Sunday Dinner—at the Yacht Club will be Louisiana Chicken Gumbo or barbecued veal. Please make reservations before noon Sunday with either Mike or Beulah at the club.

Correction—In a death notice published yesterday, it was reported that Fred Schneberger, who died in Oklahoma City recently, was the father of Mrs. Stella Perzell of Klamath Falls. That is incorrect. Mrs. Perzell is the niece of the deceased man. Funeral services for Schneberger were to be held this afternoon in Lawton, Okla.

Picnic—The Junior Athletic Association, School Districts 1 and 2, held its annual picnic at Collier Park Aug. 16. Forty-two members and guests were present.

"LIVE (?) STOCK" for the Junior Livestock Show gets going over by Judge J. Paul Matthews at yesterday's Rotary meeting. Paul Landry's leg made No. 2 choice grade in beef class, while Red Bussman (No. 1) and Don Kenyon (No. 3) look on. All three, incidentally, are candidates in the forthcoming city elections. Man holding cow skull is Bill DePew, chairman of the day's entertainment at Rotary.

Allies Reject Red Charges Of German Trade Restraint

BERLIN (AP)—The United States, Great Britain and France Saturday jointly rejected Soviet charges that they were taking measures to reduce trade between East and West Germany.

The charges were made by Soviet General of the Army Vasily Chuikov in a letter dated July 30.

U. S. High Commissioner Walter J. Donnelly said in his reply "I cannot understand or accept" the allegations that Western authorities are responsible for reducing the

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP)—Heavier receipts, weakness in dressed pork and very limited order buying combined to send hog prices lower this week.

Most barrows and gilts ended 75 cents to $1.00 lower, butchers weighing more than 300 pounds lost $1.50 to $1.75 and sows ended down $1.00 to $1.50.

Cattle receipts this week were the largest for any week this year. Included were some heavy steers which had been held back many weeks waiting for an improvement in the market.

Choice and prime steers closed steady to 50 cents lower. Slaughter steers and yearlings ended steady to 75 cents down.

Pigs broke in the live lamb trade on increased receipts and sharply lower prices in the dressed trade.

Choice and prime lambs lost about $1.50 while other grades tumbled $2.00 to $3.00.

Weather

Western Oregon—Partly cloudy Saturday; increasing cloudiness Saturday night with occasional light rain on the coast late Saturday night; showery Sunday; little temperature change; highs both days 72 to 85 interior and 69 to 68 on coast; low Saturday night 52 to 62; light southerly to westerly winds off the coast, becoming southerly to southwesterly 15 to 25 miles an hour and shifting to westerly Sunday.

Eastern Oregon—Partly cloudy Saturday with a few thundershowers over mountains; clear and cooler Saturday night; increasing cloudiness Sunday with scattered showers late Sunday; highs both days 82 to 92; low Saturday night 45 to 55.

Northern California—Fair through Sunday with local fog on coast; little temperature change; northwesterly winds 12 to 22 miles an hour off coast, except gentle in mornings.

Klamath Falls and Vicinity—Fair through Sunday; highs both days 80; low Saturday night 46.

Grants Pass and Vicinity—Fair through Sunday; highs both days 85; low Saturday night 58.

flow of trade between West and East Germany.

The Russians had accused the three Western powers of breaking the 1949 agreement that ended the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

General Chuikov—Soviet commander in East Germany—blamed a decline in trade between zones of the divided nation on western restrictions.

In his reply, Donnelly pointed to the existence of the two currently operative trade agreements between West and East Germany and declared:

"If there is a genuine desire on the part of the Soviet occupation authorities to maintain conditions conducive to the proper functioning of these agreements, there is every reason to be confident that the implementation thereof will be satisfactory to both East and West Germany."

Donnelly said, however, that "past and present evidence demonstrates that the interference of the Soviet occupation authorities with communications and traffic to and from Berlin had the inevitable effect of thwarting the development of healthy trade between West and East Germany."

He said "I am sure that it is not necessary to list for you the long and well-known record of harassment of Berlin by the Soviet occupation authorities."

Donnelly added: "Apart from the measures alluded to above, the Soviet occupation authorities have within the past six months instituted a series of drastic measures designed to seal off East Germany from West Germany, as against which emphatic protests have been made on several occasions."

FORT KLAMATH

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gray were her two brothers and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tower and daughter Darlene, and Mr. and Mrs. James Tower and son James Jr., who were overnight home guests at the Gray home Friday evening.

Chemult

The Chemult Gun Club held a Merchandise Shoot Sunday, Aug. 17 at their Beaver Marsh Trap Ground. Many members and several visitors were present for this Sunday event.

