

Hundreds in Maryland Claim Taxation Without Franchise

FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — Three hundred families living on a nearby federal reservation have gone to court over their taxable but voteless status. They claim it constitutes "taxation without representation."

The families live at Camp Detrick, an Army Chemical Corps installation northwest of Frederick, taken under "exclusive jurisdiction" by the federal government in 1950.

The state of Maryland says that civilians living on the government reservation can't vote; that for the purpose of franchise they might as well be living outside the state's boundaries.

Yet the state expects those same

Drain Man To Sue Police

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP) — John Hill, Drain, Ore., intends to sue county officials here over the shot police fired into his car four miles south of here early Sunday.

He hired an attorney to seek damages for injuries to his wife and daughter and for damages to his car. The shot was fired when Hill drove through a roadblock set up by police.

Hill said he saw red lights at the road block, slowed to 15 miles an hour, but then thought it was a truck wreck, or possibly bandits, so he stepped on the gas after passing the scene, he said.

A shotgun fired by Chief of Police R. E. Lydon struck Hill's wife in the head with a pellet and his daughter in the leg. Both are expected to be released from a hospital Tuesday.

District Attorney William Crowell said police gave him a bill of particulars of the affair. He indicated he might file a complaint accusing Hill of running through a police blockade.

Crowell said Lydon fired because the "Hill car" went through the roadblock at between 70 to 80 miles an hour.

The blockade had been set up in hopes of capturing William Merle Martin, 42, who has been sought since the slaying of an Olathe, Kan., policeman.

Cancer Death Rate Declines

WASHINGTON (AP) — New evidence that the cancer death rate among women is declining slightly was reported today by the National Cancer Institute.

The institute issued a report on a survey in Dallas, Tex., and Dallas County, showing an 18 per cent increase in reported cancer cases in 1948 compared with 1938—but an increase of "only" 2 per cent in the death rate from the disease.

Also, while the death rate increased 8 per cent among men, it declined 3 per cent among women.

Woman Hurt In Strange Mishap

NEWPORT, Ore. (AP) — A woman was thrown out of an automobile in a collision near here. One of the cars then rolled over her.

Brought to the hospital here in a critical condition was Mrs. Helmut E. Ott, North Bend.

Her husband, told state police he lost control of his car, and it skidded into another driven by Mrs. Helen Mortenson, Newport. It was Ott's car that rolled onto Mrs. Ott.

Mrs. Mortenson and Ott escaped serious injury.

civilians to pay state income taxes, sales taxes, automobile titling taxes, and other state levies.

The state bases its stand on the federal Constitution and a Maryland Court of Appeals decision. The right of taxation, the state says, comes from an act of Congress that permits states to retain taxation rights even though the federal government controls the land in question in all other respects.

Camp Detrick residents, however, have filed suit in Frederick County Circuit Court seeking the restoration of their right to vote under the "taxation without representation" principle. They also want a judicial determination of other rights, including the answers to such questions as:

Are their estates subject to state inheritance tax? Can their wills be probated in Maryland? Can those suffering from mental illnesses or tuberculosis receive care in state institutions?

The outcome of the suit is expected to affect the status not only of Camp Detrick residents, but those living on government property in other states as well.

Injured Army Man Married

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a happy chapter in the story of the young Army corporal whose loss of both hands and both legs in the Korean fighting touched America's heartstrings.

Robert L. Smith, 22, of Middleburg, Pa., was married last night in the little chapel at Ft. Lincoln Cemetery to Barbara Born, a pretty 17-year-old brunette of Takoma Park, Md.

Bob and his bride-to-be drove up in his own car, which he drives with skill.

Four carolers inside the little chapel almost drowned out the voices of the two as they repeated the words of the minister. The Rev. Edgar W. Beckert of the First Methodist Church of Hyattsville, Md.

The wedding was a simple affair, with only two others besides the principals present: maid of honor Phyllis Anderson of Wheaton, and best man Stanley Born of Takoma Park.

The quadriplegic amputee and his bride met while he was in Walter Reed Army Medical Center. Barbara and a girl friend had gone to the hospital to take magazines to patients.

