Censors Approved Marilyn's 4-F Gown

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD— (NEA) —Exclusively Yours: Marilyn Monroe's low-cut gown, ruled "4F" by the Army at Atlantic City, was from her wardrobe in "Niagara." The Army may have branded it indecent for a recruiting stunt, but it was okay by the movie censors.

Evie Johnson's decision to have a fling at movie acting — she makes her debut in "Never Wave at a WAC"—has tongues wagging in Hollywood's eyebrow-lifting set. Her reasons, say the gossips, are:

1. Lack of dough in the Van Johnson household, or,

2. A bid for a career of her own before divorcing Van.

The marriage, according to the grapevine, has been on thin ice for almost a year.

Rita Hayworth's agents are buzzing Fox. Rita wants the role of Diana in "The Robe."

Don't be surprised if Kathleen Winsor huddles with attorneys over "Forever Ambrose," the title of Eddie Mayehoffs new TV show. It follows Red Skelton on the air this season.

Eleanor Parker's medico has set Sept. 25 for the stork visit. She's due at MGM Nov. 1 for another flicker with Bob Taylor . . . Oil has been discovered on property owned by Hedy Lamarr in Vienna. She'll hop the Atlantic next month to rign royalty papers.

Irene Ryan at the Fox & Hounds: "All a sweater does for me is to make me look warm." . . . Turhan Bey is back in Hollywood to resume his film career after two years in Europe . . . Jane Russell's busting with joy about the leg publicity she's getting in "Son of Paleface." Two new reasons for seeing her films.

Dinah Shore is yelling "foul" about her quotes in a national magazine that she believes cryin' Johnnie Ray is merely a flash-in-the-pan out for a fast buck. The singer claims she was misquoted —and has apologized via letter to Johnnie.

Remember Sunshine Sammy of the Our Gang Comedies? He's now a delivery boy for a Hollywood liquor store . . . The Mel Tormes have dated the stork again . . . Paramount's Barney Baladban's prediction on movie business for the next 12 months: "It will be just as good as the picture we deliver." . . . Tallulah Bankhead's salary, for one TV guest appearance on the All-Star Revue Oct. 11, will be $20,000.

TV's Dagmar, now touring night clubs, is doing a skit in which she plays the first woman president of the U. S. One of her lines: "Whadda day—I passed 19 vetoes and vetoed 19 passes." . . . Barbara Hutton just paid $350,000 for a new Beverly Hills home. . . . Walter Chrysler, Jr., is the Mr. Moneybags behind Raymond Massey's new play, "The Hanging Judge." . . . Leslie Howard's gravestone in England bears this inscription: "Gentle cynic."

Greta Garbo's hair — can you stand it?—is now tinted a deep purple . . . Sign in the window of a Hollywood East Indian restaurant: "Cash and Curry."

MGM may not know it, but an independent film company is shooting "Robinson Crusoe" in Mexico. The studio owns a completed screen-play of the classic, written four years ago by Helen Deutsch as a Stewart Granger starrer, but never placed before the cameras.

Skip the rumor that Rose Marie's five-year-old daughter, Georgiana, will follow in her famous mama's footsteps as a singing moppet. Closing a long engagement at Ciro's, the blonde songstress, who was a top radio star at five, told me:

"I don't think I want a career for Georgiana as a child. I don't want people to think she's a midget."

Movies for Rose Marie? "Not as a star—I just want to do the comedy end of it."

Sophie Tucker is stipulating that she play herself in the final reel of her movie biography, in which Betty Hutton will star. But the last of the Red Hot Mamas is in for some hot opposition to the idea.

Joan Bennett is being billed as plain Joan Bennett for the Los Angeles run of "Bell, Book and Candle." It was Mrs in the ads everywhere else in the country.

"A mother's care for all you wear!" Men's Hand Laundry, 11th and Klamath, Phone 2-2531.

Hollywood Movie Makers Make Movies Elsewhere

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — These are times that try columnists' souls.

A bunch of the news boys and girls were whooping it up at Lake Arrowhead last week end and trying to forget the arduousness of their chores in glamorville.

"It's murder," sniffed one of them, dripping a tear in his lemonade.

"How do we stand it?" implored another, weeping into his milk shake.

Here's what they are moaning about: film production is an anemic picture of what it used to be. A look at the local shooting schedules this week provides a dismal report. Twentieth-Fox has but one picture shooting locally. Universal-International one. Monogram one, and Republic, Columbia and MGM have a pair apiece.

