"I have been fighting not against men, but against ideas which destroy men." The truth of this analysis by Paul Harvey is apparent to the thousands of listeners who hear him at 1:15 p.m. every weekday over KFLW. In the eight years that Mr. Harvey has been associated with ABC, he has won numerous awards for distinguished service in radio journalism. Most recently he was honored by the American Legion for his "militant Americanism." The Freedom Foundation has cited him for "outstanding defense and extension of the American way of life." The Disabled American Veterans have honored him by saying, "Paul Harvey is to the veteran returned what Ernie Pyle was to the soldier in the field."

VERNONIA, Ore. (AP)—Paul A. Gordon, about 45, civic leader and elementary school superintendent here, was fatally shot while deer hunting Monday. State police said Gordon, about 45, was hunting with a party of six at the time of the mishap. The shooting occurred about 3:30 p.m. in a wooded area 10 miles north of here. Gordon, who is survived by his widow, Mona, is the 10th hunting fatality in Oregon this fall. In the deer season six men have been fatally wounded, two have died of heart attacks while hunting, and one fell down a cliff to his death. A 14-year-old boy was fatally shot while hunting squirrels.

Tony Curtis Seeks End Of Movie-Plugging Tour

By ERSKINE JOHNSON HOLLYWOOD (NEA)— Exclusively Yours: It's a trick even Houdini couldn't do, but Tony Curtis, who's playing the famed magician in "Houdini," would like to make the big movie-plugging tours of stars throughout the country disappear forever. Tony is "agin" the personal-appearance policy when it's just a device for dragging moviegoers into theaters, and makes this fuller explanation: "It's all getting too commercial. The public is beginning to resent it. I say it's time to send stars out all over the country, but send them out for a purpose—to help raise money for cancer research, to urge people to vote, to talk to the kids who are in trouble, or something. I want to do more than just plug my pictures and I think most actors feel the same way."

Rita Hayworth's losing Aly Khan, but not Glenn Ford as her leading man. There will be more pictures co-starring Rita and Glenn. The actor, who's been accused of quarreling with Rita, slipped me the word on the set of "The Man From Alamo" at U-I, and added: "The stores that Rita and I didn't get along when we were making 'Affair in Trinidad' are a lot of hooded. So are the stories that we feuded afterwards. We're good friends."

Hollywood Actors Differ Over Entry In Politics

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Just two more weeks and we'll have something to talk about besides politics. But until the nation goes to the polls, everyone will still be hashing over candidates and issues far into the night. Hollywood is no different from any other community. People aren't talking about TV, box office and John Russell. All you hear is: "Did you see Adlai last night?" or "What did you think of Ike's speech?" Since actors can talk about little else these days, I followed the trend when I visited the "Forever Female" set. I found myself standing between Paul Douglas, who is campaigning for Stevenson, and William Holden, who has taken no public stand. So I pitted the pair against each other. Although they remained friendly, both Douglas and Holden expressed strong views about actors' getting into politics. Holden said he hadn't loaned his name to either campaign and didn't intend to. "I don't think a film actor has any business antagonizing any segment of the motion picture public," he remarked. "In the past, actors have become associated with unsavory causes, and that has been bad for themselves and the industry," he said. "I don't mean that either the Democratic or Republican campaigns is unsavory. "But the fact remains that people on both sides feel very strongly. An actor makes a mistake to risk censure from either side." Douglas countered that he saw no reason for actors to abstain from politics. "I say there are limits to the campaigning which an actor should do," he commented. "I have narrated a film short for the Democrats and have been making some appearances at rallies. I think I am entitled to do so as a citizen. "Yes, I suppose I might alienate some Republican members of the movie audience. But I'm not worried about alienating Republican motion picture producers. "Said Holden: "I am a member of that dying breed of people who think they are entitled to a private life. Oh, I don't mean myself as an actor; I expect to have my professional life scrutinized by the public. But as a citizen, I expect some privacy. And that includes my political opinions. "I think there is a dangerous movement to destroy one's private conscience. For one thing, I think it is shocking that a candidate for office must reveal his income tax. This sort of thing could continue until we have what George Orwell described in '1984': complete thought control."

Simms Marriage Said All Over

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Singer Ginny Simms and oilman Bob Calhoun have separated again and she says the marriage is "all over." "I can't keep on going through all these emotional upssets," she said. "I need some peace and also have my children to think of." They are David, 6, and Conrad, 2, by her previous marriage to Hyatt R. Dehn. Miss Simms said she was going to arrange for a "quick and quiet" divorce. Calhoun confirmed the separation, saying, "It's just a case of two people who love each other but can't get along." They were married in June in Las Vegas, Nev., separated in September, and were reconciled early this month.
