Klamath Republicans Rally, Hear Elliott, Cornett Speak

By HALE SCARBROUGH

About 120 local Republicans, many of them active party workers, turned out last night to hear talks by Mrs. Olive Cornett of Klamath Falls, GOP national committeewoman, and Bob Elliott of Medford, state Republican chairman, at a banquet at the Winema Hotel.

The occasion was a short kick-off rally for the coming general election campaign and was conducted by Wyatt Padgett, local GOP chairman.

Mrs. Cornett, a charming speaker, talked informally, telling of her experiences attending the Republican national convention in Chicago last month, while Elliott—who also attended the convention as a delegate and made a seconding speech for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower—discussed reasons for basic conflicts between wings of the Republican party at the convention and the work ahead for the party faithful in the campaign just now starting.

The 11 Western states, Elliott declared, are becoming a barometer of Republican politics. In recent years, he pointed out, as the Western states turn, so turn the national hopes of the Republican party.

In 1946 most of the Western states were Republican-led, and a Republican Congress was elected. In 1950 the West swung toward the Democrats, and the Democratic administration remained in power.

This year, Elliott said, it should be a Republican year, by that barometer. The party is in control in 10 of the 11 states of the West.

As for the convention and his role in it, Elliott was an Eisenhower floor worker all the way through, working under Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, Eisenhower's floor manager.

The Eisenhower floor organization reached such perfection, Elliott said, that on any important vote coming up, it could get delegations polled in a matter of five minutes and never miss a count over a vote or two.

In fact, he said, the floor organization had the vote on the ballot that finally nominated Eisenhower figured out in advance just exactly as it happened, with the first round of balloting bringing Eisenhower almost up to the point of nomination a vote changes swinging it over.

Mrs. Cornett's talk dealt with various sidelights of the convention, social events, delegate conferences and the like, and she declared that after the convention started she had to read the newspapers to learn what was going on. She said she had "one of the worst seats in the house, where I couldn't see, or hear."

Her work as a member of the national committee was done in the few days just immediately before the convention, and after it was done the delegates took the spotlight and left the national committee as bystanders.

In fact, she said, she only got to see the nominee, Gen. Eisenhower, after spending an hour in a reception line to shake hands with him. But later Mrs. Cornett had a 25-minute private interview with the general at his headquarters in Denver.

HST Says Corporation Tax Will Yield 3 Billion Less

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional money experts expressed surprise today at President Truman's estimate that direct taxes on corporations this fiscal year will yield three billion dollars less than he had figured in his budget seven months ago.

However, among the few lawmakers available for comment on the revised budget estimates released last night, none challenged the possibility that the drop-back point has been reached.

Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York, ranking Republican on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, said it had been evident to him for some time that retail business has been lagging. He observed that such a condition could hardly exist without a backlash on manufacturers.

Rep. Herman P. Eberhart of Pennsylvania, a ways and means Democrat, called the decrease in the probable take from corporations "unexpected." He said his personal opinion had been that business tax receipts would have been somewhat higher than the January estimate of $27,800,000,000.

The Budget Bureau's estimate of government income has run rather consistently lower than actual receipts in most recent years.

In his new look at the budget, Truman figured that not only receipts but spending and the year-end deficit are coming down. For the fiscal year which ends next June 30, he lowered his estimate of receipts from 71 billion dollars to $68,700,000,000; of expenditures, from $85,400,000,000 to 79 billion dollars; and of the deficit, from $14,400,000,000 to $10,300,000,000.

One exception to the downtrend was individual income taxes, which will bring in about $33 billion dollars, or half a billion more than the January estimate.

Truman said his current estimate that corporation taxes will bring in $24,800,000,000 instead of $27,800,000,000 was based on two factors: a lower estimate of corporation profits for calendar years 1951 and 1952, and added experience with the provisions of the excess profits tax of 15 and last fall's tax increase bill.

All but 100 million dollars of the estimated $6,400,000,000 decrease in expenditures was out of military funds, including foreign military assistance. Truman explained that there have been not only certain reductions in appropriations but "some slowing of military production resulting from the work stoppage in the steel industry."

Other segments of the budget were up or down a few hundred million dollars from the first - of - year estimates.

Rep. Reed said he drew two main conclusions from a preliminary examination of the President's figures:

1. That—barring a third world war—there must be "proper retrenchment to give the taxpayers necessary tax reductions."
2. That when tax rates are set too high, they bring in less revenue than they would if the levies were more moderate.

Klamath Tribe Council Meets

The Klamath Indian Tribal Council is scheduled to convene at 10 standard time tomorrow at the Beatty community gymnasium. It will be the third straight council meeting to be held at Beatty while the Klamath Agency hall is being renovated.

Matters on the agenda include swearing in new tribal officers elected last month; the report of Boyd Jackson, tribal delegate to Washington; timber matters; grazing permits and leases; enrollment matters and nominations for delegates to Washington.

A lunch is to be served at 11:30 a.m., standard time.

2 From Klamath Attend GOP Meet

Chuck Johnson and Ronald Schortgen of Klamath Falls are scheduled to attend the Young Republican Federation policy convention to be held in Prineville Sept. 13-14.

The convention, drawing delegates from the four Congressional districts and 30 Oregon cities, is to consider problems of agriculture, education, labor, natural resources, roads and highways, foreign policy and state and federal affairs.

are here again

... gas rates are coming down!

LATEST RATE CUT WILL SAVE OREGON CUSTOMERS $86,100 ANNUALLY

In contrast to the usual news of higher prices, your Utility Service Company is pleased to announce another gas rate reduction of 10.1%, which becomes effective after August 15th. Bills you will receive about September 1st will be the last billing at the old rate. This is the third cut in rates since the substantial rise in the cost of the fuel from which gas is made first caused gas rates to increase in July 1948.

New equipment with better operating efficiencies, recent lower fuel costs, and your greater use of our service are largely responsible for the lower rates, in spite of numerous increases in other items of expense. The new rates will wipe out most of the overall increase in gas rates which began in July 1948. Your gas rates will now be only 9.5% above the rates in use before inflation also hit our business.

Take advantage of the lower cost of this modern fuel in times like these... and remember—the more you use, the lower the unit cost.
