Scientists Tabulate Best Years Of Life

By FRANK CAREY
 AP Science Reporter
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Your best chances of having an annual income of a million dollars or more will come when you are between 80 and 89 years old, an Ohio University psychologist reported today.

Dr. H. C. Lehman presented statistics to the annual meeting of the American Psychological Association (APA) showing that in general, people who become bigshots in politics, diplomacy, college administration, military life, industry, commerce and the high courts of the land usually are at least 80 years old.

But—He also reported that a man's best years for producing creative work—like writing books, painting pictures, or doing big things in science—are usually in the thirties or early forties.

AMA Journal Assails TV: Could Be Cause of Illness

CHICAGO (AP)—The Journal of the American Medical Association took a swipe today at some of television's crime - and - horror programs, saying they could endanger the health of the nation's children.

"Unfortunately, astonishing little research has been done on the medical and psychological impact of television on children," the Journal said in an editorial.

The Journal said that "for its own interest" the television industry should acknowledge the "adverse medical and psychological implications" found in many such programs.

"It should foster research on the impact of television on mind and body, and should make a sustained effort to avoid programming shows potentially dangerous to the health of the nation's children," the editorial said, adding:

"Indeed, the television industry would do well to be advised to accomplish this voluntarily and as rapidly as possible in order to neutralize the growing hue and cry for government regulation and its attendant evils of censorship."

The Journal cited two studies in its conclusions:

1. A survey made by TV Magazine of television programs on Los Angeles stations the week of May 24-30.

2. A survey made by Dr. M. I. Preston in 1941 on the effects of movie horror and radio crime shows on children.

It said the TV Magazine survey showed that in one week Los Angeles stations carried 852 major crime incidents, in addition to innumerable saloon brawls, sluggings and assaults and other "minor" acts of violence. Seventy-five per cent of the crime deluge was on programs for children.

The editorial said Preston's study showed that in the group of 153 children subjected to horror movies and radio shows, 76 per cent showed increased nervousness, 85 per cent suffered from sleeping disturbances, fears were increased five-fold in 94 per cent, and 51 per cent were found to be nightmares. The Journal added:

"Up to the age of 12, common reactions included retreating to the mother's bed for comfort and reassurance, screaming, pulling the bedcovers over the head, burying the head under a pillow, or diving under the covers; there to spend an uneasy night plagued by vivid recollections."

The Journal said Preston's study showed the children exposed also suffered from lack of appetite, scholastic difficulties and increased irritability. It added:

"As early as the seventh year it was noted that habitual exposure often produced a callousness to the suffering of others and an atrophy of sympathy and compassion toward those in distress."

Ike Home In Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mamie Eisenhower says she and her husband, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, now consider Gettysburg, Pa. their permanent home, no matter where they may go in the future—even the White House.

Talking with a group of Pennsylvania girls from the Young Republican Club yesterday while the GOP presidential candidate was touring Philadelphia, Mamie said of the farm at Gettysburg:

"The house is mine and I love it and the trees around it. Some of my friends are trying to persuade me to build a new place on one of the hills but I tell in love with the old house first."

The Eisenhowers are co-owners of a farm at Gettysburg with George S. Allen, one-time adviser to President Truman.

Md. Governor Backs Adlai

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP)—Sen. O'Connor (D-Md.), who has freely criticized the Truman administration, says he will take the stump for the Democratic presidential nominee, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

O'Connor is retiring from his Senate seat after a single term. In announcing last January he would not seek re-election, O'Connor said he wanted "to be free to speak frankly and bluntly" about proposals of the Truman administration for "socialization of medicine, of education, of public utilities and other economic activities."

His endorsement of Stevenson made obvious to the Truman administration would be quite different from the Truman administration.

O'Connor said that in an exchange of letters, Stevenson had asked for his "all-out aid."

The senator made his announcement backing Stevenson yesterday, while here recuperating from a recent illness.

Killer Gets Life Sentence

ALBANY, Ore. (AP)—A used car salesman pleaded guilty to second degree murder Friday in the death of a fellow salesman and was sentenced to life in prison.

Norman Wilson Mickey, who had pleaded innocent to first degree murder in the Aug. 28 death of Cecil V. Wynn, entered an atrophy of sympathy and compassion toward those in distress.

Judge Victor Oliver called four witnesses to determine whether there was insufficient evidence of premeditation for the first degree charge. The witnesses said there was no apparent fight and if there was bad feeling between the two it perhaps stemmed from Mickey's feeling.

All of a sudden, they said, Mickey picked up a stick and hit Wynn. Mickey at the time said his eyesight was so bad he had to use a stick instead of his fists.

Check For $99,000 Lost

BRISTOL, R. I. (AP)—A check for $99,000, missing somewhere in the U. S. postal system.

The check, representing net proceeds of a $100,000 town sewer bond issue, was mailed to the town July 23 by the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company.

The Town Council gave up trying to track it down last night. It authorized a bond to indemnify the bank so it could send the town a new one.

Aluminum Loses Power

PORTLAND (AP)—All of the Bonneville power system's interruptible energy will be lost Friday night by the 14 Northwest Aluminum and other plants which were getting it, Paul J. Raver reported Friday.

