

Upper Klamath Lake

A beautiful lagoon of sparkling clear water at Harriman Lodge. In the boat are (l to r) Warren Waldorf and Fred Fleet. Ashore is Miriam Goddard.

A scene along the lake's west shore.

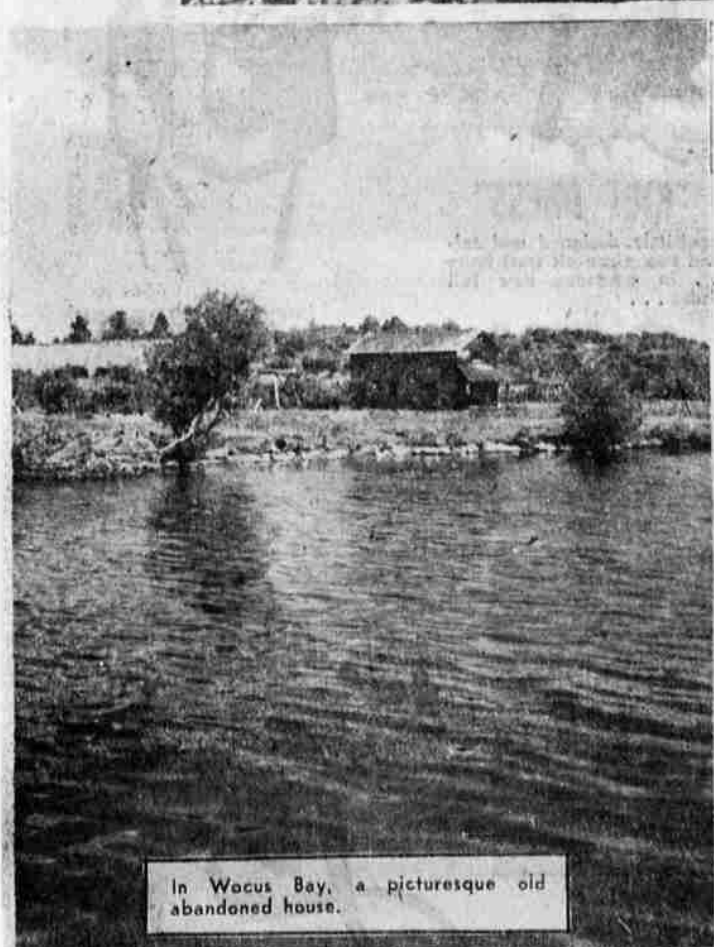

R. H. Cotter, an ardent lake sportsman, shows a great catch to Lillian and Mrs. Cotter.

This largest natural fresh water lake west of the Rockies holds vast possibilities to become one of the nation's top recreation spots. The lake has a 94-mile shoreline. Pictures on this page were taken during a two-day tour of the lake aboard Fred Fleet's cabin cruiser.

Rocky Point and Point Comfort are popular vacation spots along the upper end of the lake.

In Wocus Bay, a picturesque old abandoned house.

Miriam Goddard enjoying a cruise on the lake.

Water skiing is a popular lake sport. Here Paul (Big Foot) Hilton does a difficult reverse stunt as Beite Pinniger watches from an accompanying boat.