Traffic through Chemult since the opening of the new stretch on Highway 58 seems to have increased considerably. Many tourists are staying over two nights and taking in both Diamond and Crater Lakes. Several local families are seen quite often at the Diamond Lake Lodge, Campgrounds and swimming areas. Among them have been the R. E. Jessup, Mrs. C. Galbreath and children, Miss Jane Brader, the George Bourne and children. Mr. and Mrs. Grady Gooch and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto C. Buff, Salem, have been spending the summer at their summer home at Diamond Lake and come to Chemult quite regularly to shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bellavance were saddened by a death in Mrs. Bellavance's family Aug. 15. Her brother, Mr. Norman Treadway, died at 6 a.m. Friday morning at Bonners Ferry, Idaho. She left for the funeral with other members of the family who arrived from California. They were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Martin, Mrs. Clarence Moore and Mr. Everett Treadway.

Mr. and Mrs. George Talbot Jr., Alameda, Calif., have spent the past week visiting at the home of Mr. Talbot's sister, Mrs. R. E. Jessup.

Darlene Sporer and Mel Smith left early Saturday morning for the Antelope area near Brother, Reg. Both returned tired and dusty; they had a shot at a few but did not bag any this trip.

Mrs. V. I. Brader drove to Redmond Tuesday, Aug. 12, to attend the luncheon for officers of the Oregon Federation of Garden Clubs at which she was a guest. Mrs. Nelson of Bend accompanied her. They both attended the tea later given for Mrs. Franks, State President.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Waldron were weekend guest of the V.I. Braders. Mrs. Lew Williams returned recently from a brief trip to Boise, Idaho, to visit her daughter Mrs. R. D. French who recently presented her with a new grandson.

Mrs. Lorin Masten is visiting with friends in Portland this week. Her sons, Larry and Normie are visiting their grandmother in Bend. Mrs. Grant Damon returned Saturday after a trip to Portland.

Fish Hook Saves Life

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The story of how a fish hook helped save the life of a 12-year-old boy has been disclosed here.

The boy, James Chronister of Moreland, was fishing in Hacker Creek near here Wednesday afternoon. He stepped into water over his head and went down.

A nearby fisherman, F. M. Virden, saw the boy go down but he couldn't swim. He shouted for help.

About a hundred yards away E. V. Leavell heard the cry and came running up. He dived into the water but couldn't find the lad.

Then he seized a floating fishing pole to probe for the boy. He saved the pole a tug and dragged the boy from the water.

The fish hook was stuck in the boy's thumb.

Lee Hayes, a former living near the creek, revived young Chronister with artificial respiration.

Forest Fire Said Sleeper

Last Saturday's blaze on the Yawkey tract that burned over 19 acres of timberlands and which at first attributed to a man caused has been officially determined as a sleeper fire from lightning storms several weeks ago.

The blaze apparently had been smoldering for days in a tree not far from where busy logging operations were underway all week. But it was on a Saturday when the logging crews were away that it started out.

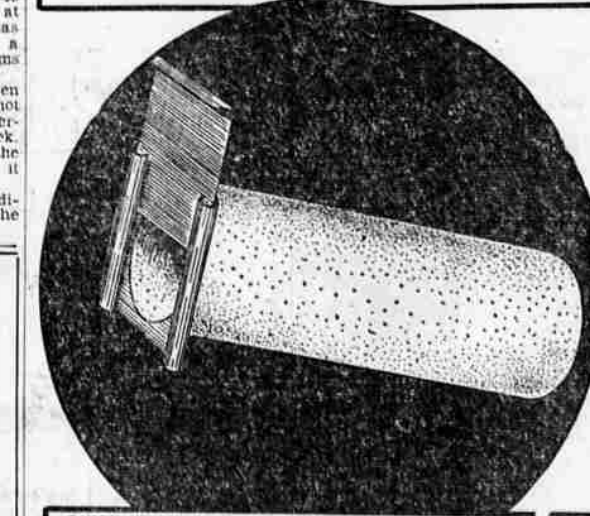

The heat of the day and conditions were just right to allow the flames to blossom out.

With his hay baler, Bob Wampler, Chiloquin, has also been working locally putting up hay for Alvin Copeland and at the William Zumburn ranch.

Ward Beecher Hessecock, Wallawa, arrived via Crater Lake stage here last Friday, leaving Sunday after visiting at the home of his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur B. Hessecock and children.

While working late Friday afternoon for R. A. Briggs and son of Myrtle Creek in their logging operations near Diamond Lake, Wesley J. Smith sustained painful facial injuries when he was struck on the jaw by a log. He was immediately rushed to Klamath Valley Hospital in Klamath Falls by a Briggs truckdriver, and was able to come home Saturday afternoon after X-rays showed no broken bones or serious results of the mishap. However, Smith will not be able to return to work for a few days, and is at his home here recovering from severe facial bruises. He is employed as a check setter in Briggs' woods operation.
