This and That About Women

"It's A Woman's World"

COME SEPTEMBER members of home extension units in Klamath County will be greeted by a brand-new home demonstration agent, Dolores Bracken, a "near" native Oregonian, born in Washington but resident of this state since she "turned" five winters. Miss Bracken, whose home is in Monmouth is a graduate of Oregon State, later set up the home economics department at the Oregon Fairview Home... was called to Germany in April 1949 as recreational director for the Army Special Services where she learned just enough German to "keep from going hungry"... saw much of the European continent.

She was agent at large for a time, was assigned to the home extension staff of Clackamas County, arrived here just last week. She is an avid collector of musical recordings, particularly foreign, knits socks, sings alto and plays the piano for her own amusement... likes folks.

Summer Blooms To Vie For Show Honors

"Indian Summer" will be the theme of the annual fall flower show sponsored by the Klamath Falls Garden Club.

Cream of the blooms in Klamath Falls gardens will be on display to the public, Monday, Aug. 25, in the city library auditorium. Doors will be open at 2 p.m. following decision of the judges.

Competition in all divisions is open to any interested persons and is not limited to members of the garden club.

All specimen exhibits must be grown by the exhibitor.

Ribbons, only, will be awarded; blue to go to the winners of first places; red, second; white, third. The decision of the judges will be final.

Mrs. Fred Karlson is club president.

Recordings New Books Heard Soon

Historical books that will bring the sounds of history, have been dramatized and recorded by the Enrichment Materials Inc., and will be broadcast soon over radio station KPLW. The announcement of this new feature offered by the city library was made this week by Addie Mae Nixon, librarian.

Four volumes will bring the sounds of wagon trains as they travel the barren wastelands of America, the frantic efforts of pony express riders to reach their posts against almost impossible odds, the shouting and the laughter of the immigrants. Little Lotta Cradree will sing her famous song heard in the mining camps, and Captain John Sutter speaks with his Swiss-German accent.

Recordings have been made of The Voyages of Columbus, Landing of the Pilgrims, the California Gold Rush and Riding the Pony Express.

Time and dates of the broadcasts will be announced later.

These are only a few of the Land Mark books at the city library that bring to life the great events in America's past; that give the reader an understanding of how the democracy that is America's heritage was forged.

There are 20 of these books: The Voyages of Christopher Columbus, Sperry; The Landing of the Pilgrims, Daugherty; Pocahontas and Captain John Smith, Lawson; Paul Revere and the Minute Men, Doro-

Delegate

Julie Harnden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harnden, Pacific Terrace, was one of two young women in Oregon chosen to represent the state at the All-States Girl Scout camp near Cody, Wyo.

Julie is a member of Klamath Falls troop No. 10. Camp dates were July 30 to Aug. 20.

The gathering was held at Buffalo Bill Scout camp, 44 miles west of Cody on the Yellowstone Park highway in a picturesque setting. Facilities of the camp included an attractive main lodge for recreation, floored tents for living accommodations and a spacious laundry house. The lodge of peeled pine has a fireplace at each end of the building and walls are covered with numerous hunting trophies, including bear skins, moose, antelope, big horn sheep and mountain goat heads.

The camp, located at an altitude of 6800 feet was completed in 1949 by prominent residents of the Rocky Mountain area.

Those attending camp climbed mountains, packed back into the woods, explored spots of interest, and rode horseback.

Eleven counselors assisted with activities.

Girls living in Julie's cabin were from Ohio, North Dakota, California, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Sylvia Schabel, Portland, was the second Oregon girl to make the trip.

PIE TIME

It's apple pie season and for something really super dupe make a single crust pie with a crumbly butter, flour and chopped walnut topping. For a 9-inch pie allow ¾ cup flour, and 1-3 cup each chopped walnuts, butter and brown sugar.
