RUSSELL TISDALE

Promotion For Bank Manager

Russell H. Tisdale, manager of the Klamath Falls branch of the First National Bank of Portland, has been elevated to vice president and will continue as manager of the branch along with added responsibilities.

In making the announcement, F. N. Belgrano Jr., president of First National, complimented Tisdale by pointing to his many steps of progress through the years and his broad experience in banking. This advancement, Belgrano added, has been well earned through Tisdale's excellent service to the families, businessmen, and farmers of the Klamath Falls area.

Tisdale has had over 30 years of banking experience, all with First National. Starting as a bookkeeper at the Portland Main Office in 1922, he worked in various departments gaining experience in all phases of banking. He was promoted to assistant cashier in 1932 and moved to the Southeast Portland branch the same year. In 1936 he transferred to the Hillsboro branch as manager and moved to Albany in 1938 to assume managerial duties at that branch, remaining there until 1948 when he came to Klamath Falls.

Tisdale is active in many community and civic affairs. He is present director of the chamber of commerce and YMCA, 1952 campaign chairman of the Red Cross, and president of the Knife and Fork Club. He is also a member of the Oregon chapter of the AIB, Kiwanis, Elks, and the American Legion.

News Scarce; Johnson Revives Jokes

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Latest TV verse—

If I die from a comic's joke,
Just give me a simple burial,
And kindly mark my grave
With a half-mast TV aerial.

Old, but worth reviving:

A gentleman with a cocker spaniel on a leash went to a movie theater box office, purchased two tickets and then led the dog to a pair of aisle seats. The dog was a terrific audience—applauding, laughing and crying at just the right moments.

Fascinated, the theater manager whispered to the gent:

"Do you mean to tell me your dog likes this movie?"

"Yes," said the hound's owner. "And I'm surprised—he didn't care for the book at all."

A new maid just hired by a movie king left him the following note: "Miss Anna Lizst telephoned."

It took the actor all that day to figure it out. He had received a call from his female psychoanalyst.

When Harpo and Chico Marx opened a night club stand at the Mapes Hotel in Reno, one telegram read:

"Good luck from Groucho, Gummo and the Collector of Internal Revenue."

A Miss Vinegar hissed it at Las Vegas as Frank Sinatra and Ava Gardner passed by:

"Ah, the balding Topsy and Ava."

Gracie Allen held a flying saucer in her hand for 15 minutes on an air liner and couldn't see anything to make such a fuss about. The coffee cup in the saucer was very ordinary, too, she said.

Somebody took a black crayon and changed the "Every Ounce an Actress" line in the theater posters for Marilyn Monroe's new starrer, "Don't Bother to Knock."

It now reads: "Every BOUNCE an Actress."

A brunet star who doesn't like Shelley Winters purred it when somebody mentioned at a party that Shelley was going to appear in a Hollywood stage production of "A Streetcar Named Desire":

"The Marlon Brando part?"

Sign on a Hollywood shoe-shine parlor:

"A true work of art is but a shadow of divine perfection."

Warm dialog department from the script of "Loan Shark":

George Raft, dancing with Dorothy Hart: "It's kinda dangerous, being this close to you."

Dorothy: "Oh, I think you've cooled off now."

Raft: "Only the top burner. The oven's still warm."

Frank Fontaine heard a network TV announcer say: ". . . and now, a word from our sponsor who has made this program impossible."

Richard Greene told pal Humphrey Bogart he was heading north for a magazine layout showing him panning gold.

Bogey growled: "Have fun. Only make sure you don't work any of Crosby's locations."

An agent was high-pressuring Claude Binyon on a supposedly new actress.

"This dame is terrific," the agent said, "once she gets known she'll mop up at the box-office."

"Okay, then," said Binyon. "I'd like to see some of her work—hand her a mop."
