Hollywood Glamour Boy Now Wants Comic Roles

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Guys and Dolls: Charlton Heston has joined Monty Clift, Marlon Brando and Gregory Peck in Hollywood's feminine heart-melting league. Now he is after laughs, not romantic sighs, on the career merry-go-round.
Considering that he wants a fling in comedy, Heston said that he hopes his next film will be "The Private War of Major Benson," the story of an Army major who lands in the Pentagon's doghouse and is sent as R.O.T.C. officer to a school for boys who range in age from 4 to 14.
"His breadth of casting that makes an actor great," is Heston's claim. "An actor can't be controlled by his roles — he has to make the roles serve him."
Raymond Massey still may be typed as Lincoln by movie makers, but Heston isn't worried about his role of President Andrew Jackson in "The President's Lady" landing him in a casting rut — "Great parts can be learned only by playing them and Jackson is a great part."
About his hectic love scenes with Jennifer Jones in "Ruby Gentry," which have a bloody "Duel in the Sun" flavor:
"They should be something. Jennifer broke her hand on my head in one of them."
"His murder when a young actress is stamped as a 'consumptive' in Hollywood," says gorgeous Joyce Holden, U-I's pride and joy in the rib-tickler division.
Joyce, who's about to star in "Night Flower," is out to make her studio forget that she clicked as a clowness in "The Milkman" and "You Never Can Tell." Her new movie may be the way out of the comedy cage "because I wear costumes made out of fringe and get a chance to toss the sex around."
"My big mistake," she said, "was to show that I had a comedy flair. There's no chance in Hollywood for an actress who starts out in comedy. You graduate into it."

that I've had my nose remodeled," Joan sputtered. "I feel as famous as Durante all of a sudden. I wouldn't wish it on my plastic surgeon to take the rap for this nose of mine."

Skip the rumors that Arlene Dahl is yawning over movie glory and casting her gorgeous orbs over other fields of endeavor. Arlene, who admits she wasn't too sure about the flicker game for a while, now is harnessed up to try the steepest grades on the screen-fame highway. She told me on the "Jamaica Seas" set:
"I'm really happy now. I'm not being used as a mere decorative asset to a picture. I add something to the story instead of being just another leading lady. And I think I can prove that I'm not a cold actress. My marriage (to Lex Barker), unsuccessful as it was, did a great deal for me."

Betty Davis stands to make her biggest financial killing in "The Star." In addition to $75,000 cash and another $75,000 due next year, she'll collect 25 per cent of the net profits of the flicker.

Joan Davis is prettifying herself up, discarding a big load of her famous slapstick comedy antics and turning the pointer to the "lovable" mark on the personality indicator in her new television series, "I Married Joan."
With Jim Backus playing a judge of the domestic relations court who's spiced to her for life, Joan says, "We're a couple of normal human beings who get into broad comedy situations."

But her fans won't be seeing a new Davis bezer, as reported. "I'm so upset about the story"

Lewis To Reveal Political Support; Action Due On Growing Miners Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—John L. Lewis was expected to make known his stand on the presidential political race today as sessions of the 41st United Mine Workers Convention were resumed.
A slowly growing strike of coal miners and politics were the chief subjects ticketed for comment by the union's president before convention adjournment next Wednesday.
The strike started Friday when several hundred miners at a Peabody Coal Co. mine near Harrisburg, Ill., walked out. Other Peabody mines in Illinois and Indiana were due to join the walk out today, boosting to about 5,000 the number of idle.
The men refused to work when given paychecks lacking the $1.80 a day pay raise Lewis recently negotiated for the miners. Employers throughout the soft coal industry have taken the position that, although they are ready and willing to pay the higher wages, they may not do so until the government approves the pay raise.
The Wage Stabilization Board in Washington is considering the increase, which brings the basic miner's wage to $18.25 a day, but probably won't decide for several days yet whether the increase is inflationary or not.
The increase was effective Oct. 1 and it seemed clear more and more miners will join the strike when their paychecks appear with-

Family Hit By Polio

MILTON, W. Va. (AP)—Polio has hit hard at the family of a young Presbyterian minister.
The Rev. Meade F. Degges, 36, his wife and their 22-month-old son all became victims of the disease within a few days. The baby, Francis, was rushed here from his home in Greenville a week ago yesterday. Last Friday, Mrs. Elizabeth Degges, 28, came down with the disease.
And on Saturday pastor Degges was taken to Morris Memorial Hospital here with the worst form, bulbospinal polio.
He was put in an iron lung and a doctor listed his condition as critical. Mrs. Degges and the baby were reported in good condition and improving.

First Movie Hero Dies

PACIFIC PALISADES, Calif. (AP)—Jack Conway, 65, who played the lead in what is believed to be Hollywood's first movie—"Her Indian Hero"—died yesterday of a pulmonary ailment.
The silent film actor later became a top director. He brought to the screen such films as "Boom Town," "Viva Villa," "A Tale of Two Cities" and "The Hucksters."

As for politics, Lewis made a series of speeches at convention sessions last week lambasting Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and anyone whom Lewis said may "wear Taft's collar." Delegates considered this to be indirect disparagement of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee for whom Taft is campaigning.
However, Lewis has never indicated support for Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee.

Wool Output Said Stable

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. wool production in 1953 probably will be about the same as this year, the Agriculture Department predicted Monday, with returns to growers little different from 1952.

The 1952 rate of sheep and lamb slaughter indicates stock sheep numbers at the beginning of next year probably will be about the same as this year, it said in a 1953 outlook report.
Combined shorn and pulled wool output in the U. S. this year has been forecast at about 250 million pounds, grease basis, with shorn wool accounting for about 229,800,000 pounds.

World production probably will be up slightly from 1952-53 and stocks are somewhat larger than last year, the agency said.
It added the sharp decline in world wool consumption which began early in 1951, reached a low during the third quarter of last year and has increased slowly since then.

Use of apparel wool by U. S. mills has increased gradually since early this year when it reached the low of a decline which started early last year, the department said.
This trend, it added, reflected a "strengthening of mill demand associated with an upturn in sales and orders and reduced inventories between mill and consumer."

Mill consumption in this country next year may exceed slightly that of this year if defense requirements do not decline and economic activity and consumer purchasing power remain high as expected, the report added.

Deer Rifle Said Stolen

A deer rifle was reported stolen from a parked car downtown early Sunday morning.
George J. Roe, OTI, reported to City Police that he parked his car in front of the Derby Cafe at 8:30 a.m., and when he returned to the auto less than half an hour later the rifle was gone.
It was a 30-06 cal. with Weaver scope, sling, stock and forearm carved and checkered, and was carried in a leather and canvas case.

CASUALTY LIST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 117 Korean War casualties. (List No. 669.)
Of the total, 35 are dead, 67 wounded, 11 missing and four injured in battlezone accidents.