Warners is booming along with four. There is only one independent film shooting in town. RKO has been dark for weeks. Whatever happened to RKO?

Of course, there are pictures shooting in such places as Kanab, Utah, London, Fiji Islands, Rome, Munich, Samoa, Africa, Quebec and Calabasas, Calif. But that doesn't help a news gatherer, unless he wants a hot ride to Calabasas for a Randy Scott interview.

The studios assure that they have "dozens of pictures" starting in the near future. This has stopped some of the groaning of the columnists, but not much. Well, there's always TV. . . .

Hollywood's publicity men were licking their wounds this week. On Tuesday night, both Adlai Stevenson and Dwight Eisenhower delivered speeches in which they spoke of "press agents" in derogatory terms. . . .

Janet Leigh is anxiously awaiting news of the possible release of "Jet Pilot." That's the Howard Hughes epic which she started three years ago. Off and on, she spent a year with the picture, sometimes working on Sundays while she was doing other films during the week.

The picture has already run up a bill estimated at four million dollars. People have argued that the jets in the picture will be obsolete by the time it is released, but that doesn't seem to worry Hughes. According to Miss Leigh, he has injected some of the sexiest dialogue heard in recent years. Maybe the censors are the ones who have held the picture out of release. . . .

Flynn Bride Says Errol Easy to Get Along With

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What's it like to be married to Errol Flynn?

Patrice Wymore, the third Mrs. Flynn, says that she and her adventurous husband get along just dandy. This, despite the almost continuous sniping of the gossipers, who have tried to toll a knell for the latest Flynn marriage ever since it began almost two years ago.

"That's right," panted Patrice between strenuous dance rehearsals for "She's Back on Broadway." "It'll be two years next month. I guess a lot of people didn't think it would last that long.

"But we get along fine. We have a lot of laughs when we're together. And we're together a lot more than people think. Although we've both done a lot of traveling, we've never been apart more than a week or so. At least we weren't until the picture that Errol's making in England, 'The Sea Rogue.' We'll be separated four months this time, and that's tough to take. But I'll be seeing him soon, either in England or at our other home in Jamaica."

The Kansas-born redhead seems a good match for Flynn. She also is an active individual and appears to have a wanderlust.

"In another year or so, I hope we can co-ordinate our travels," she remarked.

"He proposed to me on a windswept hill," she remembered. "Very romantic. Then he called my parents in Kansas and said, 'May I have the honor your daughter's hand in marriage?' My parents thought we were out of our minds.

"They were a little concerned, but after they met Errol they were delighted with him. They've been happy about us ever since."

Patrice admitted that she and Flynn have an occasional spat, but it's never very big or long-lasting.

Hop Support Bid Denied

PORTLAND (AP) — An appeal for price supports for Oregon's hop crop was rejected Friday by Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan.

Brannan, in a telegram to Harvey Gehring of Silverton, said that price supports would result in "undue losses to the government" unless production and demand could be brought more nearly into balance.

Gehring is leader of the Oregon grower group which is asking a price support of 75 per cent of parity. (Parity is the price for farm products fixed by the government in relation to the cost of goods the grower has to buy.)

The price support is necessary this year because many Willamette Valley growers have been unable to find a market for their crop, Gehring said.

He said buyers were taking the crops of growers in the Yakima Valley and California. The Washington State and California growers "would solve the surplus problem by having some of us family-type growers go out of business," Gehring said.

News of the government refusal to prop hop prices caused a drop in the market price of Oregon hops. Friday's quotation of 30 cents a pound was 13 cents below last week's price.

American Bar Association Split Over Wilsons Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The American Bar Association appeared Saturday to be headed into a sharp, fight next week over policy—all because of the 2½ year old Washington State slaying for which Utah and Turman Wilson thrice have been sentenced to hang.

The issue is over activities of the association's Special Committee on Convictions and Incarcerations of Innocent Persons.

Washington's Gov. Arthur B. Langlie last month granted the Wilson brothers a third stay of execution, putting off their hanging for 90 days. Then he asked the special committee to investigate the background of the March, 1950, Vancouver, Wash., girl, and advise him what to do.

The Wilsons were arrested in Sacramento, Calif., a week after her battered body was found in a creek near Stevenson, Wash. They both were convicted of first degree murder in her death, and sentenced to the gallows. They have steadfastly maintained their innocence.

