting the benefits provided in your new GI Bill of Rights:

First, you are considered a Korean vet if you were on active duty after June 27, 1950, if you were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable and if you served at least 90 days—unless you got out sooner for a service-connected disability.

If you qualify, you have coming to you from Uncle Sam an education and training program, a guaranteed loan, unemployment compensation, mustering-out pay, and help in finding a job.

The education and training offer is worth most in dollars and cents. First step is to decide your educational or vocational goal. It can be getting a specific diploma or degree, graduation from a professional school or learning such trades as steamfitter or carpenter.

Next you must make sure that you will be accepted by the high school, college, professional school or vocational school which you plan to attend. You should also be sure that the school you select has been properly accredited by the State authorities. Most public institutions and established schools will be automatically approved for several months.

Some schools might not be approved at all. Approval for World War II veteran training does not constitute automatic approval for Korean vet training. Standards are more rigid under the new bill and all schools have to reapply.

When your goal is decided and your school is selected you must fill out an application blank which you can get at any VA office after the middle of August or from the schools, veterans organizations or Red Cross office. Form is self-explanatory. Copy of your service record or photostat must be sent along with it. For most Army vets the information is on the back of your discharge papers. For most Navy vets it's a special paper which has been given to you.

When your course is approved and your eligibility is established VA sends you a Certificate For Education and you are ready to go.

Getting a loan guaranteed is probably the easiest process to start, although it might be difficult to get. You can get one to buy or improve a home, farm or business. In most cases if a lender can't be found, VA will provide a direct loan.

Home loan maximum is up to 60 per cent of a loan with the guaranteed portion not exceeding $7500. Other real estate loans may be guaranteed up to 50 per cent with a $4000 maximum.

Non real estate loans may be guaranteed for up to 50 per cent with a $2000 ceiling.

All you do is decide what kind of loan you want and go to the lender. He does the rest, including the paperwork.

Your unemployment compensation—$676 maximum—and job-finding assistance are found at the same place. Go to the nearest state employment office. Unemployment pay doesn't start until after Oct. 15, but you are urged to go there immediately.

This office will explain your legal rights to your old job or start helping you to get a new job immediately.

Take with you to this state employment office your discharge papers, social security card if you have one, your mustering-out pay records and your work record for 18 months prior to entering the service.

Mustering-out pay of $100 to $300, depending on length of service, is due you if your rank was below major in the Army and lieutenant commander in the Navy.

Ike Says US Understanding Necessary For World Peace

By EDWARD O. ETHELL
DENVER (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says "the outlook is not too bright" for a durable world peace unless Americans gain a thorough understanding of the complex problems involved.

The Republican nominee told a news conference late yesterday he'll touch on the subject in every campaign speech.

"The great subject of peace and how to obtain it," the general declared, "overshadows all other subjects because it affects all others."

But efforts of newsmen to draw out details of Eisenhower's campaign plans got nowhere. The GOP standard bearer did say he expects to speak in Philadelphia but that no date has been set.

He repeated he will campaign in traditionally Democratic Dixie. And, in response to a question, he said no speech yet has been scheduled for Labor Day.

He indicated, however, that plans may be completed after a current round of conferences.

Yesterday he met with Southern backers and with Republican farm leaders in Congress. Last night, Arthur E. Summerfield, national GOP chairman, flew in with what aides said was a proposed itinerary for the next 30 days.

Harold Stassen, who campaigned unsuccessfully for the Republican nomination, is scheduled to arrive tonight and to have lunch tomorrow with Eisenhower.

One of those on the appointments list today was Allen Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Newsmen questioned Eisenhower about his conference with eight members of the House and Senate Agriculture Committees.

"We found ourselves in very general agreement," the general declared.

He added that a statement issued by the lawmakers would speak for him, saying, "I'm not stating in advance of the campaign my own particular ideas."

The congressman said in their statement that Eisenhower "is going to present positive, forward-looking farm policies." They also outlined no specific farm policy. One, however, Sen. Milton E. Young (R-ND), said Eisenhower told them he favors continuing some form of price supports of farm products.

For peace, Eisenhower declared the need is for "something positive and constructive." The world situation will, he added, "deteriorate without a positive approach."

The general said, "I'm not going to put myself in a position of being a messiah but I think the Republican party can do the better job."

He called for "a fresh new approach to the whole problem" and said that is one reason "for changing the whole works" of the national administration.

He stressed that he wants to build the Republican party but said that on November election ballots "Democratic X's make just as big marks as any other."

Final decision on how extensive his campaign will be in the South will be made after current studies of the situation are completed, he declared.

Eisenhower reported that the Southerners who met with him "don't think we're just going to sweep the South. But they all had the impression we have a fighting chance."

John Minor Wisdom, national GOP committeeman from Louisiana, said Eisenhower's best chance is to take Texas with a good political agreement," the general declared.

That Old Tie Is Still With Us

A headquarters order allows the soldiers to change into civvies only when visiting the homes of other Americans or British friends. And a coat and tie are mandatory.
