WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market followed a selective and steady course Friday with trading on the light side.

In the final hour there was an improvement all around with railroads and radio-television issues favored.

Prices spread out over a restricted range of between 1 and 2 points higher at the outside in active areas to fractions lower.

Volume came to around a million shares for the session as compared with 1,030,000 shares traded Thursday.

Foresters Close Woods

SALEM (AP) — The State Forestry Department Friday closed down logging operations in most of Western Oregon because of the prolonged dry spell.

State Forester George Spaur said all parts of Western Oregon are closed except the Northwest Oregon Coast, Coos, Curry, Jackson and Josephine Counties, and the Willamette Valley non patrol areas.

Spaur said the areas affected are in bad shape, although there are no fires in the state.

Spaur said he doesn't know yet if the deer season can start October 1.

Byrnes Backs Ike

Harriman, foreign aid chief, said, "the President let him (Byrnes) go" as secretary of state "and he's been bitter ever since. He's now taking it out on Gov. Stevenson (Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee)."

Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, who with Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas already has announced his support of Eisenhower, said he felt sure the announcement means "South Carolina, along with Texas and Louisiana can be considered probable Eisenhower states."

Although Byrnes' announcement had been expected for several days, it still came as a surprise to many party faithful.

Byrnes told the state Democratic convention here Aug. 6 that if he had to vote then it would be for Stevenson.

SHIFTED

Reading from a 1,500-word prepared text yesterday, Byrnes said Stevenson had shifted his position on what he considered three major campaign issues, all of which had figured in his decision to support Eisenhower.

He said Stevenson first announced he opposed repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, then "on Labor Day changed his position and joined the President in advocating repeal."

Stevenson formerly believed that fair employment practices legislation was a matter for states instead of the federal government, Byrnes said, adding:

"Now candidate Stevenson says . . . he favors compulsory federal legislation" to take effect if a state fails to enforce "an adequate state law. . . .

"No Southern state would enact an FEDC law. Therefore, Mr. Stevenson's plan would apply to every Southern state.

The governor also scored Stevenson's recent statement that as president he would use his influence to "encourage Congress" to end unlimited debate in the Senate.

Nixon Denies

quent platform speeches to issue a statement denying any wrong doing.

Nixon was pressed by reporters for a detailed explanation of expenditures and names of contributors just before he retired in Sacramento early today. He issued this statement — similar to his earlier one — and declined to elaborate:

"This is another typical smear by the same left wing elements which have fought me ever since I took part in the investigation which led to the conviction of Alger Hiss.

"They have tried to manufacture and create an air of suspicion over a matter which is completely open and above board in every respect.

"If they think by such tactics they can slow up my attack against communism and corruption they will find out differently. I intend to continue to expose the elements which have been selling this country down the river, until the crooks and the Communists and those who defend them are driven out of Washington."

Earlier, Nixon fired back at Mitchell:

"Why doesn't he ask Sparkman (Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, Democratic vice presidential nominee) to resign because his wife is on the (government) payroll?"

Sparkman, campaigning in Tallahassee, Fla., retorted that there is nothing sub rosa about his wife working for the government.

"Mrs. Sparkman has assisted me in the office for nearly 10 years and she has given me excellent service," he added.

Answering a reporter's question, Nixon said he had not reported the —$16,100 for income tax purposes because "I do not consider it income." He did not get the money personally; it was disbursed by a committee, the candidate added.

In Pasadena, Smith said there should be no question about income taxes on the expense fund. He said he handled all the money and that as far as Nixon was concerned "the funds would be either gifts or expense payments."

Smith said he and 50 to 100 other southern Californians raised the fund "because we felt that Nixon was an outstanding spokesman in the senate for the free enterprise system we believe in."

He said that he could not release names of all contributors without their consent. But he didn't mind saying he and his brothers, Walker Smith of Pasadena and Hulet Smith of Arcadia, gave a total of $500 a year.

Others who had no objection to use of their names, he said, are Robert and George Rowan, Los Angeles real estate dealers, $500 total, and Henry Kearns, San Gabriel, a smaller amount.

He said contributions were limited to $500 per person a year.

