Yamato, Ross Signed For Rematch on Mat

Matchmaker Mack Lillard announced this morning that he had signed Tony Ross and Tor (not To) Yamato for a rematch Wednesday night at the Armory. Last week the two wrestlers had the fans standing up with a rock-and-sock battle that ended outside the ring and brought policemen and customers into the act. Tough Tony, after losing the third and final fall to the Jap, screamed for the rematch. The return go promise even more dynamic because the Japanese "dreamboat" had promised an even more speedy end. The bout goes two of three falls at one hour time limit. Jack Terry, the sadistic ex-Army judo instructor, returns in the opener against Art Captain in his hour, one-fall affair. Georges Dusette is back again in the semi-windup. He'll face Joe Gold from San Diego. Reserved tickets are on sale at Castleberry Drugs Lillard is preparing for a capacity crowd after Ross and Yamato's brawl of last week that opened the fall-winter season.

Oregon State Rally Too Late, Too Short

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — The Stanford Indians mixed brilliant running plays with a rocklike offense Saturday to overpower Oregon State's Beavers 41-28 in their Pacific Coast Conference football encounter here. The Beavers, who almost upset mighty Michigan State the previous week, were outplayed for three quarters against the Indians but turned Stanford fumbles into three quick touchdowns in the final period when Coach Chuck Taylor sent in his reserves. Stanford scored three touchdowns in the first period and added three more in the third. Oregon State's first rally came in the third when left halfback Wally Jackson scampered 39 yards to paydirt. In the final period, fumbles deep in Indian territory by Stanford's rookie quarterback Jack Bebert set up OSC touchdowns. Each time, OSC moved the ball to the one-yard line and quarterback Jim Withrow passed to Jack Gotta in the end zone for a touchdown. Three Stanford touchdowns were on long runs by Indian regulars. In the first period, right half Bill Rogers raced 96 yards from scrimmage to the OSC goal line. In the third period, fullback Bob Mathias, Olympic decathlon champion, scored from 81 yards out, and safety man Joe St. Geme ran 80 yards after intercepting an OSC pass.

49'ERS WHIP LIONS

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants and the San Francisco 49-ers, boasting the only unblemished records in the National Football League, ranked as the sole leaders of their respective divisions Monday. The Giants moved into undisputed possession of first place in the American Conference by defeating the Cleveland Browns, 17-9, Sunday, while the 49-ers were thwaring their most formidable challengers, the Detroit Lions, 28-0. The victors now own identical 3-0 slates. The Giants' stubborn defense, bulwarked by the stellar line play of Arnie Weinmeister, former Washington ace, and Bill Albright completely stifled the Cleveland ground game. The Browns only could gain 21 yards rushing, although they picked up 236 yards passing. San Francisco's almost impregnable defense held the Lions to a net gain of 65 yards. Elusive Hugh McElhenny, the rookie from Washington, and rugged veteran Joe Perry compiled most of the ground-gaining yardage for the bruising 49-ers.

A Subtle Reminder

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Know why Bob Mathias, who seemed well on the way to a fumbling record, didn't boot the ball once Saturday? Stanford's defensive team — which has done a lot of extra work this fall because Boomer's Bob fumbled the ball into opponents' hands — gave Mathias a football with a handle. No kidding. Two weeks ago Mathias' fumbles set up two Washington State touchdowns. A week ago, Bob fumbled five times. So Friday, on the eve of the Oregon State game, Stanford's defensive captain Al Kirkland, smiling wryly, handed offensive captain Jim Vick a package. Inside, a football with a handle. Vick, quick on the uptake, handed the ball-handle first of course, to Mathias. Bob grinned. "Thanks, I promise I won't fumble" — and didn't. The Brooklyn Dodgers' widest margin in the '52 race was 10½ games. The Brooks were never further than 2½ games off the pace. They trailed the Giants by that margin on May 28.

