Nationalist Chinese General Tells Of Guerrilla Activity

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—A Chinese Nationalist military source says about 2,000 island-based Nationalist guerrillas are conducting commando-type raids "at least every other day" against the Communist mainland.

The source, a general officer in the Mainland Works Department, said the guerrillas get supplies from Formosa and are in daily radio contact with Taipei headquarters.

The Mainland Works Department is a little publicized branch of the Nationalist Defense Ministry. The department controls guerrilla activities on the islands skirting the mainland, along the Yunnan-Indochina border and in South China.

The general, who asked that his name not be used "because the Communists know too much about me already," said the purpose of the raids was to tie down regular Communist army troops so that Peiping cannot use them in Korea or elsewhere.

He said the guerrillas operate in small groups, staging lightning raids against Communist granaries, warehouses, rail lines and supply depots.

"They burned 3,000 barrels of gasoline last year," the general said, "gasoline for which the Reds had to pay high prices."

In addition to the 20,000 island-based guerrillas and 100,000 in and on the border of South China, the general said there are some 420,000 guerrillas with no direct or official connection with the Mainland Works Department.

"Occasionally we air-drop supplies to those units, but not very often as they are not officially a part of our organization," said the general.

The M. W. D. maintains raiding bases along a 400-mile stretch from the Quemoy Island group opposite Amoy to the Tacheng Island group opposite Taichow in North-east Chekiang Province. The general said all the islands are within 20 miles of the mainland.

The usual Red order of defense, he said, is a triple-tiered system with guerrillas along the coast, communications troops a few miles inland and regular army troops in the rear.

"But now they've been forced to move their troops right up to the coast. We know for a fact that Communist 21st Army units are among them. That's what we want them to do when we really invade. Their best troops will be right on the coast, just where we want them."

Recent Communist broadcasts have admitted that guerrilla activities are particularly widespread in South China.

Lutheran Young People Meet In Klamath Falls

Two hundred or more young people are expected to be in Klamath Falls this weekend to attend the annual state convention of the Walther League, youth group of the Lutheran Church in Missouri, synod.

The young people of Zion Lutheran will be hosts.

Visiting members of the Walther League are to begin arriving tonight and tomorrow morning, traveling by Greyhound bus and in private cars. They will be housed on the Oregon Tech campus and the planned business sessions and recreation will also be centered there.

They will come into Klamath Falls Sunday morning to attend a special 9:30 a. m. youth service at Zion Church. Rev. Richard Graef will speak.

Robert Sylwester, a Vancouver, Wash., teacher, is president of the group and will preside over business sessions. Rev. William Naats of Portland will serve as leader of morning worship services, and Rev. Kenneth Korby of Medford leader of evening vesper services.

The games and athletic events of recreation periods will be supervised by Bob Becker, a theological student at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, who is at present a student pastor at the University of Oregon and assistant pastor at Grace Lutheran, Eugene.

Rev. H. H. Englebrecht, Sherman Oaks, Calif., will represent Chicago headquarters of the Walther League and inform the convention of the church's youth work on the national and international scene.

Instead of the usual formal atmosphere so common to conventions, the Zion host committee has planned to have its guests sort of camp out during their stay here. Dinner is to be served informally.

Games such as softball, badminton, volleyball, basketball, croquet and ping pong are planned for after-session diversion. A camp stunt night is to replace the usual spectator entertainment after the Sunday night banquet in the OTI auditorium.

Plans for this convention have been made by district youth leaders, the pastor and officers of Zion Lutheran, Wally Wunder, president of the local league, and Don Adams, housing officer at Oregon Tech.

Cooperation is also being obtained from other officials at OTI and the Klamath Bus Company.

The Walther league consists of almost 4,000 individual societies in the United States, Canada, Mexico and England, and has some 100,000 members.

In recent years the projects carried on by the league have been many: $50,000 to inaugurate the International Lutheran Hour; $15,000 to the Valparaiso University law library; $300,000 for the construction of Wheatridge tuberculosis sanitarium and its maintenance; $100,000 for a Lutheran youth building in Chicago; $120,000 for work among servicemen during World War II; $100,000 for the Lutheran Youth Mission, a program of sharing Christianity with the youth of war-torn countries currently being undertaken.

Another great program now underway is the training of Lutheran youth leaders to train Christian young people to take their place in American life as good citizens and in the church as leaders.

The Klamath Falls convention will be concluded Monday with a sightseeing trip to Crater Lake.

VA To Study Flax Fibres

WASHINGTON (AP)—Veterans Administration will inspect samples of fiber flax carpeting to determine whether it meets requirements for hospitals.

That means, a VA official said, it may still be able to use Oregon fiber flax for rugs and carpets in hospitals. A call for bids to supply carpets and rugs using seed flax only has been cancelled, he said.

The cancellation was asked by Oregon congressmen and Leon Raesly, Washington representative of the Oregon Flax Textiles of Salem, Ore.

The VA said because of wheel chair and blind patients it needs a floor covering which doesn't roll up easily or curl.

Truman Won't Visit Lebanon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service, which had reported it hoped President Truman would go to Lebanon, Ore., to dedicate a new hospital, and it had received word Thursday the president had a prior commitment.

The White House also said the president could not make the trip. The hospital is the 1000th built with Hill-Burton Act funds.

HALL SENTENCE AFFIRMED

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. Circuit court of appeals in a two to one decision Thursday affirmed the three-year sentence imposed on Gus Hall, one of 11 top Communists.
