

Pels Keep Third in AP Poll

Pirates, Central One, Two

By The Associated Press

The Marshfield Pirates, who have been scoring at the rate of nearly a point a minute, again are ranked as Oregon's top high school football team in this week's Associated Press poll.

The undefeated Pirates, after turning their point total for six games to 238 with a 39-0 victory over Reedsport last week end, were the unanimous choice of sportswriters and sportscasters who vote in the poll.

The top four teams are the same as last week. Central Catholic of Portland, also unbeaten in six games, is No. 2. Right behind are once-beaten Klamath Falls and Grant of Portland, which dropped its first game of the season to Klamath Falls, has been undefeated since and hasn't allowed an opponent to score in its last four games.

Jefferson of Portland, No. 10 last week, vaulted into the No. 5 spot as a result of its 42-0 thumping of Franklin, last week's No. 6 team. This pushed unbeaten Hillsboro from No. 5 into No. 6 position, despite a convincing 35-12 win over Oregon City in its most important game of the season.

Prineville, also undefeated, battered Lakeview, 45-0, to hold to No. 7 spot. Eugene jumped a notch to No. 8 after its 27-19 win over Albany.

NEWCOMER

The Dalles, a newcomer to the top 10, took over No. 9 on the strength of its 12-0 upset of previously unbeaten Baker, which dropped from No. 8 last week out of the rankings.

North Bend and Bend tied for the No. 10 position. North Bend, another newcomer, drew support because of its 55-12 rout of Tillamook. Bend edged Lebanon, 26-23, to clinch a tie for the District 8 title.

Results of the poll, with the season record for each team:

- | Rank | Team | Record |
|------|------------------------|--------|
| 1. | Marshfield (6-0) | 140 |
| 2. | Central Catholic (6-0) | 115 |
| 3. | Klamath Falls (5-1) | 99 |
| 4. | Grant (5-1) | 87 |
| 5. | Jefferson (5-0-1) | 78 |
| 6. | Hillsboro (6-0) | 71 |
| 7. | Prineville (5-0) | 57 |
| 8. | Eugene (5-1) | 41 |
| 9. | The Dalles (5-1) | 27 |
| 10. | North Bend (5-1) | 11 |
| 10. | Bend (5-0-1) | 11 |
- Others: Baker 8, McMinnville and Grants Pass 5, University High of Eugene 3, Milwaukie, Vale and Albany 2, Franklin of Portland and Willows 1 each.

C-R Wins Grid Title

Team	W	L	T	Pct.
Conger-Riverside	2	0	1	1.000
Fairview	2	1	0	.667
Fremont-Roosevelt	1	2	0	.333
Mills	0	2	1	.000

Conger-Riverside is the grade school football champion, although the cellar Mills team battled to a scoreless tie with the champs Saturday when the grade schools closed down league play.

All that's left on the schedule now is a non-league scrap between the Junior High Middlets and Fairview-Pelican Wednesday, 4:30 p.m. on Modoc Field and the season-capping Jamboree Friday, 7:30 p.m.

In another closing game Saturday—both were played in intermittent showers — Fairview-Pelican beat Fremont-Roosevelt, 7-0, when Fairview-Pelican staged a march on the opening kickoff and Jim Keene scored from 25 yards out on a reverse. Jim Hall passed to Bob Anderson for the extra point.

Mills and Conger-Riverside each threatened once. The champions, with Jan Cox reeling off a 40-yard run, advanced to Mills six-yard line in the first quarter but three successive penalties stopped the drive.

In the fourth quarter, a fumble tipped Mills' march that reached Conger-Riverside's 12-yard line.

Battle Royal Stars Giant Primo Carnera

A giant Italian who clubbed his way to the world's heavyweight boxing throne with two ham-like fists appears in a wrestling role Wednesday night at the Armory in a mat show that promises to bulge the mausoleum of maul.

Primo Carnera, who spreads between 285 and 300 pounds on a 6-8 frame, plays the leading role in a battle royal that will see "Da Preen" and six other wrestlers jangle all at the same time.

Unless the Ambling Alp, who packed away his boxing gloves to take a fling in the wrestling wars, is eliminated first, he'll be back for a return appearance tomorrow night.

Ross qualifies primarily because he's just plain tough. Davidson got likely either will have time for lullaby tactics in the hectic battle royal.

Promoter Mack Lillard, realizing it would take someone with enough strength and moxie to handle the situation, signed popular Georges Dusette, Canadian strongman, to officiate.

ELIMINATED

Under the rules of a battle royal, the first of the seven matmen to be eliminated sits out the rest of the evening.

The second and third to be pinned come back in the opener of a three-bout card.