Spartans Own Longest Victory String After Princeton Loses

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP) — With the unceremonious demise of Princeton, the mighty Spartans from Michigan State today owned the longest winning streak in college football — 18 games — and they show no signs of letting up there. Maryland and Georgia Tech each have gone through 18 games without a defeat, but they've been tied. Michigan State still has six games to play so it's rather early to be predicting another undefeated season for them, but if they did Saturday in hanging a 48-6 pasting on Texas A and M, their future opponents are not going to look to the Spartan games with any enthusiasm. State still has to meet, in order, Syracuse, Penn State, Purdue, Indiana, Notre Dame and Marquette. Until it took a 22-19 beating from Pitt, Notre Dame probably would have been regarded as a threat to Biggie Munn's lads, who next year start operations in the Big Ten. But the Irish looked bad against the Panthers.

That made it a brand new race in the Big Ten, although there still is nothing to prevent Wisconsin from winning it. On paper, the Badgers still can field the most potent squad in the loop. However, as of today, Purdue, which trounced Iowa, 41-14, in its last outing, stands at the head of the class with a 3-0 league record. Princeton's 13-7 defeat at the hands of Penn, strangely, was not a surprise. The Quakers were known to be powerful while Princeton, without the services of the graduated Dick Kazmaier, was an unknown quantity. Penn now should have no trouble sweeping to the league crown, held the last two years by the Tigers. The Kansas-Oklahoma-Nebraska battle for the Big Seven probably ended Saturday when Nebraska's Art Luck kid, Bobby Reynolds, was hurt during the Cornhuskers' 14-14 triumph over Kansas State. This should narrow the race down to Oklahoma and Kansas, who meet head on this week. WARMED UP Both warmed up to their tasks Saturday, the Sooners manhandling Texas, 49-20, and Kansas annihilating Iowa State, 43-0.

In the traditionally mixed up Southwest Conference, things are traditionally mixed up. There can't be an undefeated team in the loop, which leaves things right back where they were in the beginning of the season, with defending champion Texas Christian still the choice by default. The Horned Frogs go against Texas A and M this week. The conference goes into full-scale operations Saturday, so the picture should be cleared somewhat in a week or two. In the Rocky Mountain Conference, the eventual champion probably will be decided this week when Idaho State and Colorado State, the two top powers, tangle at Pocatello, Idaho, in the surprise leader in the Missouri Valley, after clobbering the defending champion University of Tulsa, 33-7. Georgia Tech might get a tussle from Alabama and Tennessee for the Southeastern top title, while Duke heads the Southern Conference, although Virginia remains unbeaten, too. The pair tangle in two weeks.

ROLL ALONG

Maryland and Georgia Tech continue to roll along, and neither should be pressed to any great extent this week against, respectively, Navy and Auburn. The Terps polished off Georgia, 37-0, and Tech topped Tulane, 14-0, Saturday, California, which has piled up

Malin, Henley Keep Title Chances Alive

Malin and Henley kept alive their mathematical chances to capture the Klamath County Class B football title Saturday but unbeaten Merrill remains the heavy favorite to cop the bunting. Malin waxed Sacred Heart, 21-0. Henley trampled Bonanza, 49-0. The Hornets of Henley seem to have the best chance to rob the Huskies of the championship because one of the Hornets' two remaining rivals is Merrill. Malin has just one game left but its defeat came at the hands of the Huskies. Rod Ottoman touched off Malin's touchdown parade Saturday with a 25-yard touchdown run in the first quarter. Score at the half was 25-0 after Glen Steynal had scored twice, Clark Unruh once. Marvin Macken passed to Unruh for Malin's only extra point. Ottoman romped 40 yards for another score in the second half. Marion Cain led Henley in its win, scoring three of the eight touchdowns as the Hornets racked up an 18-0 halftime lead and played its reserves the second half. Adam Hoffman scored one, Bill Seaberry passed to two scores in the rout. Merrill can tie down the championship Oct. 18, when the Huskies meet Henley in a Spud Festival game. Henley has two tough ones left. Besides Merrill, the Hornets have a date with Chiloquin, a team that gave Malin and Merrill all they could handle.