"This is a program I can heartily recommend to public spirited citizens in the United States who have in public office high grade men who do not have independent financial means," Smith said. "We felt such a program would appeal to citizens who wanted to see their U. S. Senator do the job right completely free from financial pressure from any special interests."

Nixon said:

"As an alternative, I might have resorted to tax paid facilities, free government transportation, or I might have put my wife on the federal payroll, as did the Democratic nominee for vice president.

"I did none of these. I prefer to play completely fair with the taxpayer."

Mitchell retorted:

"Sen Nixon knows this is morally wrong. Gen. Eisenhower knows this is morally wrong The American people know this is morally wrong. By no standards of public morals or of private morals can such conduct be condoned or explained away."

Accident Nets 55 Dollar Fine

Goralo Delgado, 22, of Fresno, was fined a total of $55 this morning in Municipal Court on charges growing out of an accident at Esplanade and Spring.

He was charged with reckless driving and having no operator's license.

A trailer mishap had the street partly blocked yesterday afternoon and a car driven by Delgado was caught in the resulting traffic jam.

He tried to back out of the tangle but his car hit the center island of the divided street under the railroad underpass, turned crosswise of the street, hit a parked trailer and finally went into the driveway of Esplanade Courts, backing into a tree.

Youth Held For Automobile Theft

A 17-year-old Klamath Falls boy was arrested by City Police yesterday afternoon in connection with the theft of a car from the Dugan and Mest Company last weekend.

The car was a 1949 Chevrolet sedan. The youth was booked at the City Jail for larceny of an auto, and was to be turned over to juvenile authorities.

1952 Will See New Record For Polio Cases

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—Polio is grimly marching toward its worst year in the nation's history.

The expectation is at least 50,000 cases this year—far above 1949's record 42,366.

Twenty-one states have epidemic rates. Localized outbreaks flare in towns and counties elsewhere. Eight of the 57 residents of Prue, Okla., have polio.

Some schools in at least nine states have delayed openings. One or two others cancelled football practice. In Lock Haven, Pa., all churches, movies and bars were closed for a time; schools still are shut.

Tragedies compounded in dozens of families. Polio struck 11 of 14 youngsters in one family, all eight in another with one boy dying, six children in another.

In Milwaukee, Paul Linnemanstons, 16, complained of shoulder soreness after football practice Saturday, was dead of polio Monday. His 4-year-old sister died the next night.

Polio is claiming more teen-agers than young adults, but the bulk of victims still are the 5-12 age group. Los Angeles General Hospital reports at least a dozen healthy babies born to polio-stricken mothers in iron lungs.

March of dimes aid is flowing out by the millions of dollars to pay bills, to supply iron lungs, to pay for special nurses tending critically ill children and adults.

These are highlights of a national picture of polio, as gathered by an Associated Press survey, and last-minute reports from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and U. S. Public Health Service.

By Sept. 13, the nation had 31,391 cases of polio, as against 28,060 at the same time in the "worst year" of 1949.

The big worry is yet unanswered has polio reached its peak yet this year? Each week, the total of new cases in the week ended Sept.13.

In 1949, polio reached a peak in mid-August with a decline in new cases each week thereafter.

Usually, there are just as many new cases after the peak as there were before. Unless something happens to dampen down the spread, the nation could even have 60,000 cases this year.

It looks as though we must anticipate over 50,000 cases for 1952, says Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, Foundation medical director.

Polio is called epidemic if there are 20 cases per 100,000 population.

On such a statewide basis, these are the 21 epidemic states:

Nebraska, 98 cases per 100,000; Iowa 78; Minnesota 60; South Dakota 52; Kansas 50, Texas 45; New Mexico 43; Kentucky 36; Idaho 34; Wisconsin 32; Oklahoma 32; Michigan 31; Washington 30; Mississippi 25; Louisiana 25; West Virginia 23; Arizona 23; Illinois 23; Montana 22; Ohio 22, and Delaware 21.

The Foundation has already shipped out 1,225 iron lungs—more than during all of 1950 and '51—to all states but three. The Army, Navy and Air Force have sped delivery in emergencies.
