

Justice Department Lawyer May Face Tax Investigation

By RUSSELL BRINES
 WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators Friday sent financial records to the Justice Department and Internal Revenue Bureau which might prompt an income tax investigation of Howard L. Doyle, veteran U. S. attorney for the Southern District of Illinois.

The documents concerned Doyle's outside legal earnings of at least $86,517 above his salary between 1945 and 1950 and the income taxes he paid on them. His salary for the period totalled $48,468.

Doyle told a House judiciary subcommittee Thursday that he had received in 1945, and had filed an amended income tax return last week to cover it.

He said he discovered the oversight, a fee from the American Distilling Co., one of his private clients, after the company's attorney told him the House committee had subpoenaed the canceled check.

Even with this added payment, Committee Counsel Robert Collier said the committee had found Doyle's outside legal income for 1945 was at least $250 more than reported in his tax returns and might be $3,000 more.

Doyle said he kept no files on his private law practice and his only personal financial records consisted of a canceled check which he usually destroyed. He said he had no record of his 1945 income.

Rep. Keating (R-NY) reminded Doyle that the income tax law requires taxpayers to keep a full set of books and that criminal penalties are provided for failure to do so.

Doyle said he knew this and added that his inability to account for the missing checks of 1945 was "the most negligent performance a man can make so far as keeping accurate records is concerned."

He agreed with Keating that the proper procedure would be to forward his financial records to the Justice Department.

The 58-year-old attorney was summoned by the Chief (D-KY) subcommittee, which is investigating the Justice Department, for questioning about his outside activities while U. S. attorney at Springfield since 1935. This was the first open hearing concerning a U. S. attorney's office although several have been probed by the subcommittee.

The committee recessed indefinitely with no announced plans for future hearings. Collier said Doyle might be recalled later for questioning on other matters.

SPARKMAN VISITS OHIO—Democratic vice presidential candidate Sen. John Sparkman started a campaign tour of Ohio with a speech at a Jefferson-Jackson dinner at Columbus, O. At the speaker's table with the senator (left) were Gov. Frank J. Lausche (right), Mrs. Lausche, and (standing) Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, former price administrator, the Democratic candidate for U. S. senator from Ohio.

Taft Says Ike Election Only Method To End War

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft says "the only hope" of ending the Korean War is election of Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower as President and reelection of GOP Senators like William E. Jenner of Indiana.

The Ohio senator urged support of Jenner as a rebuttal to "smear artists" he said were set back on their heels by re-election of Taft two years ago in Ohio and the Wisconsin primary triumph of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy last month.

Taft headed into Northern Indiana Friday for speeches on behalf of Eisenhower and Jenner at LaPorte and Elkhart. He addressed a GOP rally Thursday night in Bloomington, 28 miles north of Jenner's home town of Bedford, in the Southern Indiana hills.

Taft and 12 other Republican senators lanned across Indiana Friday in a "Bill Jenner Day" program of speeches in various cities. All were aimed at helping Jenner defeat Democratic Gov. Henry F. Schickel's strong bid for Jenner's senate seat.

In introducing Taft, Jenner called the Korean struggle "a treadmill war which they won't let our boys win."

He said he and Taft and McCarthy have been victims of "sneers." Taft agreed, and urged voters to put Jenner "over the hump."

At Indianapolis earlier Taft predicted the Republicans will win a Senate majority Nov. 4 but he said he wanted GOP workers to "worry" about the outcome of the presidential contest because it is "not certain."

Taft paid tribute to his political friends in Indiana, including Jenner and Sen. Homer E. Capehart, who won reelection in 1950. The Indiana GOP delegation voted 39-2 to the end for Taft for the presidential nomination at Chicago in July.

 In the very near future the members of the sophomore class will be voting on the following candidates for officers of the class of '53. The sophomores running for president of their class are: Dick Abraham, Gerald DeFatti, Reva Anell - all nominated by petition - and Lou Zaroski the only nominee that was nominated from the floor.

The candidates for vice president of the class are: Sandra Campbell, Guy Nunnell, Dennis Todd, and Fred Wyoff.

Usually the officer of year-long leader has the greatest number of candidates. This year the sophomores are different, they have more students running for secretary-treasurer. Those who are aspiring to be the class scribe are: Helen Asher, Janice Goodman, Garrie Heilbroner, David Landis, Dan Lowe, Susan Peak, and Karen Porter.

The four people in the running for class year-long leader are: Eddie Bigby, Anna Bowles, Warren Cody, and Armond Olson.

Tomorrow night the Art Club members are going on a hay ride. The group will meet at the high school at 5:30 then they will go out to Poe Valley on the hay ride. They will go down the valley till they cross the river for the second time. There they will have a picnic before returning to town.

Anyone that has gone down to Moccasin Field in the past couple of days has undoubtedly seen the quonset hut that is being set up between the field house and the pump house.

This hut is to be used as a general storehouse, and another has been purchased for an athletic equipment storehouse. The athletic equipment storehouse is going to be set up on the end of the field where the score board is located. The huts were brought from the government, and for many years were used for housing at the airport. The huts will fill a great need that has heretofore been stored wherever there was room. For example: the athletic equipment for the track team, hurdles, high jump stanchions and the like, have always been put under the grandstand on Moccasin Field. So it can be readily seen that these quonset huts will fill a need.

Ike Narrowly Misses Injury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's battleground luck saw him through another hazard late yesterday.

A piece of exhaust pipe, kicked up by the car in front of him, missed the general's head by only two feet as the Eisenhower motorcade was en route from Long Beach to Los Angeles.

The general, sitting in the back seat of a convertible, ducked slightly. Observers said if he had been atop the seat, the tubing would have hit him in the head or chest.

Truman Sends Chiang Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman Thursday sent a message of good wishes to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek on the anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic.

The President's message, to Chiang on Formosa, said: "The people of the United States join me in sending to your excellency and to the people of China felicitations and good wishes on this national anniversary."

Parents, Patrons Hold Fun Show

Klamath Union High School Parents and Patrons put the accent on fun for their Wednesday evening session and hilarity was almost continuous.

It was a special "dads" program featuring a five band under the direction of Pete Colley and a men's style show. On the serious but entertaining side there was a talk by Joe Hicks on his recent trip abroad.

The program was arranged by Buz Larkin and Harry Todd in cooperation with Program Director Grace Condey.

Doctor-Made Heart Valve Gives Housewife New Life

By FRANK CAREY
 Associated Press Science Reporter
 WASHINGTON (AP)—A tiny plastic ball is moving back and forth near the heart of a Washington housewife today—marking a possible new chapter in heart disease surgery.

The 30-year-old unidentified woman is equipped with a plastic valve of the aorta, the main trunk-line of blood from the heart.

This is the first surgical attack on record against a heart condition that accounts for about 10 to 15 per cent of deaths from heart disease, the nation's number one killer disease.

The plastic valve is a substitute for the woman's own aortic valve. Normally, the aortic valve keeps blood flowing in one direction from the heart, but in this case it was left defective by an attack of rheumatic fever, earlier in life—and caused blood to back up into the woman's heart, overtaxing it and endangering her life.

Officials of Georgetown University Hospital, where the operation was performed, told a reporter that the woman, who was "in real trouble" prior to the operation three weeks ago, has "shown tremendous improvement."

While they declined to forecast the ultimate outcome, they said the result so far "is extremely encouraging."
