Circus Promoter Gets Hot Seat

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—A kid-style backyard circus wound up with a grand finale that couldn't have been more spectacular had it been planned by P. T. Barnum himself.

The ringmaster, 11-year-old Billy Davis, came tumbling out of a tree whose 15 feet above the heads of his audience with his pants on fire.

Billy said later that he and three of his promoters had planned a "flaming torch" act to end the show. Their equipment was a jar of gasoline and a match.

Man Attempts Lonely Voyage

CASABLANCA (AP)—Alone on a frail raft, French Dr. Jean Bombard drifted today toward the Canary Islands 500 miles southwest of here. With America as his ultimate goal, he hopes to prove that shipwreck victims can live on what they can find in the sea.

A yacht towed him out to the open sea off Casablanca harbor yesterday and he disappeared into a fog. Oldtime fishermen had advised him to wait for more favorable winds, but Bombard insisted on showing off.

He plans to drift from the Canaries toward North or Central America, he explained, and wants to reach the Caribbean before the typhoon season.

He carried a box of American Army rations. He said the 24-day emergency food supply was a reserve mainly for the leg of the voyage beyond the Canaries and would be used only if he were caught in the circular currents of the middle Atlantic, where he might not be able to catch any fish.

His gear also included a filter to trap plankton, a tiny sea organism on which smaller fish live. He hopes to find some nourishment from the plankton in case fishing is poor.

SEARCH FOR QUAKE VICTIMS—Volunteer rescue workers search through the rubble at the entrance to Lerner's store minutes after a woman victim of the earthquake which hit Bakersfield, Calif., had been removed from the debris. First reports showed two dead and many injured. Unofficial estimates placed damage in millions of dollars.

Agents Weeping Over Loss Of Marilyn Monroe Check

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Laugh Parade, a few years before she happily Marilyn Monroe hit stardom, the story is going around, she permitted herself to be placed under contract to a publicity man and a talent agent.

Neither of the men exactly turned over the town in an effort to get a contract for the lass who's the nation's No. 1 box-office attraction.

So one Sunday morning, Marilyn drove up to their apartment in a taxi. She was flat broke, she said, and there was nothing in her pantry but a box of cornflakes.

"So if you'll lend me 20 cents for a bottle of milk and pay the taxi man for the trip here and the trip back," she added, "I won't bother you anymore."

Next day, the boys decided to tear up Marilyn's contract.

Price Hikes May Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Sawyer says that prices of consumer goods probably will increase much the rest of this year, but suggests the long-term trend still may be upward.

"Major price changes are not indicated for the balance of this year," said Sawyer, summing up results of a survey by the department on the effects of the 56-day steel strike that ended July 26.

Despite the $5.20 a ton steel price increase that went along with the settlement, the survey showed many businessmen plan to absorb all or part of the higher metal cost rather than try to pass it along to the public.

Sawyer gave this reason: "It is clear that general refusal on the part of the consumer to pay higher prices would make price increases impossible to maintain."

The possibility of higher prices in the more distant future, he indicated, depends on whether a general round of wage and price boosts is now beginning or ending.

But he said the effects of the steel settlement have been "negligible" so far and that "alarmist" statements or actions are not warranted and not helpful.

Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall, who had favored a smaller steel price increase, said after the settlement that it would cost the average American family $100 a year.

Arnall said yesterday the cost of living now is at the highest level in history—and is continuing to rise.

Theives Take Cash, Hubcaps

MONEY, war bonds and hub caps were the loot in a variety of thefts reported to City Police over the weekend.

Henry Hansen, 224 N. 4th, told police his apartment was apparently entered sometime early Sunday morning, between 3:30 a.m. and 9 a.m., and his wife's purse was stolen.

The purse, he said, contained around $300 in $20 bills, two $100 war bonds, various cards bearing the identification of his wife, Helen Marie Hansen, and a set of keys to the American Legion club.

A short-time later Joe Schamburger, 224 N. 4th, who has the apartment next to the Hansens, reported that about $20 had been taken from his clothing.

In another house prowling Saturday night, Mrs. Leslie Walker, 2245 Union, told police someone took a billfold from her purse, containing several negotiable checks.

Joe Matthews, 1209 Pine, reported off his car Saturday night while the car was parked in front of his residence; Bud Chidester, 2721 Altamont, had two Ford hubcaps stolen last night from his car parked in the Tower Theater lot, and Francis W. Russ, 4425 Peak, reported two Pontiac hubcaps taken from his car last night, also at the theater parking lot.

Egypt Premier Offers Talks

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Premier Aly Maher says he expects to open talks with Britain about the Anglo-Egyptian dispute over the Suez Canal zone and the Sudan in three months — after he has cleaned up the "economic mess" in Egypt and prepared for new elections.

The Premier told a news conference last night that, in setting a tentative date for formal talks between the two countries, he hopes conditions in Egypt will be returned to normal by that time.

His announcement of a delay in formal negotiations did not dampen optimism in official and diplomatic circles over possible growing co-operation between Egypt and the West. Rather, the delay was looked on as an indication that unofficial diplomatic contacts between Egypt and Britain are making headway.

The Egyptians repeatedly have demanded that Britain withdraw from the canal zone and Sudan. The British have sought a joint defense system for the canal and insisted that the Sudanese must determine their own future government.

Rosalind Russell Okay's Work On Movie Locations

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After nearly breaking her leg on one, you'd think Rosalind Russell would lose her enthusiasm for movie locations. But not Ros.

"I'm simply wild about locations," said the actress, who talks at a rate just under the speed of light. "Why, do you know that in 39 pictures I had never been on location before? They always said I would go, then at the last minute they'd send doubles."

"Now I'd like to do all my pictures on location. Just pick up and go to Spain or Mexico or someplace. Pictures are so much more real when they're filmed in the actual place of the story. It's stimulating to the actors."

Miss Russell shows remarkable perseverance. She just returned from locating with "Never Wave at a Wac" at Camp Lee, Va., training center of the Women's Army Corps. The heat was so intense that shoes would sink in marching area blacktop.

"When we first got there, the girls in the cast went through the drill," Miss Russell related. "The heat was over 100 degrees and climbing, but we drilled six hours a day for three days. We didn't mind it at all, until we discovered we were using muscles we had never used before."

In one scene, she took a tumble, and it was feared that she had broken her leg. Tests proved otherwise, but she has a large, Z-shaped wound that will leave a permanent scar. She was back at work without upsetting the production schedule.

Ike Writes Own Speech

NEW YORK (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower dictated the first draft of the speech he prepared for today's American Legion convention speech during a plane trip from Denver to Gallup, N. M., on Aug. 10.

He flew to Gallup that day to attend the 31st annual Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial.

On the way from Denver, he sat in the front seat of the plane and dictated to a stenographer for over an hour.

On the return trip, he went over the draft and revised it.

Subsequently he worked it over again—several times.

Eisenhower aides said the Legion address was written almost entirely by Eisenhower—with very little of the usual help from professional speech writers.

The largest number of victories registered by a pitcher without a defeat during a season was made by Tom Zachary of the Yankees in 1920. His record was 12-0.
