

NEWCOMERS—to Klamath Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart C. (Stew) Bowie, who will be identified with the social as well as business life here. With their son and daughter, they will move here from Baker to make their home when Bowie takes over the management of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, replacing C. E. (Chuck) Seavey, who has been transferred to Portland. Pictured at a going away party for the Seaveys at the Yacht Club. —Photo by Kettler

MRS. L. B. O'ROURKE—from San Francisco, recently was a visitor at the Marion Barnes home in Olene, and at the home of her niece Mrs. Nell Kinney on Eberlein Street. The charming guest, who has seen 82 active years, is a lifelong friend of Mrs. Barnes' family, the Allison, of Colorado. She is also the sister of the late George Williams, pioneer Spring Lake farmer. Tuesday, Mrs. Leonard Kinney gave a luncheon at her Alva Street home, for Mrs. O'Rourke, with Mrs. Nell Kinney, Mrs. Amanda Duffy, Mrs. Marion Barnes as the other guests. —Photo by Kettler

SUCCESSFUL FISHING—for the Dr. Ray Oldenburgh family—when Dr. and Mrs. took their Jean Rae and Diane on a summer-wind-up vacation—most of it in Canada — 3 day stop in Victoria — then to Campbell River—picturesque mecca for "salmon-and-trout-happy" fishermen—where Dad and Diane each caught a coho (spunky salmon) and Gene and Jean Rae caught trout—A week later took a boat at night from Nanaimo at 11 p.m.—although only 3 hrs. to Vancouver—leaving port in early a.m. sleeping accommodations are provided—4 days in Vancouver with Gene's mother and sister — Mrs. Banks and Marg Banks—recently moved there from Halifax — to Penitence via Harrison Hot Springs etc.—one highlight was swimming in a lake situated in the center of a town—but THE highlight was when—in their travels they picked up a budgie—a bird in the parakeet family—a beautiful little character feathered in heavenly blue—To his pedigree is English—he is now an American citizen and is formally named "Ike Eisenhower Oldenburgh"—and since he's a talking bird and quite vain—he'll soon say "I LIKE IKE!!!" (we hope).

Joyce Werner Bridal Showers

A bridal shower honoring Joyce Werner, bride-elect of Skip Johnson of Roseburg, formerly of this city, was given Thursday evening, August 14, in the parlors of the Klamath Lutheran Church.

Hostessing the affair were Mrs. Arthur Oberg and Virginia Oberg. Arrangements of gladioli and crysanthemums were used about the room, and the centerpiece on the gift table was a parasol, which was covered with pastel sweetpeas.

After the guest-of-honor had opened her gifts, guests were served refreshments at a table highlighted by a fan-shaped bouquet of gladioli and a miniature bride doll, dressed in white satin. On the invitation list were: Mrs. Jonas Waldin, Mrs. Hilding Nelson, Mrs. Ted Nancarrow, Mrs. Axel Jacobson, Mrs. Enoch Johnson, Mrs. Ole Selstrom, Mrs. Gunnar Johnson, Mrs. Sverre Munson, Mrs. Henry Solle, Mrs. Oscar Solle, Mrs. Dick Carlson, Mrs. Lars Matson, Mrs. Carl Carlson, Mrs. Swan Olson, Mrs. Fred Leberg, Mrs. Art Lund, Mrs. Ethel Forsgren, Mrs. Swan Erickson, Mrs. Richard Anderson, Mrs. Ed Fred, Mrs. Gust Backstrom, Mrs. Axel Nelson, Mrs. Otto Clawson, Mrs. Albert Clawson, Mrs. Paul Lund, Mrs. Gordon Lund, Mrs. Bill Alexander, Mrs. Cass Murock, Mrs. Joe Matlick Sr., Mrs. Joe Matlick Jr., Mrs. Dean Matlick, Mrs. John Berg, Mrs. John Berglund, Mrs. Pete Eastman, Mrs. Paul Norstrom, Mrs. K. A. Carlson and Mrs. Eugene Balie.

A COMPLETE SURPRISE—to their friends in Klamath was the news of the marriage in Portland Monday—August 25—of Ernest L. Kolbe to Peggy Parks—Ernie was stationed here for several years as Western Pine Assoc representative — and his bride whose home is in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania — spent several months here as a WAVE during World War II—when she met her "future"—No details since the news came to close friends here in the form of a telegram—the event leaves a large number of matchmakers out of employment who for a number of years have been striving to find just the right wife for the "eligible but elusive Mr. Kolbe." It is believed that the newlyweds will make their home on the bridegroom's farm just out of Portland—where his present headquarters are for his present assignment with Western Pine.

Suburban Sirens

The regular meeting of the Suburban Sirens was held Monday, August 18, at the fire station on Gettle Street. Plans were completed for the potluck dinner to be held Thursday, August 28. Members present were: Florence Masters, Elsie Warren, Donna Carr, Helen Nelson, Jerry King, Oma Lee Buck and Martha Cassidy.

Golden-Schumacher

Barrett-Robbins

(Continued from page 6) A plum barathea afternoon ensemble, matching hat and gloves, gray accessories, and a cluster corsage of purple cattleya orchids, was worn by Mrs. Schumacher to her daughter's wedding.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Golden, chose a slate gray crepe ensemble, angel blue hat, black accessories, and her corsage was the same as Mrs. Schumacher's. A pink champagne brunch reception at Greenbrier, Garden Grove, followed the wedding. The receiving line was in front of the carved fireplace decorated with large arrangements of shell pink gladioli, tuberoses and petal pink carnations. The bridal table was centered with an arrangement of gladioli and tuberoses between silver candelabra with pale pink candles, garlanded with smilax and shatterd pink carnations. The tiered pink wedding cake was decorated with icing rosebuds in pink and white, and a garland of smilax and scattered pink carnations surrounded the base. The 132-year-old heirloom cake plate on which the cake was placed, belongs to Mrs. Louise Eymann, aunt of the bride.

The new Mrs. Golden's going away ensemble was a navy blue antique taffeta, matching accessories, lemon beaver hat and she wore a shoulder corsage of yellow throated white orchids. After a weekend in La Jolla, the couple sailed on the Lurline for a month's stay at the Surfside Hotel on Waikiki Beach, Hawaii. They will be at home on the Golden Acres Ranch, Murriets, Calif. Elaine is a graduate of Marywood High School and Immaculate Heart College, a member of Kappa Gamma Delta sorority, and was vice president of Associated Students. Jack was graduated from Tululake High School and University of Southern California. He is affiliated with Chi Phi fraternity and is a member of Trojan Knights.
