

ETHEREAL BLUE — silk illusion net was most effectively used under a double full length veil, which was held with a band of Chantilly lace applique, worn by Maureen Marie Sullivan for her wedding September 7 to Donald L. Paillette. Her bridal gown was styled with a Chantilly lace bodice and pleated overskirt of the same lace over satin skirt with full train. Her bouquet was of white gladioli and stephanotis tied with satin streamers. Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Sullivan, Oregon City; and Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paillette, 2411 Kane. The Reverend H. L. Bachelder read the service at 4 p.m. in Atkinson Memorial Congregational Church, Oregon City.

JOYCE WERNER LOVELY BRIDE IN ALL WHITE LACE AND SATIN

Joyce Kathryn Werner, much feted bride-elect of the summer, became the bride of Charles Harlan (Skip) Johnson, in Klamath Lutheran Church, September 7. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Werner, 2327 Darrow Avenue, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Johnson, Roseburg.

The Reverend Irvin Tweet read the double-ring service at 2:30 p.m.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. The altar was flanked with large arrangements of white gladioli illuminated with candlelight. Her wedding gown was of traditional white satin, with Chantilly lace panels in the skirt. The nylon net yoke was appliqued with flowers of the same lace. A halo of white satin trimmed with seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion net, and white rosebuds and stephanotis tied with satin streamers formed her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. J. W. Matlick Jr., was her sister's matron of honor; and her lilac taffeta gown was styled with a low, scalloped neckline.

She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white pompon chrysanthemums, and wore a ring headpiece.

Best man; and Joe Matlick Jr. and Jerry Shubert were ushers.

(Continued)

PAILLETTE-SULLIVAN VOWS SAID IN OREGON CITY CHURCH

A Portland girl was claimed as the bride of a Klamath man when Maureen Marie Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Sullivan, Oregon City, exchanged vows in Atkinson Memorial Congregational Church September 7, with Donald L. Paillette son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Paillette, 2411 Kane. The Reverend H. L. Bachelder read the 4 p.m. service before a gathering of friends and relatives in a setting of white gladioli, white pompon chrysanthemums and greenery; used throughout the church for both wedding and reception.

The white carpeted aisle of the church was marked with small bouquets of white gladioli tied with white taffeta bows. Lighted tapers in floor candelabra flanked the large baskets of the same type of flowers at each side of the altar where the bride and groom stood.

Shirley Hutchinson, Joy Trieman and Jean Asplund, all wore identical floor length dresses of nylon net over "Paris in the Spring" green taffeta, with matching headbands and they carried cascade bouquets of peony gladioli.

Little Coral Fuller, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fuller, was dressed in an exact copy of the other attendants, and carried a miniature of the same flower arrangement.

Best man was John Merrieman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Merrieman, 225 Grant; and ushers were, Richard Wynn, Portland; Vaughn Sterling, Eugene; Robert (Bob) Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Scott, 1854 Fremont; and Ronald Brown, Eugene.

Mrs. Paillette is the sister of the groom.

IN SACRED HEART CHURCH—Saturday, September 13, 4 p.m., Beverly Giovannini and Eddie Chambers exchanged vows in a double-ring service read by The Reverend T. P. Casey. Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albino Giovannini, 3718 Lakeport, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Chambers, 1815 Derby.

After a honeymoon on the Oregon Coast the couple is at home at Odell Lake, where Chambers is with the highway department.

—Photo by Ferebee

COUPLE TO LIVE AT ODELL LAKE AFTER HONEYMOON ON COAST

At four o'clock in the afternoon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albino Giovannini, 3718 Lakeport, became the bride of Eddie Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Chambers, 1815 Derby.

The Rev. T. P. Casey read the double-ring service in Sacred Heart Church before a background of white and red gladioli and palms flanked with tall floor candelabras at each side of the altar.

"Ave Maria" and "On This Day Beautiful Mother" were sung by Marvin Nerseth, accompanied by Susan Vandenberg at the organ.

During the traditional wedding march the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown of white satin with a long train. The neckline of her gown was outlined in fine lace, and the full length veil of illusion net was held with a crown of the same material trimmed with seed pearls. Her bouquet was of red roses.

All attendants wore ballerina length dresses of net over taffeta; headpieces of matching net were worn in their hair, and each carried a bouquet of red gladioli.

Maid of honor, Marie Samson, wore white; and bridesmaids, Joyce Pretari and Dorie Chambers, wore yellow and pale blue, respectively. The latter is the sister of the bridegroom.

Five-year-old Diane Pieruccini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nello Pieruccini, was flower girl for her cousin, and she wore a floor length frock of white taffeta with a neckline of lace. Her headpiece was of pink carnations and she carried a basket of rosepetals.

Best man, Nello Pieruccini, is an uncle of the bride. Ushers were Elijah Chambers, brother of the bridegroom; and Angelo Giovannini, uncle of the bride. Young Ross Lanphear served as ring bearer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lanphear.

A heather lace dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations was worn by the bride's mother.

Mrs. Jasper Chambers, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gray suit with white accessories, accompanied with a corsage of red gladioli.

During the reception in the parish hall immediately following the ceremony, Mrs. Pio D'Olivo, aunt of the bride, served the cake; Gwen Graham was at the punch bowl; and Beverly Gordon served the coffee. Irene Chambers passed the guest book.

A gray suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses was worn by the bride for her going away costume. The couple is now living at Odell Lake, where Chambers is with the highway department.

Jackson and Shidler Stories on Page Eight

WE GIVE S and H GREEN STAMPS

Fashion Cleaners
129 So. 6th Ph. 5563

TORN