Park Named For Lampman

PORTLAND (AP) — The State Highway Commission intends to violate its own rule against naming state parks for people.

It agreed Monday to a Ben Hur Lampman State Park at Gold Hill. The city now has a city park named for Lampman, the state's poet laureate, former Gold Hill editor and long-time editorial writer for The Oregonian.

A delegation from Gold Hill proposed that the state take over the city park and buy an adjacent quarter-mile of Rogue River frontage to add to it. The commission agreed to the naming, and said it would try to see the additional land.

Cafe Society Vice Probe Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — Two more women, their identities a mystery, had roles today in a widening cafe society vice probe which officials say may bring more arrests and involve more "big names."

The women — one blonde, the other brunette, and both young — were questioned last night at the district attorney's office in the investigation which already has snared a young heir, a wealthy dress manufacturer, a self-styled actor and others.

After the two women left the office early today accompanied by a patrolman, Assistant Dist. Atty. Anthony J. Liebler declined to disclose their names.

He said they were "new to the case and that immediate announcement of their identities might run something we are working on."

Both women hid their faces behind newspapers with peep holes

State Children Top Givers

PORTLAND (AP) — Oregon school children outdid others in the U. S. in giving to the March of Dimes this year. The Oregon adults were not far behind.

E. T. Hedlund, state director of the 1952 campaign, reported Oregon school children averaged 25 cents each for a total of $42,500. At the top was Gilliam County with a 99-cent average, followed by Grant at 76 cents, Sherman and Lane at 71, and Douglas at 66.

The statewide per capita contribution was fourth in the country but the $640,000 total contributed by Oregonians was larger than the combined contribution of the three states with a higher average—Wyoming, Nevada and Idaho.

Game Money For Northwest

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than $300,000 has been set aside for three Pacific Northwest states and Alaska for restoration and development of wildlife resources, the Fish and Wildlife Service announced Monday.

The agency said the money will come from a $10,679,059 fund allocated for wildlife in the 48 states and territories and for administration of the Pittman-Robertson Act.

Under the act, states share in receipts from the 11 per cent federal excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition.

Allocations include Washington, $275,593; Oregon $245,938; Idaho, $203,710; and Alaska, $75,000.

New Appropriations Bill Puzzles Pentagon Brass

WASHINGTON (AP) — Puzzled Pentagon procurement officers are trying to determine just what Congress meant by a "Buy American" restrictive amendment tacked on this year's defense appropriation bill.

It involves wool mainly, but could have some effect on cotton.

The amendment specifies that wool and cotton textiles, including the raw materials, must be purchased in this country.

This applies so long as the government-required articles are available here in sufficient quantity and quality at U. S. market prices.

This country imports some 75 per cent of its apparel wool. And some years the military requirements are greater than the entire American production.

The amendment by Rep. Berry (R-S.D.), was offered to plug up what he termed a loophole in the Buy American act.

Berry said the armed services were buying items manufactured in this country from imported wool.

His amendment spelled out that the items must be fabricated from domestic wool so long as it is available. On the Senate side, cotton spokesmen got their product inserted alongside wool.

Price is the key to the wool problem.

Here's how one official, who asked to be anonymous, explained the situation:

Some might interpret the amendment to direct the procurement officers to approve purchase of U. S. wool with little regard for the price.

Others might say U. S. goods must be bought if the price is the same or cheaper than imported wool.

And still others might feel that a compromise is in order.

Some might feel that the amendment should be given the same interpretation as is spelled out in the Buy American act.

That is, that the American product be bought in preference to an imported item, unless the higher American cost is "unreasonable."

The procurement officers must

NO PROSPECT
JOHN DAY, Ore. (AP) — There is no prospect of an early settlement of the strike of 167 AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers at the John Day plant of the Blue Mountain Mills, union officials said Monday.

Liebler said last week that call girls involved in the cases had fees ranging up to $500 a night.

Short, also known as Richard Wallace, claimed he had played in the Danny Kaye movie, "The Kid From Brooklyn." But the producers of the film said they had no record of him.

Bail was set at $25,000 for Short, whose authorities described as a friend of Jelke.
