OTI Enforces Hunting Ban

Oregon Tech Director Winston Purvine today warned that the state law forbidding hunting on the OTI campus would be strictly enforced.

In the past, Purvine said such warnings have frequently gone unheeded, endangering life and property at the school. On numerous occasions, Purvine said, residents at OTI have heard bullets whining overhead.

State law 82-323 OCLA forbids any hunting on the OTI grounds.

However, deer hunters wishing to sight in rifles are free to use the OTI rifle range providing they observe the rule of shooting only in the direction of the target butts.

23 Years Ago

Monday, September 16, 1929—Sheriff Lloyd Low will be the official representative of Klamath county at the Pendleton Roundup which will begin in that city on September 18th. The initial program is the unveiling of Til Taylor's statue. Sheriff Low will be accompanied by Mrs. Low and his mother and father. They are making the trip by motor.

Tuesday, September 17, 1929—The American Association of University Women will hold a bridge party on Saturday afternoon in the library club rooms. Mrs. C. C. Seeley, assisted by the new officers, Mrs. Percy Murray, president, Mrs. R. E. Geary, vice president, Mrs. Guy Hancock, secretary, and Mrs. Earl C. Reynolds, treasurer, has charge of the arrangements.

Wednesday, September 18, 1929—"Palace of Sweets" is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. McElwain for their shop at 824 Main, formerly known as the Chocolate Shop. Miss Valeria McCauley, high school student was awarded the prize for submitting the most appropriate name.

Thursday, September 19, 1929—The first load of "Klamath cheese" manufactured by the Langell Valley association went on the market today when Ben Schmid, president of the association, proudly piloted the truck into the city and supervised the shipping of it to Oakland, Calif., where a demand exists for all the cheese that Langell can produce. The association was formed about 90 days ago and nearly all the land owners of Langell Valley entered into the institution.

Friday, September 20, 1929—Reports this afternoon from the Klamath Forest Protective association report the forest fire situation in Klamath basin is practically under control. A grain fire has wiped out more than 400 acres of grain on the Zukerman ranch, located about four miles south of Midland. The Roscoe Zukerman ranch is one of the largest and richest farms in this part of the country.

Saturday, September 21, 1929—Music section of the Women's Library club held their first fall meeting on Monday. Mrs. J. Royal Shaw, chairman, was in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Don J.
