

YANKS EVEN SERIES COUNT

Unusual political note: Herbert Holdredge of Detroit quit today as the Presidential nominee of the VEGETARIAN party of the United States and one Daniel Murphy of San Francisco was appointed in his place.

I hadn't known there was a Vegetarian party in this country. But at least it's interesting. Judging by the recent campaigning tactics, all the others seem to be raw meat men.

That brings up this one: General Eisenhower's temper is reported to be near the breaking point because of President Truman's whistle-stop campaign attacks.

Steady, Ike. Remember the old adage about the skunk. Never try to beat one of the critics at his own game.

Well, Harry, I kind of like you. In many ways, I like you PINE. I just can't help it. You're a human little cuss, and everybody has a sneaking fondness for people of that sort.

But, in simple honesty, I'll have to add that I'm not too enthusiastic about you as President of the United States—or as President of the United States, as you like to say. It's because you're elected with your blessing, I haven't cared too much for the company you keep.

In closing: Texas Senator Tom Connally says in Washington this morning that he's all for Adlai Stevenson for President, and adds that he very likely will campaign for the Democratic ticket in Texas.

Senator Connally is a professional politician, and one of the first laws of practical politics is that it never pays a professional to change horses in the middle of the stream.

Three Republican United States Senators, Bourke Hickenlooper, Iowa, Homer Ferguson, Mich., and Francis Case, S. D., will arrive here by private plane Saturday night for a "Tell the Truth" conference with local Republicans and the press.

The meeting, open to all interested persons, will be held in Republican headquarters in the Baisiger building immediately after they arrive.

Tentative time is 6 p.m. A definite hour will be announced as soon as their flying schedule is available.

Plans for their visit were announced by Wyatt Padgett, chairman of the Klamath County Republican Central Committee.

Fires Sweep Over Oregon Forest Lands

Fires dotted Western Oregon and a smoke pall hung over the middle Willamette Valley Thursday. Two of the fires were out of control.

Most of the smoke was from small slashing fires, started before state and district wardens put on a ban.

Clatsop and Curry counties, in the north-south extreme of Western Oregon, had the principal fires. The one in Curry County started on the Chetco River 15 miles northeast of Brookings Tuesday afternoon.

By Thursday it had covered 600 acres, a good part of that brushland, and Forester J. R. Philbrick said there was hope of getting it trailed by mid-day although wind held the answer to what control might be maintained.

The Weather Bureau at Portland thought the state generally would get some weather relief Saturday with cooler westerly winds, but it saw no rain on the horizon.

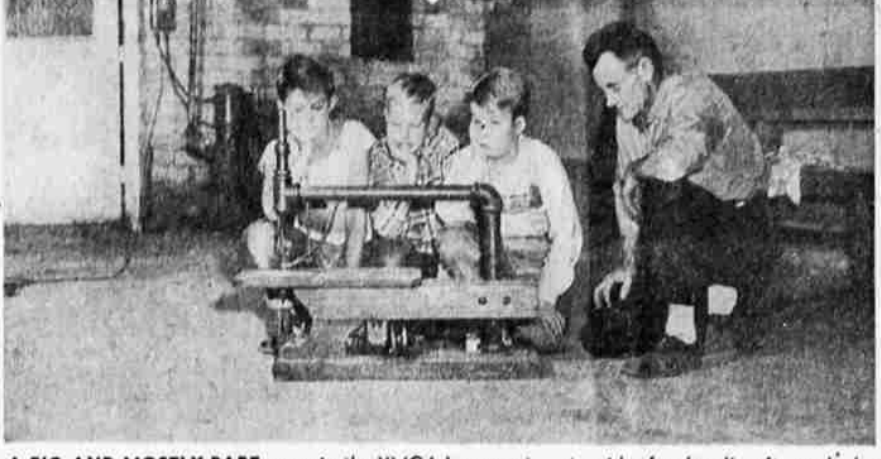

In Clatsop County, 12 miles southeast of Astoria, fire broke out late Wednesday in Crown-Zellerbach property in the Astoria watershed. It spread swiftly to 200 acres, but company and state crews made headway during the night.

GRASS FIRES Douglas County had two grass and brush fires earlier and as they swept over some 900 acres they killed an undetermined number of sheep owned by John McNab on the Sidney Lasswell property south of Yoncalla.

Smoke jumpers Wednesday afternoon controlled a 17-acre fire near Galice in the Mule Creek region. A 10-acre fire near Rose Lodge in Lincoln County was controlled.

