

To Florida...for the Winter..

MRS. J. H. CARNAHAN (Edna) . . . well known member of a pioneer Klamath family; her father was John V. Houston, who came to Linkville in 1890, and later owned the Houston Opera House, first show house in the community. Now, after living here all of her life, Mrs. Carnahan will divide her time between Klamath Falls in the spring and summer, and sunnier climes in the winter. She will spend the major part of this winter with her sister, Elizabeth Haines in Orlando, Florida.
—Photo by Kettler.

MR. AND MRS. FRANKLIN L. WEAVER . . . who left recently to spend the winter months in Florida. Stops on the way were planned to see friends and relatives. They plan to return to Klamath Falls late in the spring.
Kettler

Visitors

MRS. TOM MEAGHER . . . here recently with her husband from Seattle, was the inspiration for several parties given for her while a houseguest at the George Clark home on Lavey Street. Frequent visitors, the Meaghers have made many friends in Klamath Falls.

Photo by Kettler

S o c i e t y

by MILLY
RAMSBY

MRS. FRANK D. ROBINSON . . . stopped briefly in Klamath Falls last weekend on her way home to Moscow, Ida., from Columbus, Ga., where she had been with her son-in-law and daughter, Raoul and Florence Ashby. Raoul is stationed at Ft. Benning. Her short weekend was spent at the Howard Barnhisel residence on Conquer Avenue. Mrs. Barnhisel is her sister, and the two are still identified as Pearl and "Bab" Leavitt, by the many old friends of the pioneer family.
Photo by Floyd.