Interior Dep't. Reports Public Lands Open To Hunt

Approach of the big game hunting season has brought the Bureau of Land Management many questions regarding hunting restrictions on the public domain lands. In order to avoid misunderstandings, rascocoe H. Bell, regional administrator of the bureau, told sportsmen and other today that the public lands belong to the people and are open to public use and enjoyment. He explained that many people in the past have thought that public lands leased for grazing were closed to hunting. He emphasized, however, that grazing leases permit only the utilization of the livestock forage and in no way legally affect the rights of others to use such lands for hunting, fishing or other recreational and lawful uses. To help sportsmen in locating the public domain areas, status maps have been prepared showing the location of federal, state and private lands outside the national forests. Those interested in learning the location of the public lands are invited to call at the Bureau of Land Management regional office, Swan Island, Portland, or the Bureau district offices in Salem, Eugene, Roseburg, Coos Bay, Medford, Lakeview, Prineville, Burns.

Coon Speaks To 20-30 Club

Sam Coon, Baker, Republican Congressional Candidate from the Second District, was guest speaker at Tuesday night's meeting of the Klamath Falls 20-30 Club. He told Twenty-Thirtians present his beliefs in regard to the present "big government" tendency, and the possibility of halting that trend. Early plans for the Western Nights Association meeting were presented to the club. The meeting is to be held in October. Committees have been appointed for the forthcoming district convention. Arrangements are being made, it was announced, for securing Christmas candy canes for the annual 20-30 presentations to youngsters at the Christmas Parade each winter. A review committee is laying the groundwork for a second annual hobby show to be put on in cooperation with the YMCA next year, probably early in the spring. It was announced the Golden Rule degree on a large class of candidates. A special session of the Grand Encampment of Oregon has been called by Hugh Lewis, grand patriarch, for the purpose of conferring the Golden Rule degree and a period of instruction will be held for both encampment and auxiliary members. A tour of points of interest and other entertainment is planned for the ladies' afternoon. In the evening a 6 o'clock dinner will be served to be followed at 7:15 by a "get acquainted" social hour with various auxiliaries of the state participating in the program and introduction of Grand Officers present. At 8:15 Ewauna Encampment will confer the Grand Purple Degree and visiting ladies will be entertained with Ewauna Ladies Auxiliary in charge. Refreshments will follow the degree work. A "hospitality breakfast" is planned for Sunday morning for all those who stay over with the patriarchs of Ewauna Encampment in command. Grand officers expecting to attend the meetings include Earl K. Adamson, Vallejo, grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment of California; and Hugh Lewis, Yamhill; George V. Naderman, Salem, grand high priest; Herbert M. Munsell, Klamath Falls, grand senior warden; Earl H. Shank, Portland; E. M. Bowman, Hillsboro, grand treasurer; R. P. Stolsig, Coburg, grand junior warden; John Gibbs, Amity, grand marshal; Garland Meador, Prairie City, grand sentinel; and Charles Bowman, Monmouth, grand outside sentinel all of the Grand Encampment of Oregon. Several past grand masters of the Grand Lodge and past chief patriarchs of the Grand Encampment are also expected.

Celebrity Service Works To Inform On The Stars

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Want to know who are the most sought-after stars in Glamorville? Here's the list: Mario Lanza, Judy Garland, Marilyn Monroe, Marion Brandt, Humphrey Bogart, Kirk Douglas, Martin and Lewis, Ann Blyth, Gene Tierney, Betty Grable and Rita Hayworth. Mind you, this is no press agent's dream-up. This is the straight dope, as gleaned by me from the Celebrity Service. "What's the Celebrity Service? I didn't exactly know, either. But Lynn Bowers of the local office wised me up. Celebrity Service was founded in 1929 by sometime actor Earl Blackwell. He figured there was a need for a clearinghouse for news of the whereabouts of famous people. His idea has become a thriving enterprise, with offices in New York, London, Paris, Rome and Hollywood. The latter is a head-office, reported Miss Bowers. The reason: "People out here worry about their privacy. They change their telephone numbers almost as often as they change their socks. It's common for some stars to set a new number every month." Celebrity Service supplies information about the travels of famous figures to agencies, columnists and other so-called legitimate parties. Miss Bowers had some comments about the film stars who evoke the most inquiries: "When Lanza started his fight with MGM, everyone wanted to know where he was. Judy Garland is another one who has been in the news. We have dozens of calls for her. "Of course, everyone wants Marilyn Monroe's private phone number. Brandt is impossible. Lots of people try to get in touch with him, but you can't get him on the phone and he won't answer messages. I can't figure why we should get so many calls for Ann Blyth, but we do. I guess she epitomizes the perfect young lady." Miss Bowers said that the service has files on 100,000 personalities. Sometimes the inquiries can benefit the celebrities as well as those seeking them out. For instance, NBC wanted to reach Jack Parr. Miss Bowers finally located the elusive comic, who got an air show because of the call. When a liquor firm sought an endorsement by a star, the service suggested Paul Lukas, who gained a fat fee and much publicity. Colleen Gray once got a film role because Celebrity Service found her after her agent failed. Some requests are seasonal. "Every Halloween we get requests for the whereabouts of Bela Lugosi and Boris Karloff," Miss Bowers reported. And then there was the time when the late Mayo Method, Mrs. Humphrey Bogart No. 3, wanted to locate Helen Menken, Mrs. Bogart No. 1. How did Celebrity Service solve this problem? Simply by calling Lauren Bacall, Mrs. Bogart No. 4 and current title holder.