The question of whether the committee shall accede to Langlie's request is scheduled to come before the association's Board of Governors at an executive session Monday. It also may be presented on the floor of the ABA's national convention later in the week.

Strong opposition has cropped up to the committee's undercover investigations.

One of the leading foes of such probes is Frank Holman of Seattle, a former ABA president, who said he had no interest in the Wilson case but felt the ABA was "sticking its neck out" when it investigated the decisions of courts anywhere.

Holman said he had asked the ABA's Scope and Correlations Committee, of which he is a member, to consider restricting the work of the special committee. This might bring the matter of the special committee's activities to the national convention floor next week.

Sprague Gets UN Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles A. Sprague, governor of Oregon from 1939 to 1943, was among 10 persons named Friday to represent the United States at the United Nations General Assembly next month.

Sprague, a Republican selected for the post by the U. S. State Department, was appointed an alternate delegate by President Truman.

Delegates appointed to the Assembly, which convenes at New York Oct. 12, are Warren R. Austin, former Republican Senator from Vermont, chief delegate; Ernest A. Gross, deputy under Austin; Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president; Sen. Theodore Green of Rhode Island, senior Democratic member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, ranking Republican member.

Besides Sprague, alternates include Philip C. Jessup, roving ambassador; Benjamin V. Cohen, career diplomat; Edith S. Sampson of Illinois and Isador Lubin of New York.

These alternates, described by reporters at the U. N. as "utility outfielders," will take specialized committee assignments and will sit with regular delegates at assembly sessions. The alternates are assigned to the delegation as a whole rather than to individual delegates.

Klamath Man Wins Damages

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Federal Court jury has awarded $65,000 to Michael J. O'Donnell, a Klamath Falls, Ore., railroad conductor, for injuries received in the line of duty.

The jury Friday made the award against the Great Northern Railway for an accident which occurred at Lookout, Calif., Nov. 14, 1950.

O'Donnell had sued for $100,000 charging defective railroad equipment had resulted in his being thrown against a car, injuring his back and ribs.

Judge Raps Bonus Faker

SALEM (AP) — Carl F. Hirsch, who falsified his discharge date to collect an Oregon veterans bonus, Friday was fined $240 and sentenced to 120 days in jail.

Hirsch, an unemployed Portland appliance salesman, had pleaded guilty to the charge when tried in district court here.

His case was the first to be prosecuted by the State Bonus Division. Officials said they are investigating others.

OPEN HOUSE

SALEM (AP) — Army Engineers held open house at Detroit Dam here Saturday.

Coffee and doughnuts were served in the powerhouse. It was the first time the general public has been admitted to the dam, still under construction.

PILE Swine Show Closed

PORTLAND (AP) — The Pacific International Livestock Exposition Friday cancelled its scheduled swine show because the exposition building is in a hog quarantine area.

The quarantine was imposed to halt the spread of vesicular exanthema, a hog disease.

Agriculture officials have ordered the slaughter of more than 600 Multnomah County hogs because of the disease.

An exposition official said scheduled cattle, sheep and goat shows would be held early next month. Vesicular exanthema does not affect them or humans.

McCarthy Raps Jessup Post

PORTLAND (AP) — Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) passing through Portland Friday en route to Los Angeles, called on Gov. Adlai Stevenson publicly to support or repudiate President Truman's appointment of Philip Jessup to a U. N. post.

Jessup, long a target of McCarthy's anti-Communist campaign, earlier Friday was appointed an alternate delegate to the United Nations General Assembly at New York next month.

"I've always said that Jessup is one of the most dangerous men in government," McCarthy said. "The Senate refused to confirm him as a delegate to the U. N. Paris conference in view of his fantastic record of association with Communist fronts. Certainly I think he should declare whether he will support such a man as Jessup if elected," McCarthy said.

Jessup has denied McCarthy's charges.

The senator said Truman's appointment of Jessup while the Senate was not in session was "a typical Truman gesture."

McCarthy, who won a smashing victory in last week's Wisconsin primary election, told reporters that he planned to support Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for the presidency.

"Certainly I'll support the Republican ticket, regardless of what General Eisenhower says about me. It would be a catastrophe if Stevenson were to win," he said.

McCarthy stopped here on a flight from Spokane.

Oswego Woman Heads Auxiliary

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Phyllis A. Clayton of Oswego, Ore., Friday was elected president of the Marine Corps League's Women's Auxiliary.

John R. O'Brien of Passaic, N. J., was re-elected commandant of League at the group's 29th annual convention here.