The next two will be paired in the semi-windup, while the winners—the last two to survive—fill the main event spot.

The big man will have some help, however, if the rest of the cast decides to "get Carnera". Hardy Krusekamp, no nidget at 220 pounds, was signed as one of the battle royal principals when Carnera asked for him. The huge Italian and Krusekamp are close friends and the ex-ring champ would sign for the match only if Krusekamp went along with the deal.

WELL-KNOWN

The five others, all well-known junior heavyweights here — are Jack Terry, Tony Ross, Tor Yamato, Jack Kiser and Buck Davidson.

Although all but Krusekamp will probably join forces in an attempt to gang Carnera, there is no love lost between several of the performers.

For instance, Terry last week in the role of referee, helped Ross beat Yamato.

Both Yamato and Terry, an ex-Army judo instructor, are experts with the sleeper hold. But it's un-

All-America Candidates

DENVER (AP)—The nation's leading punter, a top-flight passer and three linemen who played key roles in their teams' victories Saturday were nominated Tuesday as candidates for the Associated Press All-America football team.

The nominees are Zack Jordan, Colorado University's triple-threat back; Don Hydach, Utah University's passing quarterback; and Don Brantley, Colorado's standout defensive end. Don Papini, guard mainstay in the New Mexico line, and Bob Biasi, tireless offensive and defensive lineman for Colorado A&M.

The nominations were made by the Rocky Mountain Regional All-American board. The nominations will be considered in the final selection of the AP All-America.

Don Burroughs, Colorado A&M quarterback nominated a week ago, received another vote of endorsement from the board.

Beavers Get Deserved Rest

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Coach Rip Taylor gave the Oregon State Beavers a day off Monday to rest up from last week's game with tough Southern California but ordered a scrimmage Tuesday to prepare for next Saturday's encounter with Washington State.

Eleven Beavers were nursing injuries suffered in the contest with the Trojans.

Included were end Jack Gotta; tackle Ernie Madsen and John White; guards Fred Burri, LaVerne Ferguson, Jim Luster and Clarence Womack; center Joe Pulwyler; quarterback Jim Withrow and right halfbacks Jack Pinion and Marv Ussery.

HER HIGHNESS—Margie Davis, queen for a week over Oregon Tech's Homecoming festivities, caps a busy week Saturday night when she rules over the Owls' tussle with the Southern Oregon Red Raiders on Modoc Field.

Oretech Seeks First Victory Over Raiders

By RED HURD

Oregon Tech's clash with Southern Oregon College Saturday night on Modoc Field means a lot to the Owls—aside from the fact that it's a Homecoming game.

The Owls, currently riding on a 4-1 record, would like to win this one—simply because they haven't ever done it.

Three times they've tried, three times they've failed.

The Owls didn't get a chance to avenge three previous defeats last year when the Red Raiders ducked out on a scheduled Turkey Day date.

MAYHEM

But there's no getting off the hook this season, and the Owls have mayhem in mind.

Briefly, here's the sketch on the OTC-SC series:

In 1948, the first year the Owls fielded a football team under Dale Daugherty, the Raiders won by a 26-0 score.

In 1949, the Owls managed to score 14 points but Southern Oregon totaled 35.

In 1950, Rex Hunsaker and Art Kirkland took over the reins at Oregon Tech and were figured an even-money chance to steer the Owls to their first win over the Ashland team.

But Gary Dawes, ex-Klamath Union High School ace, sparked the Raiders in a last-quarter binge that gave the Raiders a 19-12 win.

Last year, when virtually every foe Southern Oregon met had a field day, the Owls were drooling. The game never came off.

The Raiders are bound to be high ever done it.

Three times they've tried, three times they've failed.

The Owls didn't get a chance to avenge three previous defeats last year when the Red Raiders ducked out on a scheduled Turkey Day date.

For this one in an attempt to run their win streak over the Owls to four, but the odds will favor Oregon Tech.

TWO WINS

Southern Oregon has been blanked by Linfield (0-27), Humboldt (0-50) and Chico State (0-33) this season, but have licked two of Oregon Tech's OOC foes, Eastern Oregon by a 33-19 count and Oregon College by a 26-13 score.

Saturday night's game will have all the hoopla that goes with Homecoming metus, including pretty Margie Davis, queen of the whole shebang.

Three Webfoots On Sidelines

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Three Oregon football players injured against Washington at Seattle last week missed scrimmage Monday but Coach Len Casanova said they probably will be ready for Saturday's game here with the Montana Grizzlies.

Ends Monte Brethauer and Emery Barnes and halfback Ted Anderson were on the sidelines as the Ducks started drilling for the Montana contest.