Seventy-four residents and property owners along Midland Road have requested the County Court to urge hard surfacing of that road from the end of the paving near the Great Northern Yards out to the McCall corner and up to connect with US 97.

The road is designated Oregon 420, and members of the County Court said they would request the State Highway Commission to put that job on its program for next year.

Ike, Truman Schedule Klamath Falls Visits

President Truman is scheduled to arrive in Klamath Falls at 8:58 tomorrow morning, and make a back-platform talk from his special train at the Southern Pacific depot.

His talk here may be his only public appearance in Oregon this "whistle stop" trip in which the President is campaigning for the man he wants to succeed him in the White House, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

President Truman's train is to pass through Portland at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow, and stop at Crescent Lake about 7 a.m. where Truman may take—according to advance information from his touring party—one of his famous brisk early morning walks.

It will be President Truman's second visit to Klamath Falls, his first having been on June 11, 1948, when he was campaigning for himself.

Secret Service officers have been in Klamath Falls for several days arranging for the special train's 15 minute stop at the depot. Members of the Sheriff's posse have been assigned, Sheriff Red Britton said.

Some local Republican leaders, including Mrs. Olive Cornett, GOP national committeewoman, plan to board the Eisenhower train at Eugene to accompany the general to Klamath Falls.

Stalin said wars between the capitalist nations of the world are inevitable. The Soviet leader made these statements in a 50-page article in the Communist Party magazine "Bolshevik" on the eve of the Communist Party Congress, opening here next Sunday.

Again expressing his views, Stalin said he was correcting the mistakes of other Communists who believed there was little likelihood of conflicts between capitalist countries because the United States, as they stated it, had subjected them to satellite positions.

"Certain comrades contend that because of new international conditions following the second world war, wars between capitalist countries ceased to be inevitable." These comrades, the Soviet leader said, are mistaken. He explained they felt that contradictions between capitalist countries themselves—that they take the view the United States has so subjected other capitalist countries because the second world war that there is little possibility of future wars between them.

Not so, said Stalin. "We do not want Asia to feel that the white man of the west is his enemy. If there must be a war there, let it be Asians against Asians, with our support on the side of freedom."

The general said the first two world wars and the Korean war might "easily have been avoided," had there been greater precautions taken to strengthen the United States.

Korea Riot Prelude To Mass Escape

CHEJU ISLAND, Korea (AP)—Wednesday's rioting on this prison-camp island was only a prelude to a planned mass escape of 5,884 Chinese Reds, American authorities said Thursday.

Maj. Gen. Thomas W. Herren told correspondents the riot was to be a signal for a mass breakout but U. S. troops moved in and "broke the back of the planned revolt."

Herren said the prisoners planned to join Communist guerrillas in the mountains if they escaped.

Optimism was high today as Klamath County Community Chest workers made final plans for the big campaign kickoff, Oct. 14.

As usual, the Advance Gifts section will launch its drive before the general kickoff. Advance Gifts action will start with an "Early-bird Breakfast," at the Winema Hotel, Oct. 7, 8 a.m.

Hans Juckeland, assisted by Harold Shearer, heads the Advance Gifts section.

The optimistic tone of this year's Chest campaign has been increased by the steadily since Campaign Chairman Elton Smith and his co-workers revamped campaign procedure used in past years.

Two big changes were made this year: 1) There will be no house-to-house solicitations in the urban areas; and 2) the payroll deduction plan will be widely used.

The campaign this year is based on four divisions: Bud Franklin, Chest president, and Smith, campaign chairman, worked together in drafting the personnel setup.

Chet Hamaker is directing public relations and Norman Wilson the speakers bureau.

Women workers, who in past years were charged with the house-to-house canvassing, are being used this year in the Business Division under the direction of Mrs. Baisiger.

A special meeting of all women workers is slated for the YMCA, Oct. 13, 1:30 p.m.

Martin, Raschi Star In 7-1 Win

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. BROOKLYN (AP)—Vic Raschi's three-hit pitching and the vaunted Yankee power displayed in a five-run sixth inning gave the New York Yankees a 7 to 1 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers Thursday in the second game of the 1952 World Series. The victory evened the series at one game each.