Raver, Bonneville administrator, said the continuing drop in the river had brought the power output down to a point where the 376,000 kilowatts of surplus power had vanished.

Wednesday he announced the dropping of 300,000 kilowatts of interruptible power which he viewed as cutting sharply into the aluminum production of the Northwest—perhaps as much as a third. The rest of it is to be cut off Friday night.

The supply of firm power may be threatened if the rivers fail to get a build-up from rain, Raver said.

Bing and Bob Fill Roads With Playful Gags Galore

By DOROTHY LAMOUR
 For ERSKINE JOHNSON, who is on vacation

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—People often ask me what it's like to work with Bing Crosby and Bob Hope in those "Road" pictures we make for Paramount, as most of you probably suspect. These highways are paved with a million laughs. The only trouble is that most of the yaks are at my expense.

Like the day I was being psychoanalyzed for a scene in "Road to Rio." I was in the car, and in the sequence, the boys ask me to lie down, close my eyes and recall incidents from my past.

"I remember when I was a girl of 14," I began.

"That's as far as I got. Before I could continue, Bob turned to the crew and gleefully shouted:

"Boy, what a memory she's got!"

But that's milk compared to some of the other gags they have pulled on me during the years.

When we made "Road to Singapore," for example, they introduced me to a man who was supposed to be a correspondent for one of the leading French newspapers. They told me he had an assignment to write a profile of me and urged me to be nice to him because he was "one of the most influential newspapermen of Europe."

I spent the entire lunch hour and the rest of the afternoon giving him my life story. When he finished, he thanked me politely, kissed my hand and then told me to drop dead. Needless to say, the "Frenchman" was one of their old vaudeville pals and a professional ribber.

They still remind me of the trick they played on me during the filming of "Road to Morocco," the film that featured the talking camels. One afternoon we finished shooting early and went to the projection room to view the "rushes" (film we had shot on previous day).

When one of the camels came on and opened its mouth, guess what came out. My voice singing "Moonlight and Shadows."

The screwballs had taken the sound track of the number from my first film, "Jungle Princess."

Hollywood's Latest Feud Between Lanza and MGM

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Talk of the feud between Mario Lanza and MGM.

Such hassles are always good fuel for conversation in Hollywood, which clearly loves a fight. Commented Humphrey Bogart: "Lanza's working it all wrong. He should have decided long ago whether or not he wanted to do the picture ('The Student Prince'). But it's not a good idea to walk out on a picture after it has started. Fight with 'em first."

Bogart should know. His running battle with Warner Brothers has endeared the town for more than a decade, and he is tops as a tactician in studio battles. But despite a dozen or more suspensions, he still retains a contract with Warner. That is seldom true with other studio battles.

MGM has had more than its share of temperamental stars. A notable case was Judy Garland. The studio put up with her outbursts during the lush days, but turned a firmer stand when times began to get tough. One day she failed to show up after lunch to the "Annie Get Your Gun" set. She was ousted from the picture and replaced by Betty Hutton.

The studio also tussled with her over her excess poundage when she collapsed on the floor. On the picture because there in front of me were Bing, Bob and several members of the crew, all clad in colorful sarongs.

Yes, Mr. I've had a million laughs on those highways and I hope Bing and Bob will take me along every time they hit the "Road."

Malik Scoffs At Peace Bid

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia's Jacob A. Malik scoffed Friday at the peace declarations of American presidential candidates and accused Dwight D. Eisenhower of planning aggression against Russia.

Speaking before the U.N. Security Council, on the admission of new members, Malik referred to statements by President Truman and the presidential candidates saying they want to work for peace.

"We have heard that too often," Malik said.

He did not mention Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, by name but he referred to the Republican nominee several times.

At one time, he said, Eisenhower had explained why he wanted an army in Europe.

"Now it becomes clear that he wants it for aggression," Malik said.

He said the United States wants to admit to the U.N. only nations which will be U.S. allies.

"The United States has lost all hope of including Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary in their block," he said.

"The United States hopes to put bases in Finland for use against the USSR," he said, explaining the vicious position of Eisenhower.

He added:

"Truman, (Secretary of State) Acheson, and Eisenhower would sign a pact with the devil himself if that partner would loudly yell about aggression."

Bly School Group Meets

Bly School Parents and Patron met in the new science room of the Bly High School Thursday, Sept. 4, for the first regular meeting this fall. Officers for this year are Pres. Sam Porter, Vice. Pres. Lotis Joneschiet, Sec. Elizabeth Campbell. The principal, Earl Graham, discussed the new improvements to the school.

Two new teachers, Mr. Robert Haggerud and Betty Haggerud were presented with a corsage and welcomed to Bly as well as all other teachers.

The program chairman, Bill Hatzi, introduced the House Brothers who sang several selections after the regular meeting was adjourned and before refreshments were served in the home-ec room.

Traffic Counters Reported Stolen

Two traffic counters being used on Washburn Way have been stolen in the past few days, Harley Knupp of Salem, highway department engineer, reported to police here.

The counters were chained to power poles but were pried off and carried away.

One was located just off S. 8th and the other at LaVerne Street.