It's a $3 million deal including such films as "Rocket Ship Xn," "Lost Continent," "Baron of Arizona," and "Savage Drums." Said Pat: "I've just seen the first peeping tomcat in history!" MGM's plans to refilm "Romola." It was an epic silent picture co-starring Lillian Gish and Ronald Colman.

First items due for the market: A red-haired doll, bongo drums and a smoking jacket. RKO's release of a special two-reeler titled "Operation A Bomb." Fifteen Marine Corps cameramen shot 29,000 feet of color film of the recent atomic warfare maneuvers at Yucca Flat, Nev. The short features the best footage. A British columnist dating Betty Davis to return to London. She sent the scribe a package of state meat in retaliation for his digs at her when she was making "Another Man's Poison" in London. Movie exhibitors on the warpath about pictures that are popping up on TV day-and-date with movie house showings. A Hollywood art house booked a British film titled "Wonder Boy." Two nights after the film opened, it was a free attraction on the home screens. Veteran movie director King Vidor writing his autobiography, which amounts to a history of the motion picture industry. Not for publication until next year, though. Howard Hughes ordering the full hoopla treatment for RKO's release of "No Time for Flowers," the satire on communism that was partly filmed in the Russian zone of Berlin. Robert Q. Lewis all a-bowl about reports that he tried to swipe the male lead role away from Donald O'Connor in Fox's film version of "Call Me Madam." He says his visits to the studio concerned another picture.

U. S. Surgeons Denounce Practice of 'Fee Splitting'

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—The American College of Surgeons denounced fee-splitting between physicians and surgeons today as "dishonest and unethical" and harmful to patients. Thirteen college officials told of a renewed drive against the doctor kick-backs in a frank news conference with science writers. One good weapon, they said, is to tell the public all the facts. They said most doctors are honest, but a "few bad apples" split fees, giving medicine a black eye. Some said the kick-back practice is widespread and growing in some areas. But it is hard to prove that any one is doing it. Twenty-three states have laws declaring it illegal. Fee-splitting means a division of fee between the doctor who first diagnoses a patient's condition and the surgeon who operates on him. It leads, the college officials said, to these evils: Over-charging in bills; unnecessary operations; "ghost surgery" when a person thinks his own doctor is operating and the selected or "ghost" surgeon does it after the patient is anesthetized; loss of public confidence in doctors. Dr. Alton Ochsner of New Orleans, immediate past president of the college, said you should be suspicious of fee-splitting if: Your doctor sends you to only one surgeon and later you get no bill from the physician, just a bill from the surgeon. Your doctor doesn't give you a choice of surgeons to do the operation he says is necessary or doesn't ask you whom you want to do it. If you suspect fee-splitting, your recourse is to ask your county medical society to investigate. The societies have committees that do this. Learn whether your hospital is approved and accredited by top medical organizations. The approved hospitals set up safeguards against kick-backs. Four of the 13 surgeons, mostly members of the college's Board of Regents and Governors, agreed that "in certain areas, fee-splitting is widely practiced by a large percentage of physicians and surgeons." They would not specify these areas, beyond the comments of two of the surgeons: Dr. Loyd Davis of Chicago, a college regent, said, "There is no question but that fee-splitting is on the increase in Chicago and the surrounding area." Dr. Newell W. Philpott of Montreal, a regent, said he did not know of it in Montreal but that he knew it was done in some localities nearby. He told of one young surgeon, starting in practice, who refused to make kick-backs and had to leave an unnamed town within six months. Ochsner said, "If a young man starts practice in a neighborhood where splitting is rampant and refuses to do so because he is honest, he would starve." The college sets high standards for admission of fellows (now numbering 17,500), including a pledge not to split fees. About a dozen fellows have been ousted in recent years for breaking the pledge. Dr. Everts Graham of St. Louis, chairman of the regents, said the college might put on TV and radio shows about the evils of fee-splitting. Dr. Paul H. Hawley of Chicago, college director, said the field staff was being increased to investigate alleged cases of kick-backs. "The Bureau of Internal Revenue has informed the college that it won't allow kick-back payments to be listed as income tax deductions in states where fee-splitting is either illegal or not accepted practice or custom. Fee-splitting was rampant in Columbus, O., six years ago, the surgeons said. A Columbus surgical society was formed and it agreed that every surgeon would have his books and income tax returns inspected by an independent auditor. Fee-splitting was ended almost overnight, they said.