A crowd of 32,722, filling every seat in compact Ebbets Field, saw Raschi stop the Dodger batters with a superb mound performance. Meanwhile, the Yankees, beaten 4-2 in Wednesday's first game, shelled Carl Erskine off the mound in the sixth and climaxed their rally when Billy Martin connected off relief hurler Billy Loes for a home run with two on base, thrown out on a bunt. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left. Fifth Inning Yankees McDougald walked and stole second. Martin belted a single over third, scoring McDougald to put the Yanks in front, 2-1. Raschi struck out, Bauer walked, Martin threw out trying to reach third when Bauer fanned him, second base when a pitch to Rizzuto hit home plate. Rizzuto thrown out. One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

Sixth Inning Dodgers Cox bounced out. Reese called out on strikes. Snider struck out. Berra thrown out at second on an attempted hit and run play when Rizzuto swung and missed. Rizzuto walked. Mantle struck out. Rizzuto thrown out, Campanella to Reese, trying to steal second. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left on.

Seventh Inning Yankees Erskine jerked, Loes pitching. Collins fanned Berra but safe on Hodges' error as Mantle scored. McDougald safe on bunt, Woodling scored. Martin hit home run, putting Yanks in front 7-1. Raschi and Bauer struck out.

Eight Inning Dodgers Robinson walked. Campanella and Pafko all fouled out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Ninth Inning Yankees Reese threw out. Bauer, Rizzuto flied to Pafko. Mantle collected his third hit of the game, a single. Woodling popped to Campanella. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Tenth Inning Dodgers Pafko fouled out. Erskine tagged out on slow roller down first baseline. Furillo went down swinging. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Final Inning Yankees Erskine walked. Raschi, Bauer hit into a double play. Rizzuto thrown out on a routine grounder. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Final Inning Dodgers Cox singled to left center. Reese singled first on a perfect bunt inside the third baseline. Snider forced at second when Robinson slapped a one-bouncer. Campanella smacked a ground single, scoring Reese with the first run of the game. Pafko struck out. One run, three hits, no errors, two left.

Final Inning Yankees Mantle hit a double off the scoreboard in right-center. Woodling thrown out on slow bouncer. Berra flied to Furillo. Mantle scoring after the catch to tie the score 1-1. Collins thrown out. One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

Final Inning Dodgers Hodges struck out but thrown out when Berra dropped the third strike. Furillo flied out. Erskine

Stalin Sees West Wars

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin said Thursday a war between capitalist countries is more probable than a war between capitalist and socialist i.e., Communist countries.

Stalin said wars between the capitalist nations of the world are inevitable. The Soviet leader made these statements in a 50-page article in the Communist Party magazine "Bolshevik" on the eve of the Communist Party Congress, opening here next Sunday.

Again expressing his views, Stalin said he was correcting the mistakes of other Communists who believed there was little likelihood of conflicts between capitalist countries because the United States, as they stated it, had subjected them to satellite positions.

The general said the first two world wars and the Korean war might "easily have been avoided," had there been greater precautions taken to strengthen the United States.

He clearly indicated his belief this was a matter of leadership and added: "You are going to have to decide the kind of leadership that leads you toward that kind of intelligent program, that kind of peace, that kind of strength at home, and whether or not you need a change. That is exactly what you must decide."

City Police said the wrecker, driven by Robert J. Harbrige, was moving very slowly and did not run over the man, but rather knocked him down and shoved him.

Slight Injury To Pedestrian

An elderly man, William H. Johnson, 79, of 619 Commercial, was slightly injured this morning when he was struck by a wrecker backing out of the car lot at Olson Motors, 316 S. 6th.

Johnson was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital by Kaler's ambulance for examination. He was bruised but did not appear seriously hurt.

Ike Asks New Korea Policy

ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower declared Thursday there is "no sense" in the United States bearing the brunt of the Korean war when the South Koreans could be trained to defend themselves.

Bringing his presidential campaign into Illinois, the GOP candidate told a cheering throng at Champaign the first thing that should be done in Korea is to train the South Koreans.

Then he said: "There is no sense in the United Nations, with America bearing the brunt of the thing, being constantly compelled to man those front lines. That is a job for the Koreans."

"We do not want Asia to feel that the white man of the west is his enemy. If there must be a war there, let it be Asians against Asians, with our support on the side of freedom."

Ferry Gets Lost In Fog

TACOMA (AP)—The little Vashon Island ferry boat got frustrated by fog Thursday morning.

The ferry picked up its regular Vashon commuters at 8 a.m., at Tablequah and bravely headed into the wide gray yonder.

But it just couldn't find the other side.
