

WHERE REDS FAIL—Map locates Triangle Hill-Sniper Ridge area of Korean front where Chinese Reds failed to knock the Allies off the two hills they recently captured. The Communists gained Pike's Peak, a knob of Triangle Hill, but U.N. troops controlled the remainder of the rocky mass. Presently the Reds were holed up in bunkers and caves while the Allies bombed the Papa-San staging area. On Sniper Ridge the Communists reached the top but were driven back by a South Korean counter-attack.

Steel Mills Set Record Production; Fear Oversupplies Late Next Year

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Steel mills—setting new records in production—are besieged Wednesday from all sides as users and producers and the government try to guess what the demand will be in the months ahead.

Some appliance makers cry that if they don't get more steel now they can't fill a new rush of orders for the Christmas trade.

And some auto makers say they may have to shut down by February unless their steel quotas are raised.

Due to last summer's steel strikes, mills are behind on deliveries.

But spokesmen of the steel industry fear that by mid-1953 their fast expanding capacity will have gone beyond the point of demand from the users—both military and civilian.

And others close to the industry report that government requests for further expansion of facilities to make certain kinds of steel especially wanted by the military is raising the question: Will the industry lose money on such facilities in peacetime?

News Column Unites Pair

PORTLAND (AP)—Thirty years ago Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Walter of Portland adopted a girl at birth. The next year Mr. and Mrs. Mark Forrest, who now live at Brookings, Ore., adopted the little girl's brother when he was born.

Wednesday morning the brother and sister met at the Union Station for the first time.

It was just a short time ago that the girl, now Mrs. Wilburta Semm of Batesburg, S. C., learned she had a brother. Her foster parents told her after they had learned of it through the brother's inquiries.

The brother, Gordon Forrest of Castle Rock, Wash., knew he was adopted and had a sister, but his foster parents could tell him little more than that.

About two years ago he learned the name of the couple who had adopted his sister. Then, through a letter to the "Mr. Fixit" column of the Oregon Journal, he got in touch with them.
